We started

We've changed

*Our circle continues without beginning or end as we move
in different directions*

Time is endless

Boredom, monotony are lost in excitement

*Memories shape the past,
hold the future.
We miss what we have known, it returns.*

Old and new join together —

STUDENT LIFE

*As Life goes on,
It continues to be;
A never ending Dream,
with special fantasies.*

Mariner Spirit Returns.

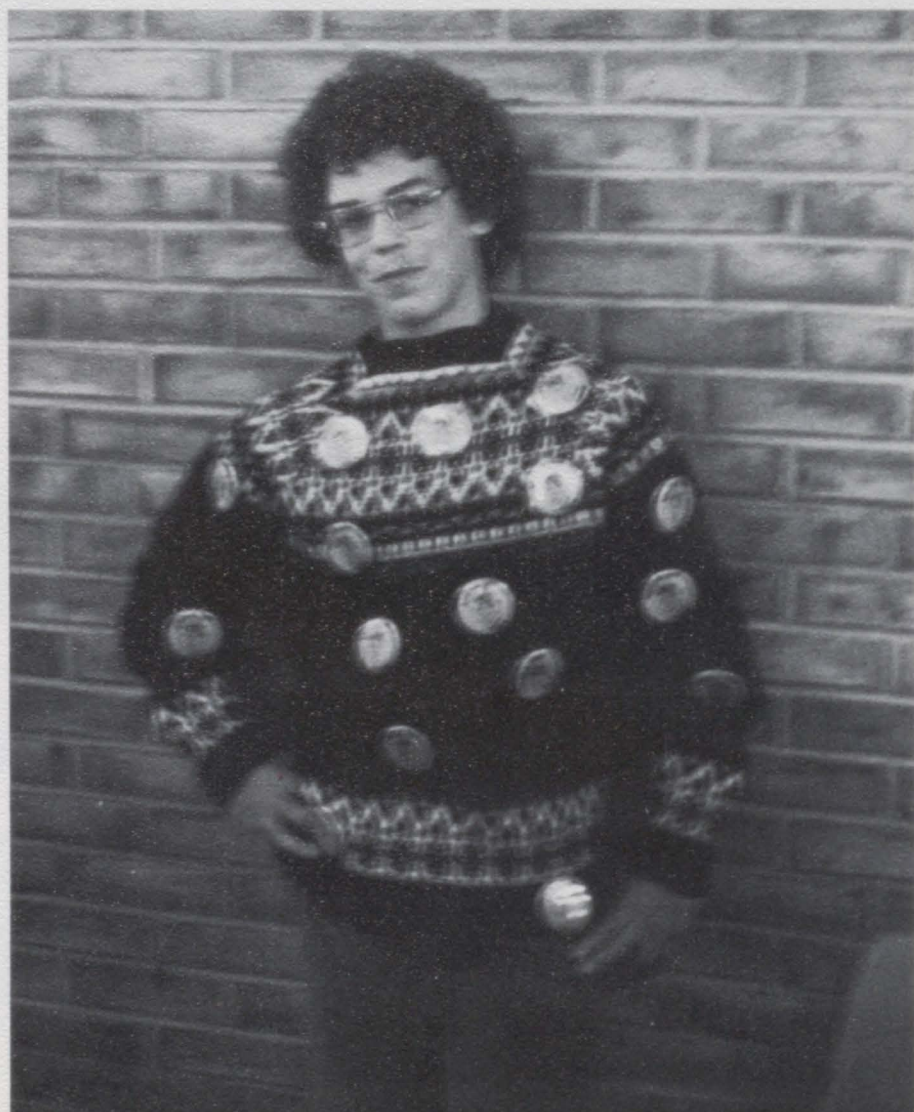

Once again it's spirit week at M.C.H.S. It all started off with Pin day. Each class brought as many pins as they could so that they would be top class for the day. Freshmen won with the most pins purchased.

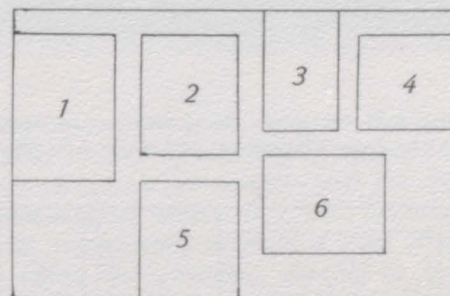

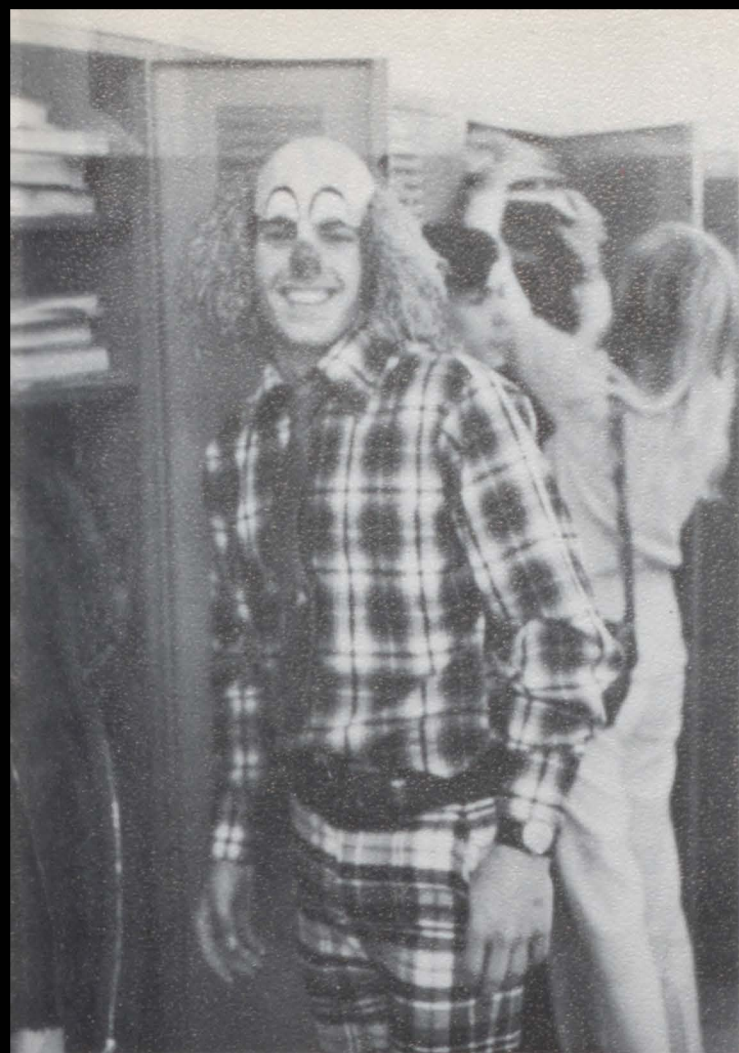

The most fun of all was B-Bop day. Where the 50's were relived by many students. With the old styles worn and old songs played, students got the feeling of what those days were really like.

Next came Penny day. Who's going to win all those pennies? Juniors did it this time with thousands of pennies.

Clash day followed with a smash of bright colors and wild patterns. The thing was to wear anything and everything that didn't match. Students thought as they dressed in these clothes "If mama could only see me now!" The week was almost over but not quite. It ended with orange and black day. Many students wore their school colors to show spirit.

1974 spirit week ended but there are many more to come in years that follow. The memories of spirit week will not be forgotten but will always linger on.

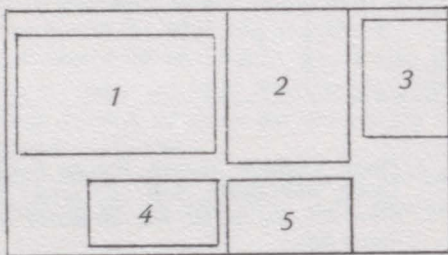

1. Penny Ledford, Joanne Volker, Penny Snider, and Denise Suess are proud to show off the senior hall decorated on Poster day.
2. Freshmen tell it like it is by using their talents on this window during spirit week.
3. Is that Jim Speer showing the latest fashion of dress for "1974"? No he's just showing spirit on clash day.
4. With long skirts, red lipstick and white bobby socks Lu Ann Ellis demonstrates the modern dance "The Boogie" to a popular old tune on B-Bop day.
5. "Think you can do better"? Comments freshmen Rex Jones while showing off his pins on Pin day.
6. Walking down the hall, Jeff Britz and Darlene Beattie stop to talk about spirit week.

We May Never Pass This Way Again

Representing M.C.H.S. on the Homecoming court were: Sitting; senior Denise Brown, Queen Janis Wiinikainen, and senior Lisa Harmon. Standing; junior

1. Queen Janis and her court, pause for photographers after the crowning ceremony.
2. Pondering on the activities of the past few days, Janis reflects the happiness of a dream come true.
3. After a hectic week, Queen Janis is glad to have a strong arm like escort Steve Johnson's to lean on.
4. Unbelieving, excited, and tearfully happy, Janis descends the bleachers as she is announced Homecoming Queen '73.
5. Chosen from the senior class as candidates for Queen were: Top, Karen Krause, Marilee Hamlin, Cathy Davidson, and Nancy Parcell; Middle, Queen Janis, Teri Rhodes, and Peggy Biscorner; Bottom, Tracie Curtis, Pam Springborn, and Kim Griffin.

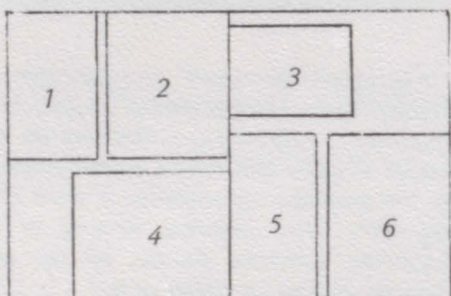

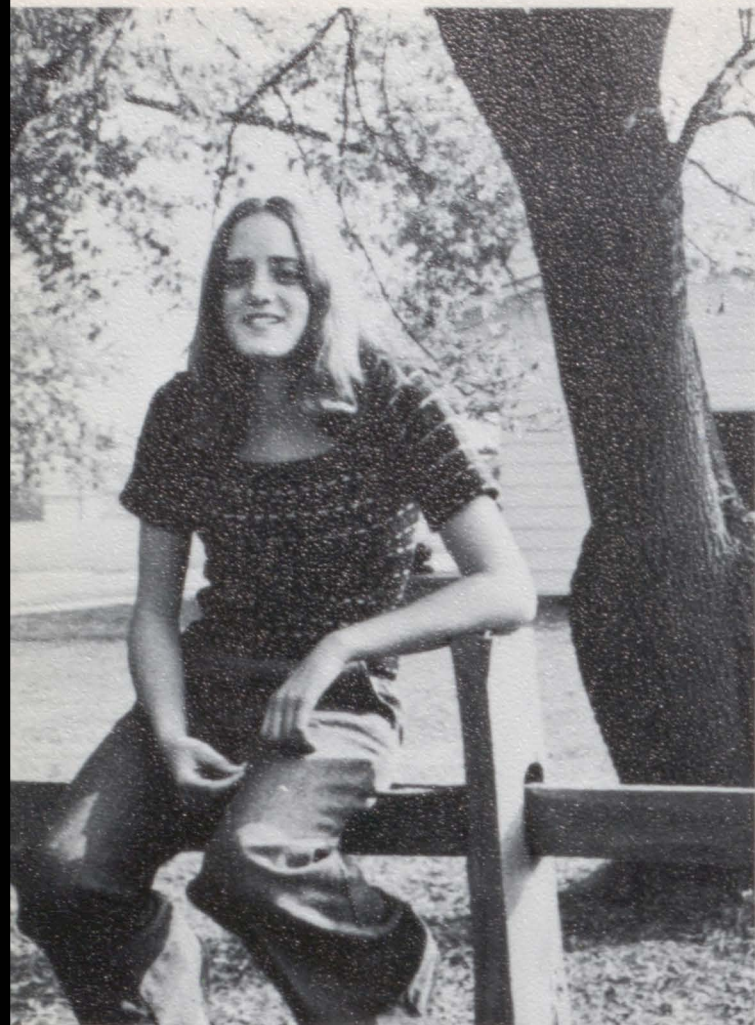

Explosions of spirit erupted the week of October 14th as Homecoming '73 ignited M.C.H.S. Tradition ... only new and alive with the sights and sounds of a new generation, a great success created by the participating students. A week of spirit ... egg fights, float building, dancing in the cafe, b-bopping, clashing, pennies by the thousands, cheering, hoping, and tears of joy.

At the dance, couples listened and danced to the sounds of Xanadu. Candles on the tables, special lighting and decorations on the stage created an atmosphere of excitement.

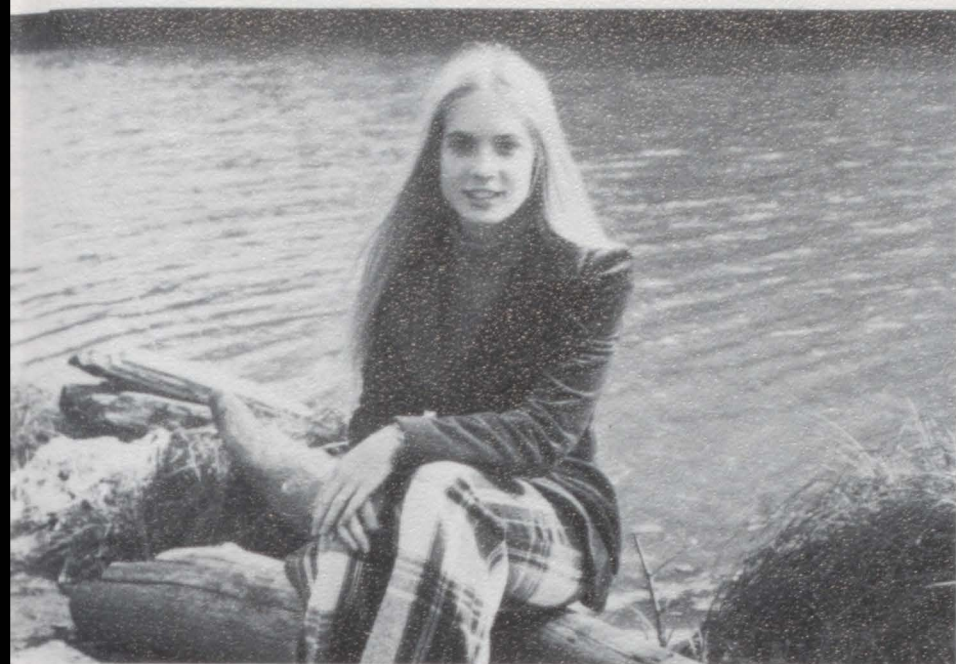

The great turnout at the dance and the overall spirit all week made Homecoming '73 something that everyone will always remember.

1. The outdoors is one of Sophomore princess Doreen Acre's favorite places. She also likes swimming and horseback riding.
2. Junior princess Sybil Compagnoni, although undecided as to what college she wants to attend, would like to be an x-ray technician.
3. Geography is Senior princess Lisa Harman's favorite subject which she hopes to study at a college in Arizona.
4. Playing basketball, volleyball and badmitten is the way Freshman princess Pam Bradford likes to pass her time.
5. Geri Coussens, Junior princess, enjoys singing and playing the auto-harp.
6. A career in modeling or physical education is what Senior princess Denise Brown would like to pursue.

When the pep assembly began, people as far away as St. Clair were deafened by the screaming and yelling of the cheering crowd. As Penny Snider approached the microphone, the crowd finally began to quiet down.

Again the noise from the cheering was deafening as Queen Janis and her court were announced.

"I didn't know so many kids knew me." "I went nuts." "I expected one of my girl friends to get it." "I was just shocked." "I was really happy and glad to represent my class."

These reactions expressed the mixed emotions of the girls as they discovered they were members of the 1973 Homecoming court.

Memories of Homecoming's Happy Moments Continue

Who Ya Rootin' For? M. C. H. S.!

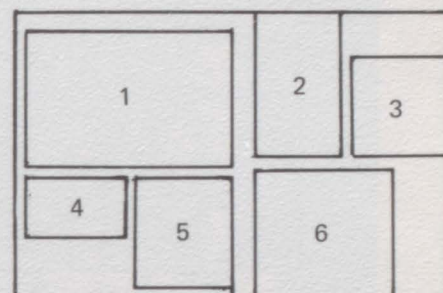

Cheerleading is a great achievement. The girls bring spirit to the crowd and lift the moral of the team. There is much work involved with rehearsing pom-pom routines, skits, new cheers and practicing mounts. But they enjoy every minute of it.

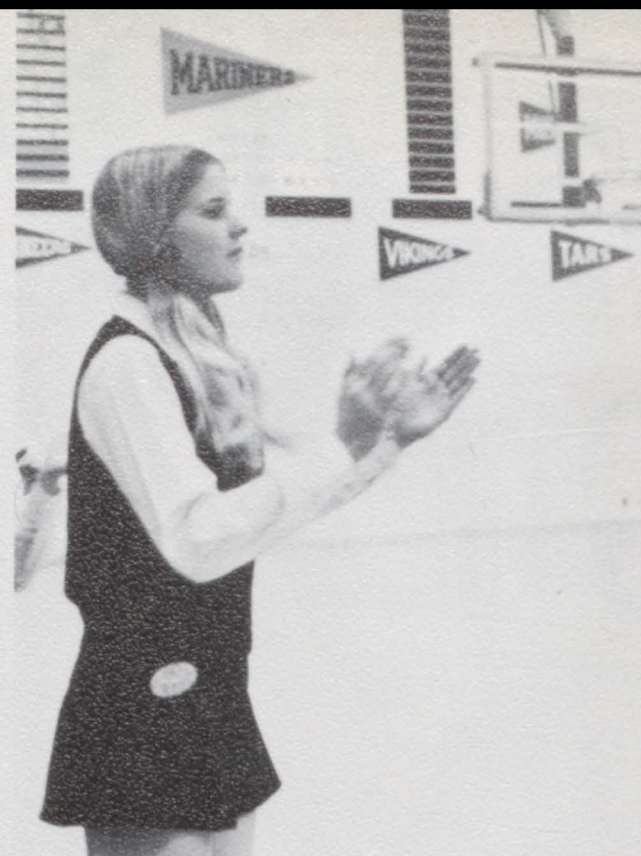

Besides their duties as a cheerleader, the girls sponsored other activities: selling school sweaters, pins and pennants. All of these proved to be great money makers and will provide new uniforms and summer camp tuition.

Mrs. Penelope Burmann, cheerleader advisor, guides the girls successfully to a worthwhile goal.

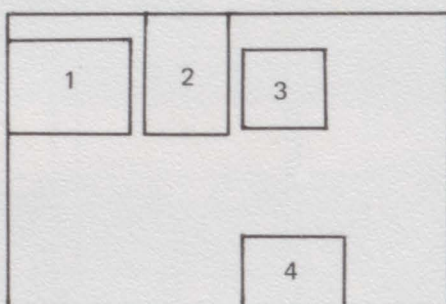

1. The varsity spirit comes alive with: Julie Smith, Darlene Beattie, Dawn Mcclouth, Teri Rhodes, Kim Griffin, and Karen Krause.
2. Julie Smith springs into action while the Mariners march onto victory.
3. "Come on girls, get those pom-poms moving!" yells Mrs. Burmann from the crowd.
4. Teri Rhodes takes time out from her clowning around to give a V-I-C-T-O-R-Y.
5. "HEY fellow cheerleaders," says Michele Beauchamp to Kathy Verwest and Lorrie Hansen. "Let's look sexy, here comes the coach!"
6. Spirit flies high with J.V. cheerleaders: Michele Beauchamp, Jill Lozon, Debbie Wolf, Kathy Verwest, Kathy Nugent, and Lorrie Hansen.

Who's Gonna Win? We Are!

1. It's time for a quick floor cheer, and these six peppy girls draw a new burst of spirit from the crowd.
2. Linda Hoch watches the confusion at the far end of the court, hoping that her favorite player can sink another basket before the buzzer.
3. Tim Miller isn't sure if Fred Smith is going to be able to stay on the wagon after he finishes up this last drink.
4. Gathering around to give a sample of their music before they step out into the cold are some of the more talented carolers in the outing club.

Flashing a smile are the Kodachrome Girls: Dawn Niester, Rindy Braun, Bridget Snell, Linda Hoch, Mary Kay Schwanitz, and Debbie Hopton.

Get Out and Away From It All

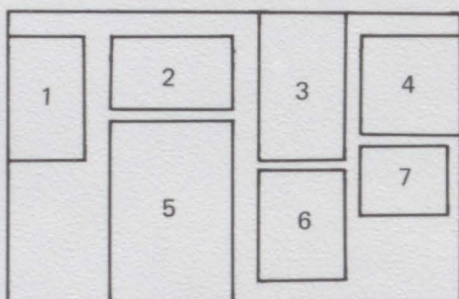

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y! That's our Freshman battle cry! This year's Freshmen couldn't have had a better bunch of cheerleaders to lead them on to victory. M.C.H.S. saw the most spirited ninth grade in a long time, and these girls played a big part in getting their class to show its stuff. Their basketball team saw more than its share of wins, and the Spirit Jug spent more time in the hands of the Freshmen than any other class.

A lot of kids who were tired of dragging around school all day, then coming home to another dull night of T.V. and homework found some new opportunities for fun this year. Kids around here have always been complaining of nothing to do, so Miss Yager, the Outing Club's sponsor, decided to do something about it. Soon there were hikes, sailing, and a hayride. Carolers went out on a cold night to spread a little Christmas cheer around town, and lots of kids took advantage of the roller skating trip. Suddenly, there were less complaints about the lack of things to do, because just as school started to seem like it would never end, the Outing Club sponsored an activity to get everybody going again — at least until the next vacation.

"The Clock Struck Twelve"

1. "I'm John D. Asterfeller! I'm the richest man in the world, and what I say goes!" Fred Smith tells Bill Dumars in between scenes.
2. "Look out! He has a gun!" shouts Mary Mitchel to Dave Micoff during the closing scene.
3. "John! John are you all right?" Lynn Wenning asks Fred Smith.
4. "Yep, ain't no doubt about it ma'am — she's done fer." Exclaims Bill Dumars to Mary Mitchel.
5. "A Gun!" screams Barb Brenner.
6. "Sshh! You're making me lose count, Honey. Two-sixty, two-seventy, two-eighty," remarks Barb Brenner to Mary Mitchel as Freeland Goddard walks in.
7. "Quiet, please. I don't want to advertise my presence." says Dave Micoff to Kim Itrich during a secret encounter.

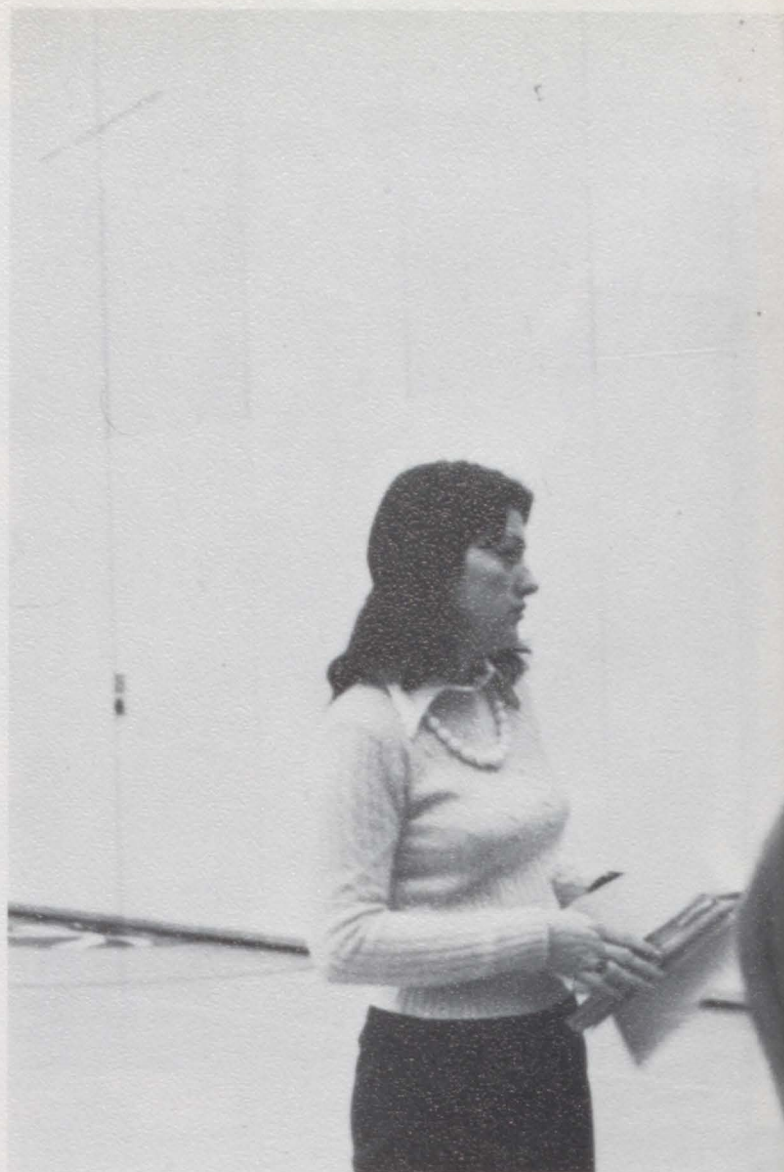

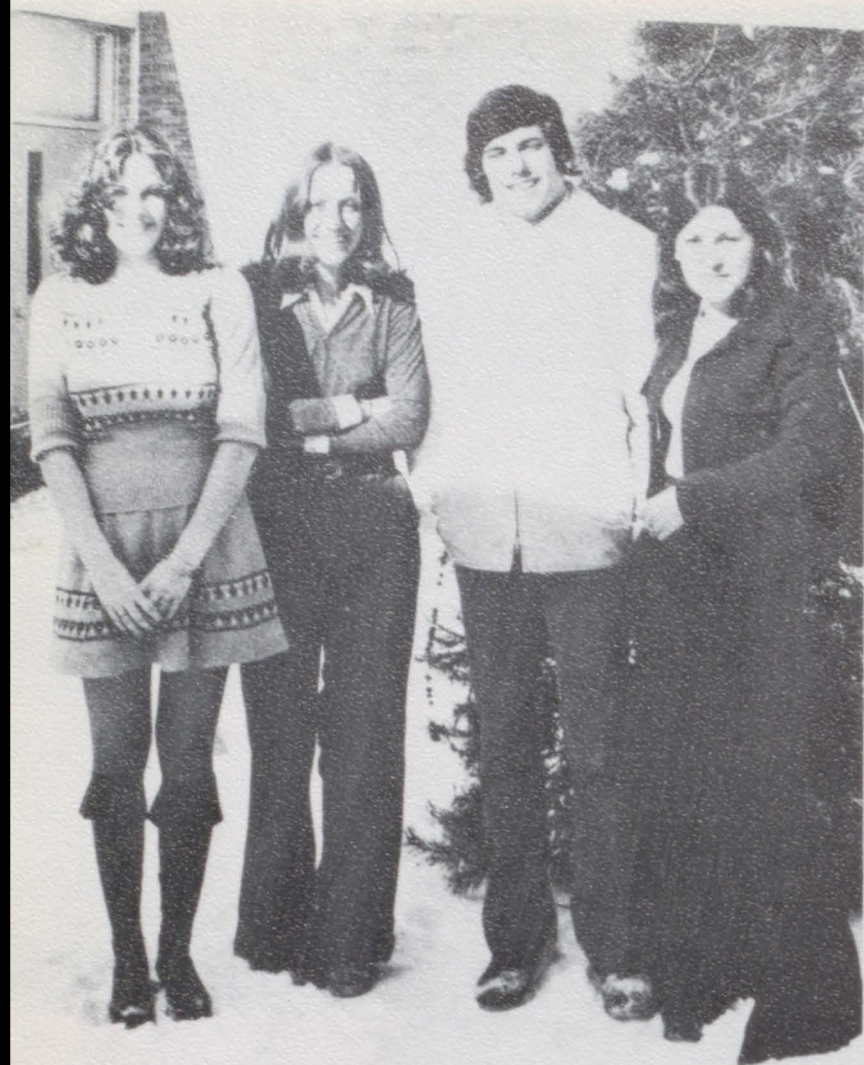

"The Clock Struck Twelve" is not the name of a famous nursery rhyme but the name of the all school play.

He's dead! Who killed him? Why did Lucile Thomas go mad? These are a few of the questions that were brought up in this Mystery, murder, comedy.

Under the direction of Mr. Joseph Pavlov and Kathy Gramer, students in this school have been given the opportunity to display their talents before a live audience.

Through the use of professional techniques, each cast member made the audience believe that they were not actors but the people they portrayed.

By the effect expressed by each player, the audience was in a state of laughter one minute and fright the next. This play has proven not only to be a comedy but a total shocker.

Student Government is an active organization that is involved in many school functions. They worked very hard by using their talents to produce a Christmas play. Unfortunately, due to a bad snow storm on the day of the production, school was closed and the play was cancelled.

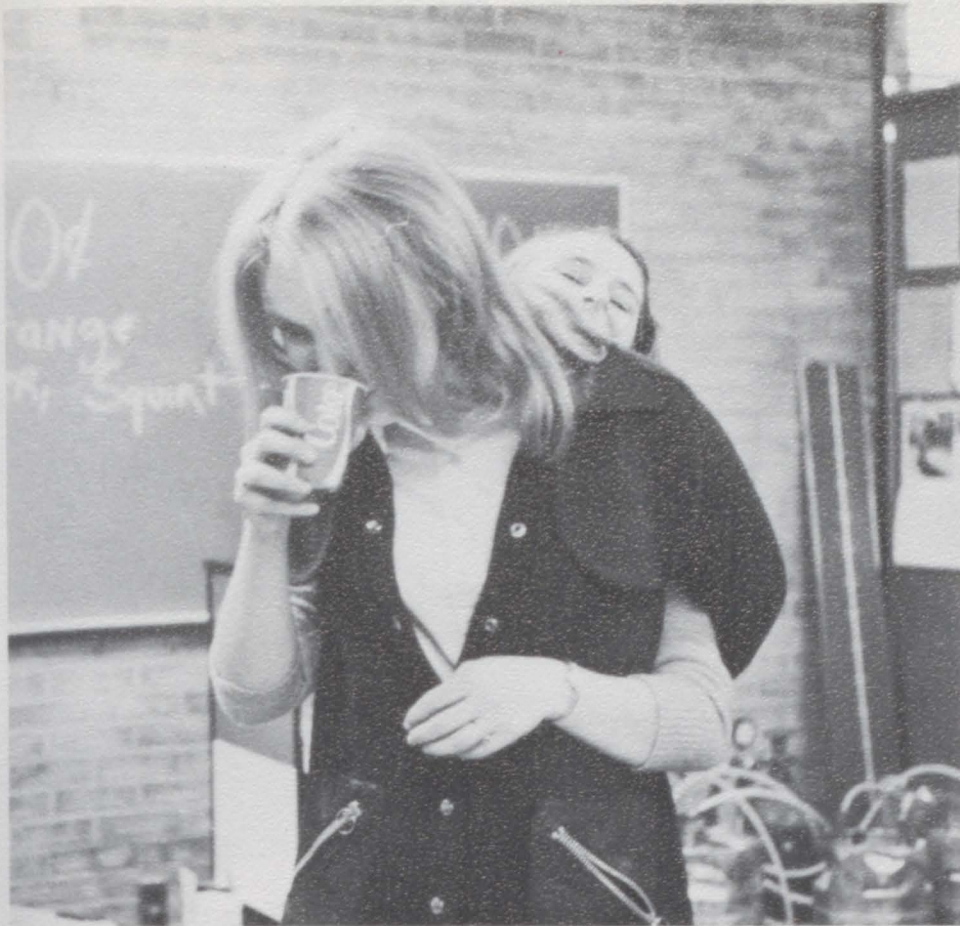

To provide the school with more of a Christmas atmosphere, members decided to purchase a tree, decorate it, and put it in the court yard where it could be seen by all.

Members have been known to work at the concession stands on those cold nights during football season providing hot chocolate, coffee, hot dogs and pop corn to many freezing spectators.

Above, admiring their Christmas tree are: President, Penny Snider; Vice President, Jim Speer; Secretary, Mary Kelly; and Treasurer, Marilee Hamlin. Above Right, bringing fellow government members up to date on the news is President, Penny Snider. Opposite page top, Janis Wiinikainen and Georgiann Kaminski take time out for a drink on the job while selling refreshments at a basketball game.

Right, Student Government members anxiously wait to hear from their advisors, Mr. Joseph Pavlov and Miss Karen Yager.

Hard Work Proves to be Successful

And the Beat Goes On

Both the Band and the Chorus added some new attractions to their list of performances this year. In the fall, walkers in the March of Dimes Walkathon in Port Huron enjoyed stepping over the finish line even more when they knew the M.C.H.S. Band would be waiting for them on the other side. A first for the band, and the town, was a Christmas parade. During one of the heavier snowfalls of the year, the "Marching Mariners" looked more like "Marching Snowmen". Pep bands that played at every home basketball game were another new addition to the traditional concerts, halftime shows, and stage band. A newcomer to the M.C.H.S. music department is Mrs. Marge Robson. Under her direction we have the Chorus, and a new group — the Triple Trio. This small group has performed at various community activities, and also in concerts. Mrs. Robson and Miss Bastian organized the Band and Chorus once more for two programs, and this year a Christmas assembly for the whole school to enjoy.

Twirling their way through an exciting football season were our majorettes: Kathy Verwest, Debbie Holcomb, Kim Goodell, Cindy Rudolph, and Cindy Graham.

Marine High's special performance group were the Triple Trio: Amy Rhodes, Karen Krause, Nancy Bott, Barb Brenner, and Debbie Allison, Cindy Fahs, Debbie Kammer, Kim Goodell, Diana Naeyart.

N.H.S. Strives for Leadership, Scholarship

The main purpose of the U.N. Club is to back up and promote "A Little Better World," an organization which helps youth relate to today's changing world.

Getting its start in 1969, L.B.W. recently bought its own building and plans to set up a candle factory to raise money. These funds will be used to pay off the building and to finance educational tours.

One of L.B.W.'s biggest accomplishments this year was their Christ Tree. Beginning with Christ, they began to search for good acts he had done. For each 30 acts, they hung a star on the tree.

Not only is the organization involved with young people, but they also work with people of all ages. Last summer they lent their headquarters to the local Senior citizens. President John Steffy pictured right receives thanks from the group.

Mrs. Grace Zapel, sponsor, feels the club teaches fulfillment, gratification and immortality. By the actions and responses of Marine City's youth, L.B.W.'s success is assured.

To become a member of the National Honor Society requires just a little more determination than most M.C.H.S. organizations. To qualify a Sophomore student must maintain a 3.5 (A-) average for three semesters and a Junior or Senior a 3.0 (B) average.

Along with academic requirements, qualifying students are also screened by teachers for leadership, participation both in class and extra-curricular activities, and general scholastic ability. Five percent of the Sophomore class, ten percent of the Junior class, and fifteen percent of the Senior class can be elected as members.

In May, an induction ceremony is held in the Gym with the whole school in attendance. Parents of those students joining the society are invited to attend. Post ceremony activities include a tea presented by the National Honor Society in the Home-Ec room with members, faculty and parents in attendance.

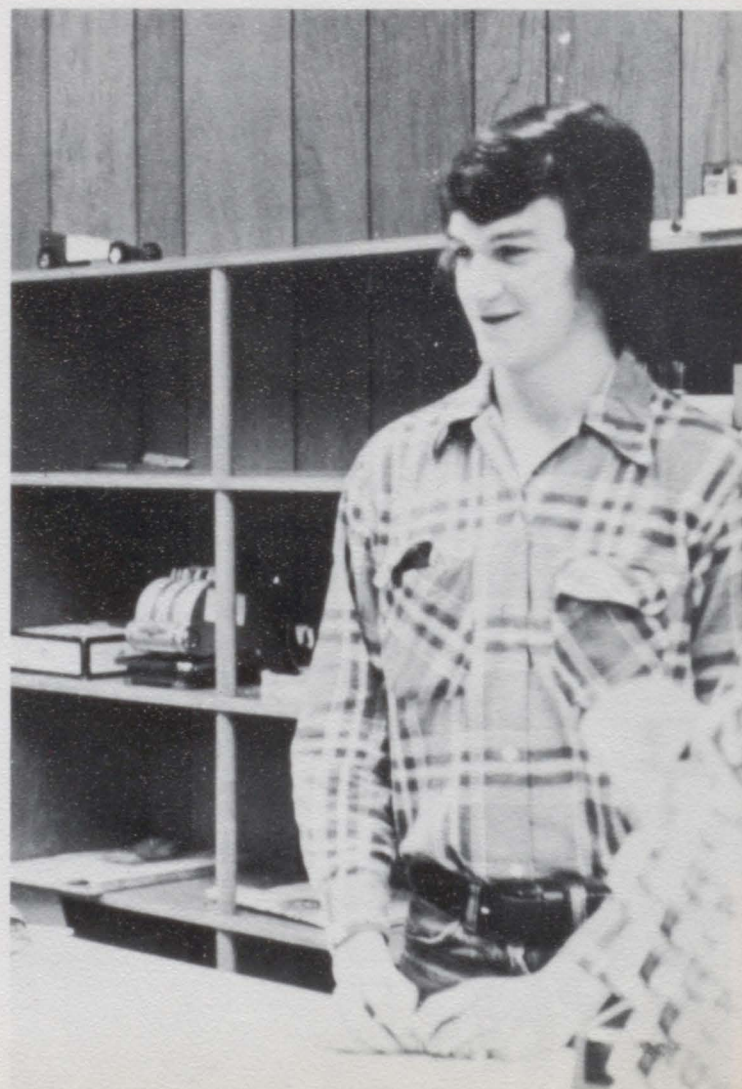

Officers for the 1973 school year were: President, Bill Shattuck; Vice-President, Tom Benoit, and Secretary, Jeff Bell. Miss Bethany Radtke and Mr. Garey Harvey advised the society this past year.

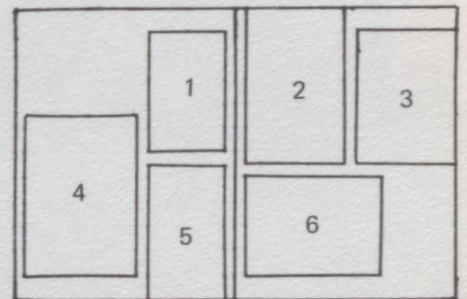

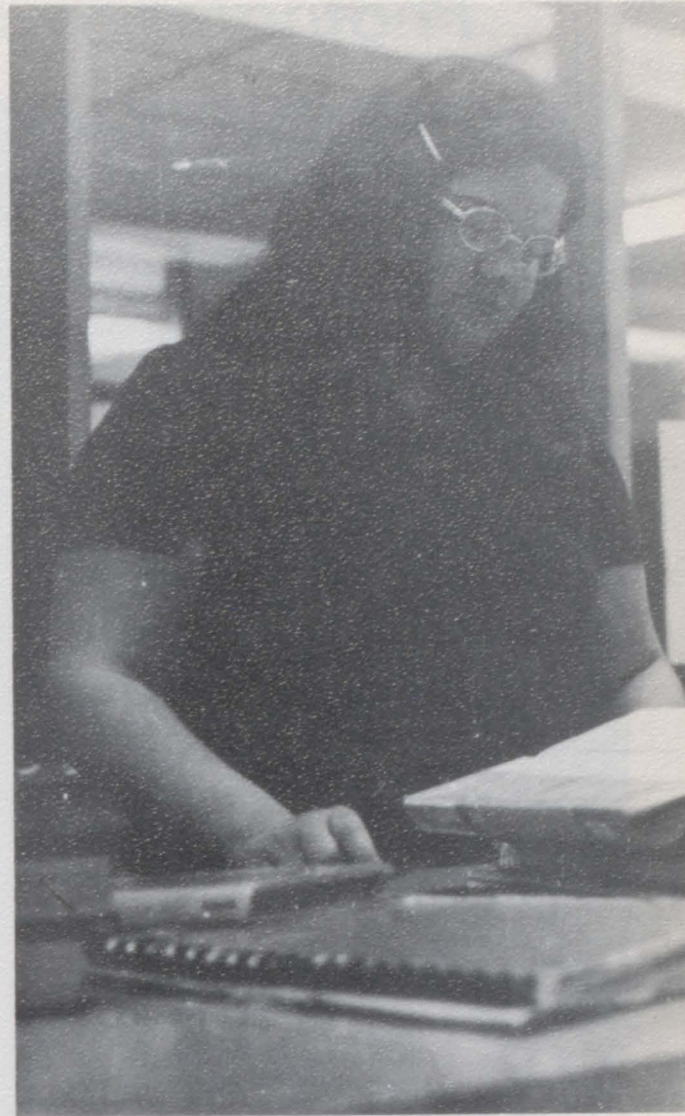

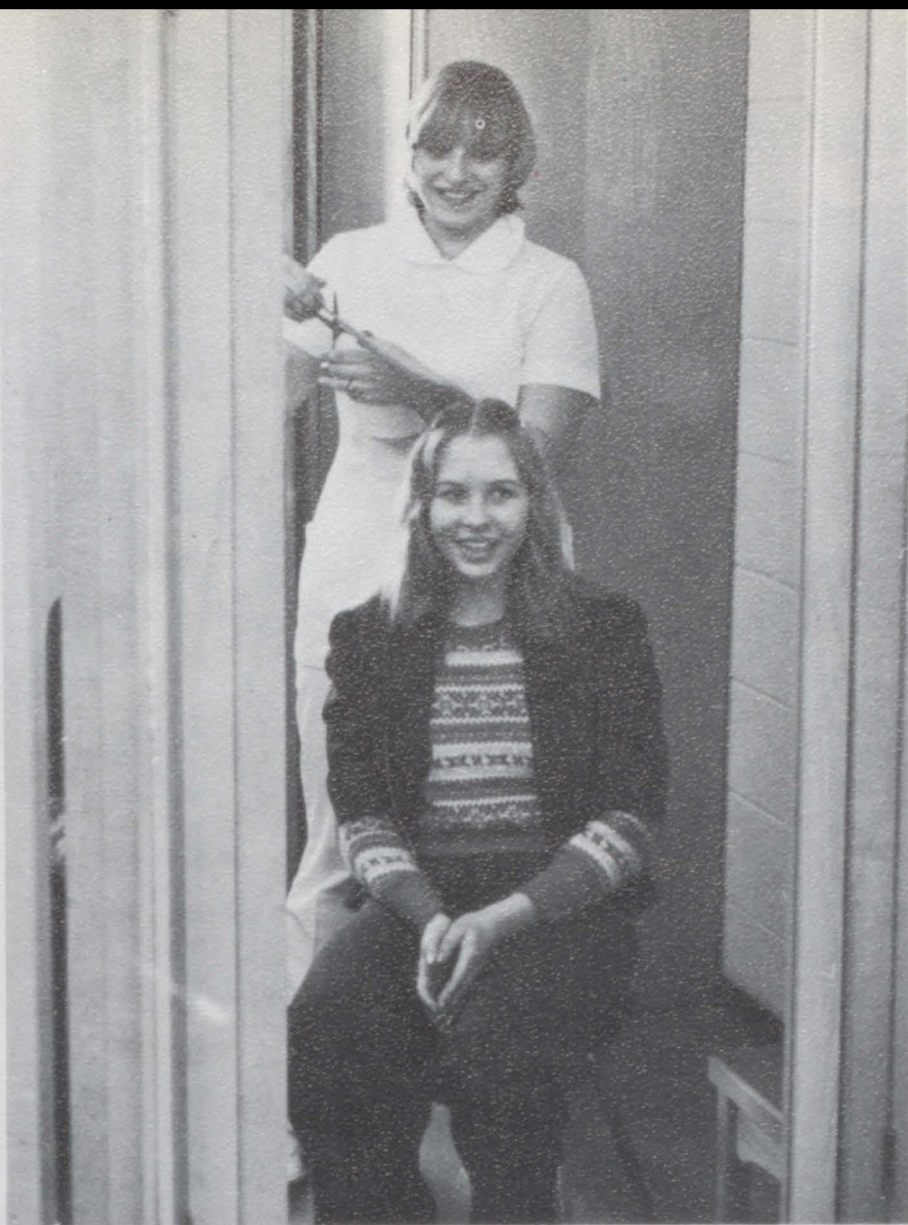

U.N. Ideals Build Future Hope

Training for Tomorrow's Occupations

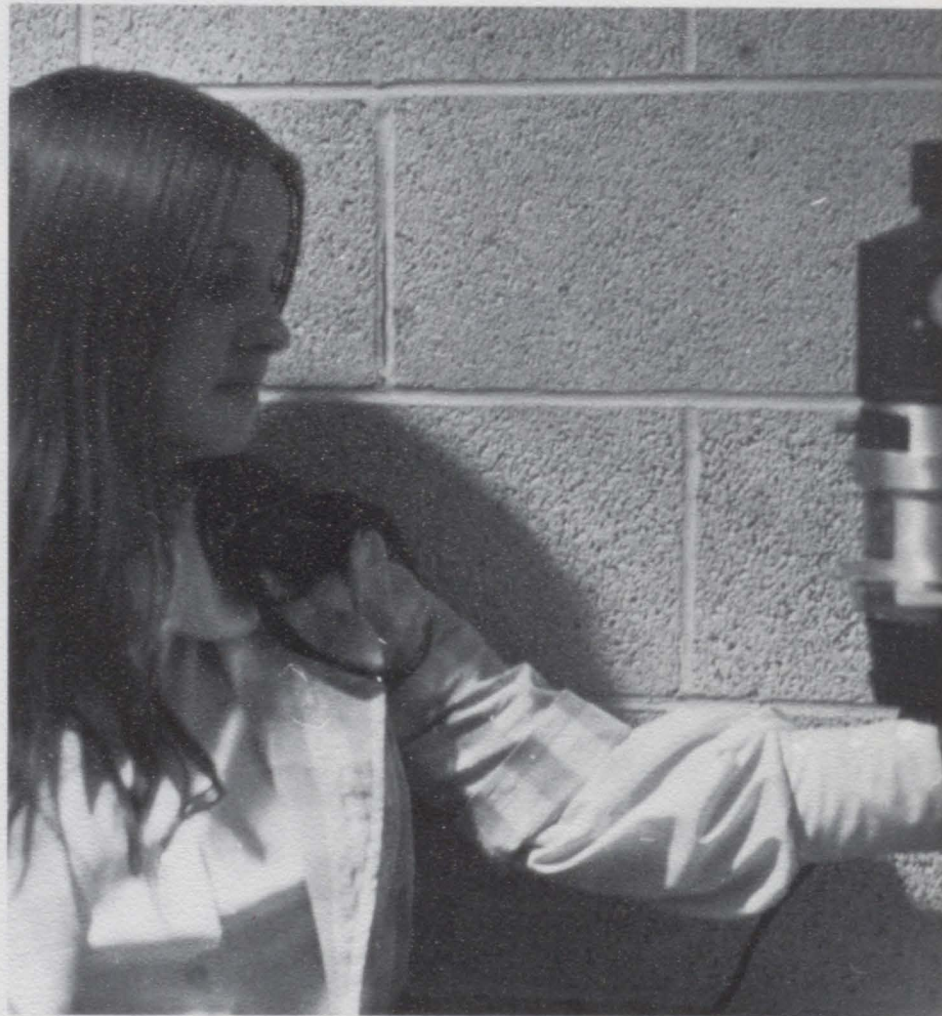

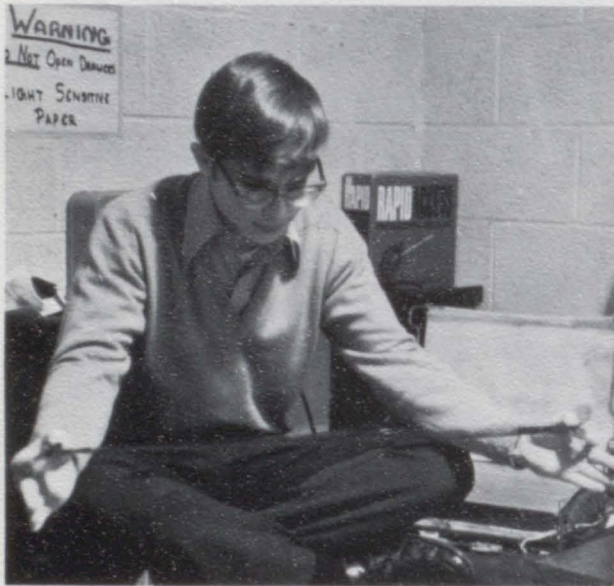

In 1940 Algonac, Marine City, St. Clair and Marysville formed the Vocational Program which students and adults were able to participate. This was expanded in 1946 for training of the returning servicemen. Beginning in 1958, machine trades and carpentry were the first classes offered to the students of the participating districts. From 1963 to 1970 many new classes were offered from Agriculture to Welding. In the passed two years 130 students from M.C.H.S. have been involved in this program, 65 are participating this year. From this program students have been able to obtain better jobs for their future.

1. Pam Eber tries hard to look busy while the boss is at work.
2. Rosanne Lozowski hopes Kim Balfour won't shave her hair, just cut it.
3. Karen Basset thinks to herself, "I never saw a library in such a mess!"
4. "Medium Rare Hamburger to go," yells Scott VanWormer.
5. "Ya wan'a buy some tlc tac's?" asks Scott Britz.
6. "Come on Steve let's get this house built right!" exclaims Greg Enders.

Photography Interests Many Students

Learning, experiencing, and accomplishing are the goals of many students in the Photography club. Under the supervision of Mr. Walker Archer, they learn the right techniques of taking, developing, and printing pictures. For the beginner, his first print usually causes some excitement. One reason is that he has succeeded in creating a picture he never dreamed possible. He also finds it an interesting hobby because he always has a second chance. Right, Betty Smith tries focusing in a picture and realizes she forgot the negative. Above, trying to decide which pictures he wants to print backwards is Freeland Goddard.

This year's M.C.H.S. Log staff was determined to create a successful paper and they did. Each issue informed students what was happening around school and what exciting things were coming up. There were many interesting articles about M.C.H.S. sports teams and their achievements as well as articles concerning life in general at Marine City High. The paper has reached high standards with each staff member contributing his creative efforts.

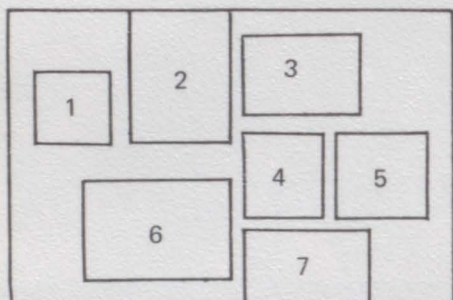

Left, Mr. Walker Archer, Log advisor, informs students what a great paper the staff has produced and advises them to get their subscriptions while they last.

Working hard to make the paper even greater are Debbie Malcolm, Melinda Berry, Kathy Gramer, Marsha Hagen, and Bill DuMars.

Skiers Tackle Slippery Slopes

1. "Ahhhh ...!" screams Lisa Phillips as she whizzes down the hill.
2. "Look at the size of that thing!" thinks Colleen Nugent, getting up enough courage to board the ski lift.
3. "On your mark. Get set. Go." And the race begins. Who'll win? Cathy Niester or her newly found friend?
4. "Don't you think I'm a good skier? Should I try out for the Olympics?" asks Dave Stockwell proudly.
5. "Just call me Flash!" says Cathy Orchard with a great big smile.
6. The Ski-Club camera-shy??? Never!
7. "Peace baby, this ski-weekend sure has been groovy!" exclaims Melinda Berry.

"Will there be enough snow? Will there be too much snow? Stay tuned Tuesday for the results," was heard over the p.a. because frankly no one knew if there would or would not be a trip. Countless ski trips were called off because of too much or too little snow.

One Tuesday the Ski-Club set out for Mt. Grampian only to be confronted by snowed-in, impassable roads. To top it off the bus' fuel line and windshield wipers froze! While they were being fixed the kids bailed out of the bus and had snow-ball fights and made snow angels.

Blue Mountain, Collingwood, Ontario was the scene of this year's adventurous, fun-filled ski-weekend. Fifty-five snow-hungry kids piled into the bus with thoughts of beautiful, snow-covered hills, but — you've guessed it — again the weather wasn't in their favor. Saturday was the only day they got to ski and they surely took advantage of it. Manned with skis, mittens, scarfs, hats and sweaters they raced out to the hills for a delightful day of skiing, clowning and all out fun.

Behind the Scenes at M.C.H.S.

Marine City H.S. is putting on a play. Everyone knows who the actors are, but who is behind the scenes? M.C.H.S. is battling an enemy team on the basketball court, but who was there to set up the P.A.? An assembly is called and everyone gets out of class to go, but who was there before hand, so the voice over the P.A. could hurry you to your seat? These and many other duties are performed by our 8-ball club.

Working the lights, pulling the curtains, and setting up scenes, are the necessary duties that the 8-ball club carries out for all school plays. Setting up the P.A., miking all games, and taking it down afterwards, require both knowledge and skill, which the members possess.

Mr. David Scheel, sponsor of the club is pictured right with Ed Lozowski, one of the seven members. Mr. Scheel is explaining to Ed that even though it is his favorite color, green is not the right effect for the face of the lead actor.

Varsity Club Becomes Liberated

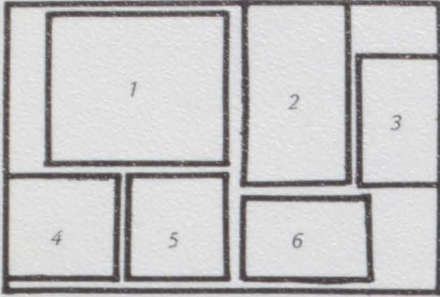

The Varsity Club has changed. No longer is it a male-dominated society. Through the works of Mr. Jerry Warkentien, girls have been "in" since November.

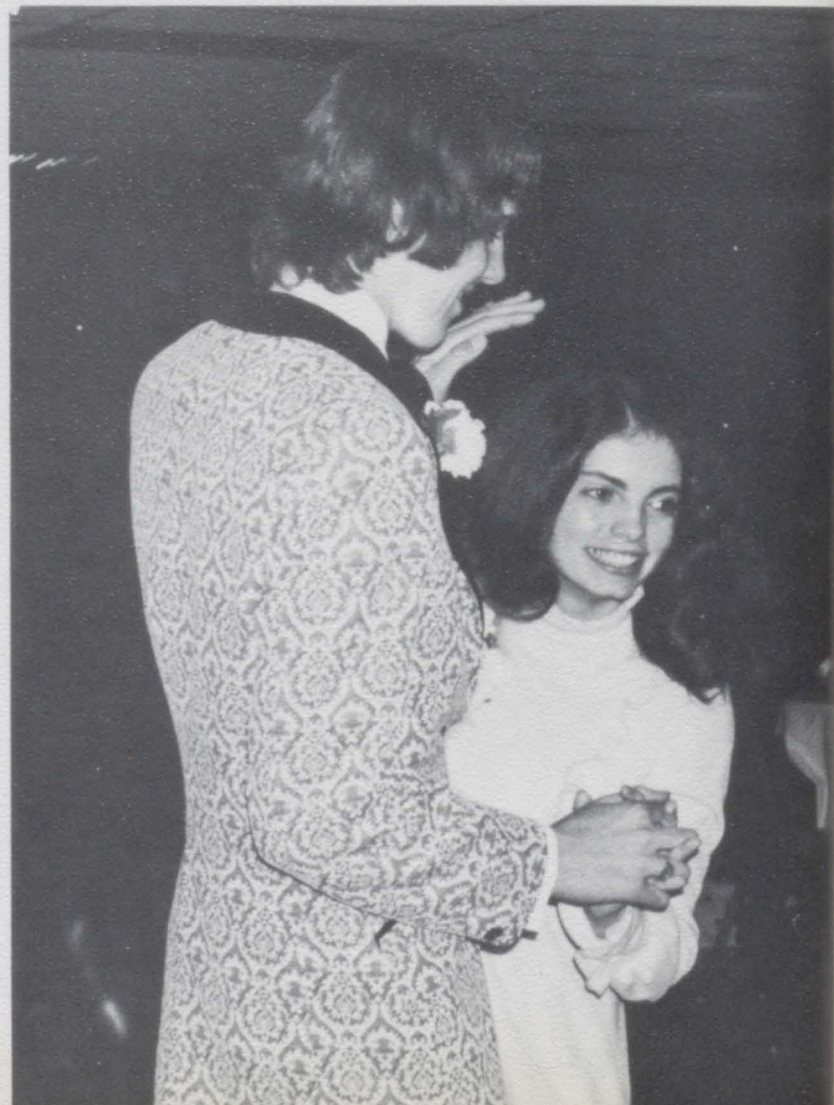

They meet about once a month to organize certain activities, like a dance, car wash, candy sale, and a T-shirt sale. The main purpose of these sales is to raise money to buy letters for members, and improve the athletic program. Sometime in the future they hope to gather enough funds to purchase a records board.

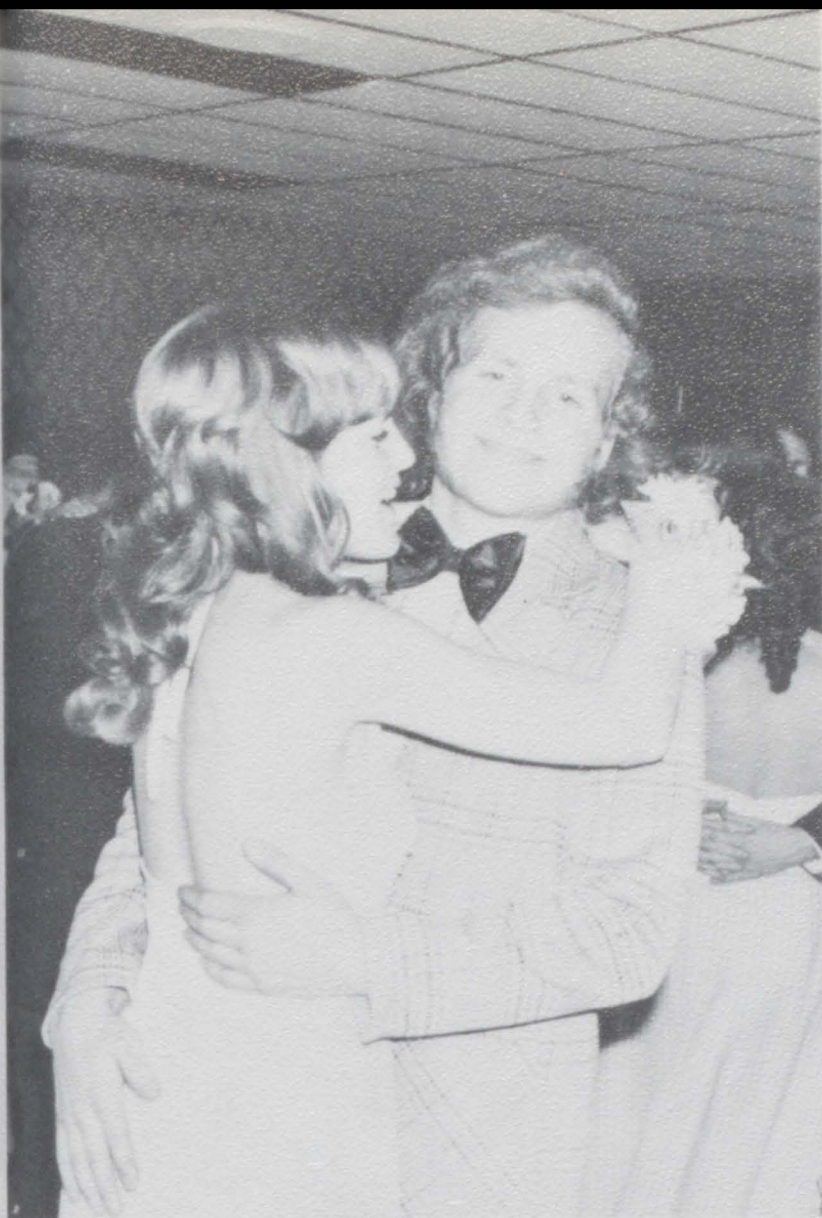

Currently they have 50 members, however, only about 25 are active and come to the meetings. President, Scott Van Wormer; Secretary, Kim Griffin; and Treasurer, Drew Flemming, in co-operation with Mr. Warkentien, sponsor, hope to improve the membership and get the Varsity Club active in school affairs again.

"Fields of Joy" - A Touch of Magic.

1. Lori Drinkard tells Mark Blake "Your crazy if you think I'm goin' do the hocky-pocky."
2. Dancing to the sound of The (HALF-FAST) Brass, Rick Beckett wishes Cheryl Cummeralto would let him lead.
3. Bob Beauvais and Joy Fournier can't seem to remember what happened to their table.
4. "My roll is getting soggy," exclaims Scot Britz as Diana Wiinikainen looks for her olive in the misticelli.
5. King Jeff Bell and Queen Teri Rhodes crown their evening with a whirl around the dance floor.
6. Mark Baxendale and Sandy Beauvais take a breather between dances.

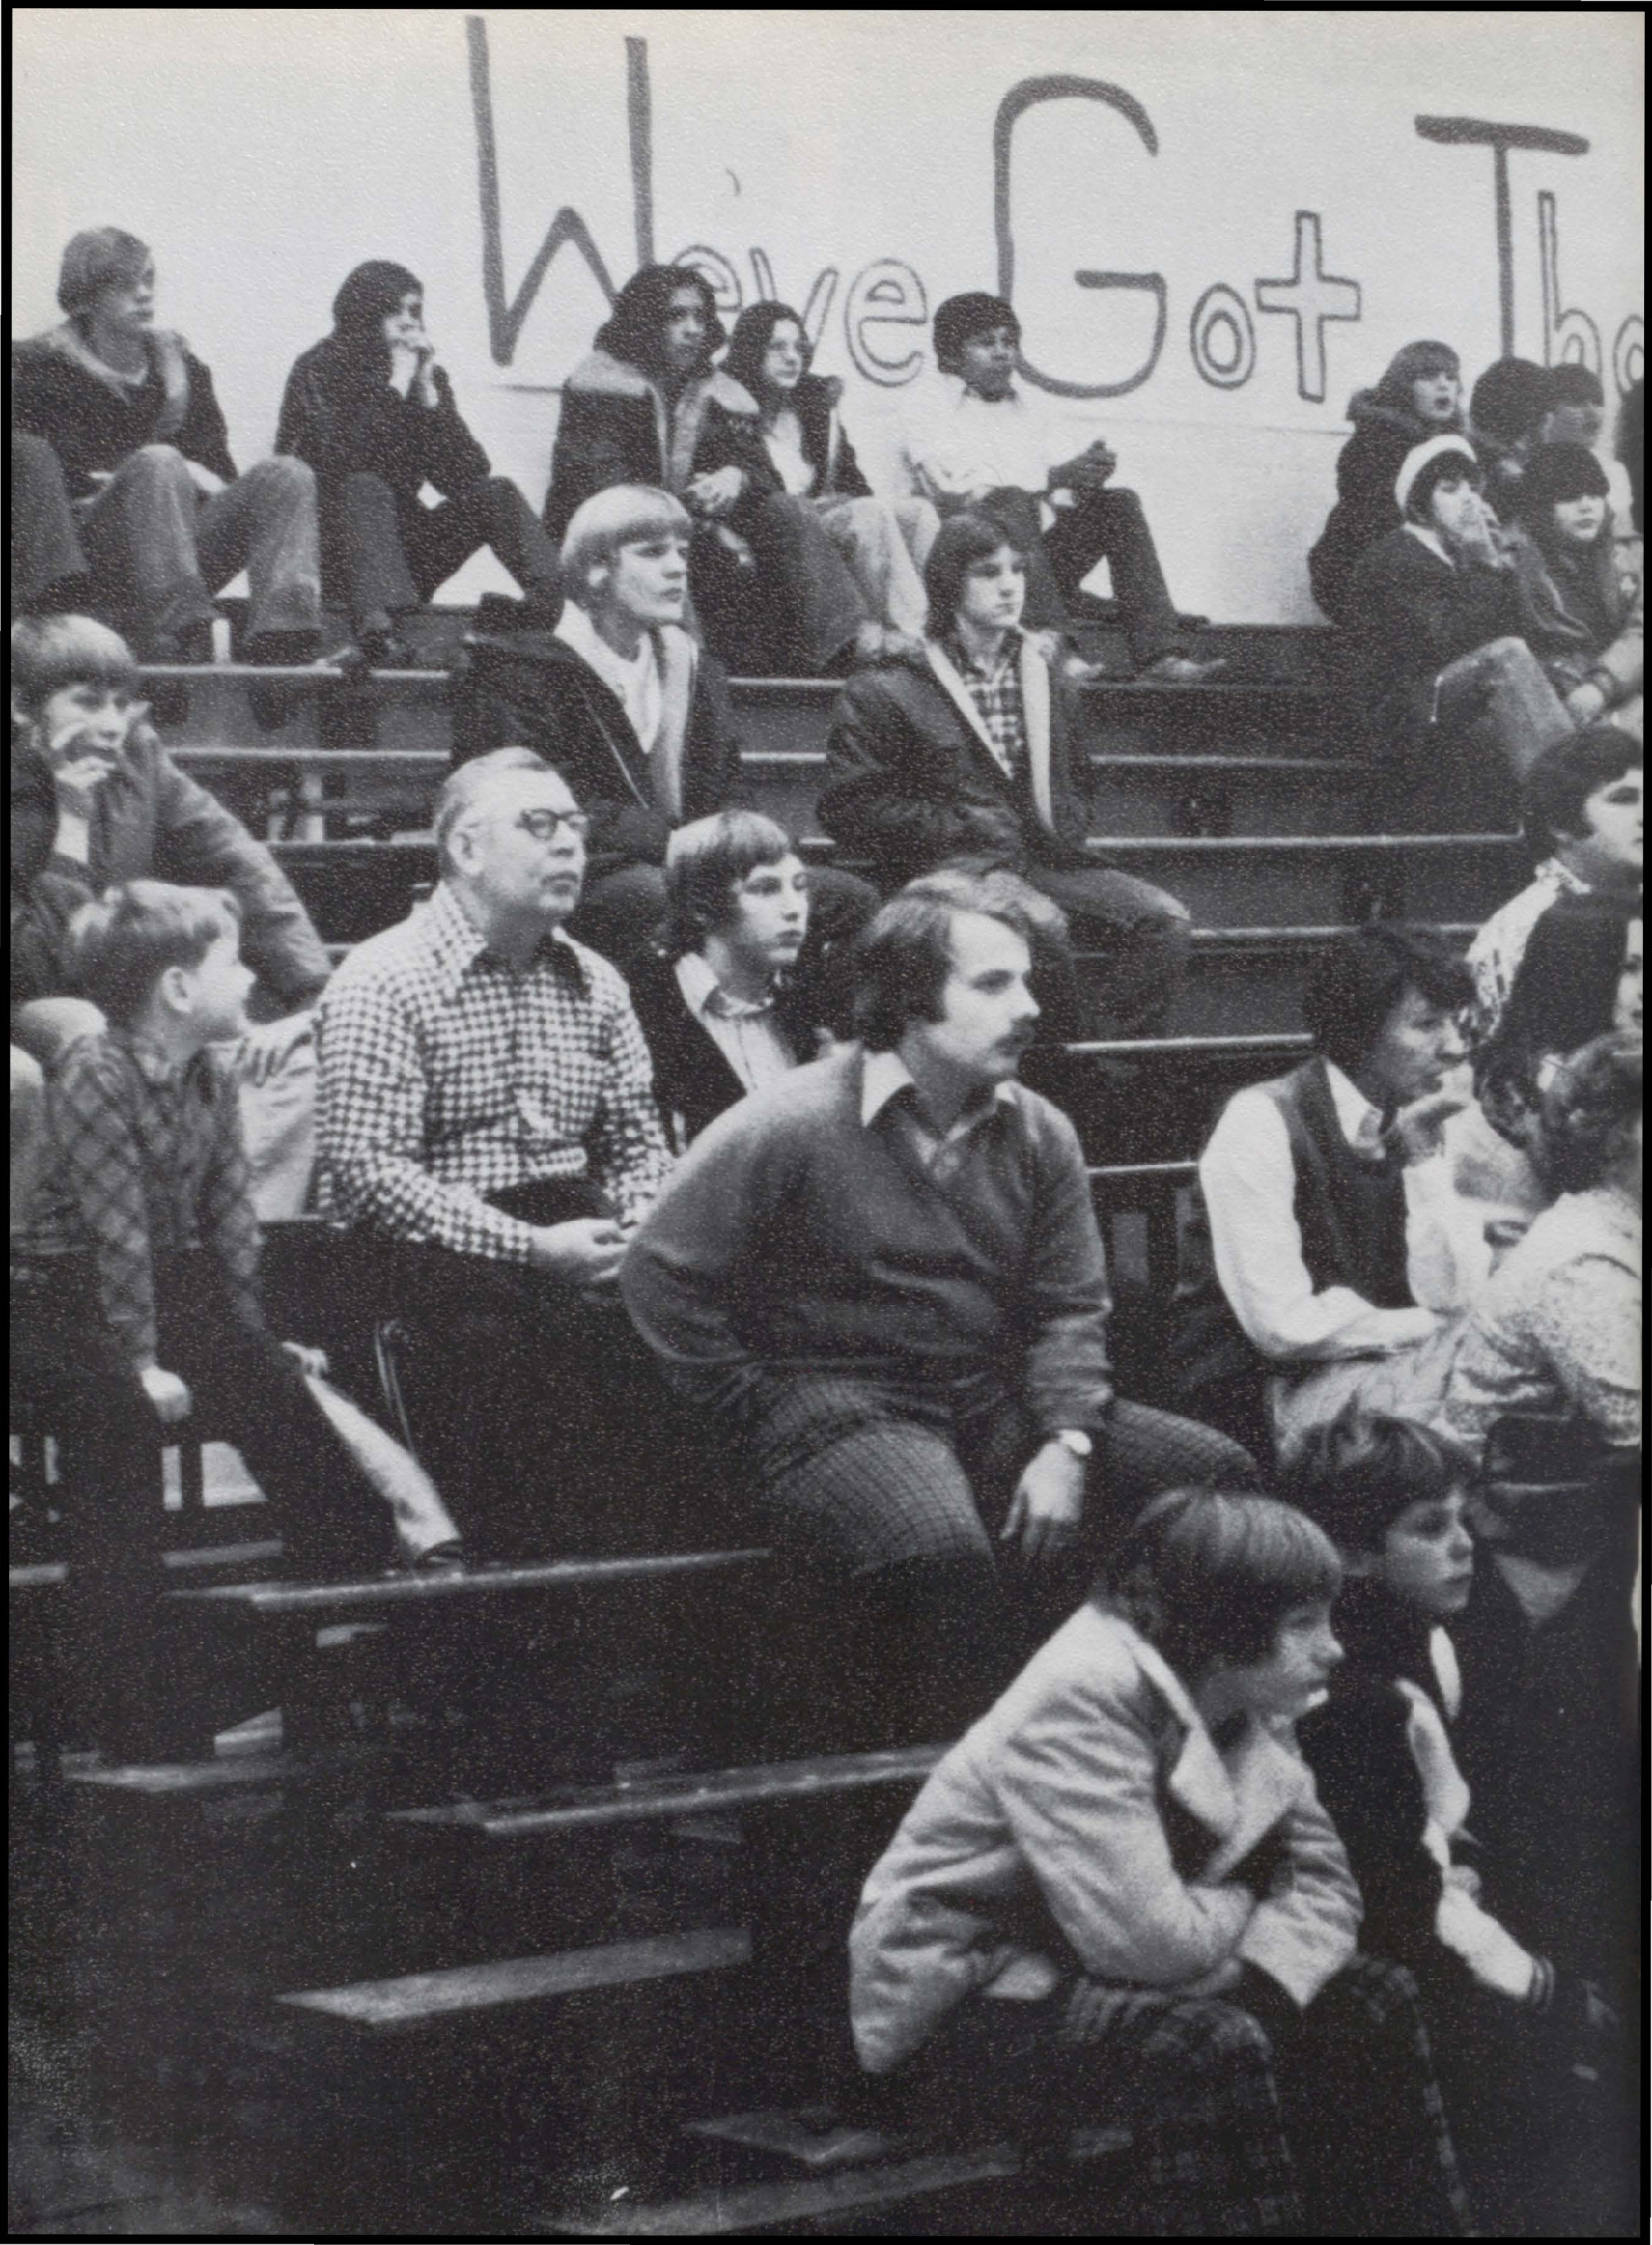

"Hey, Mean Mary Jean, this year's prom sounds like its really gonna be fantastic!" "Yeah, Peter Piper, sure wish I was goin'." "I guess that would be nice wouldn't it Mean Mary Jean."

Does this sound like a subtle little hint the week before the prom? It could be, but it's really part of the Junior's advertising for the "social event of the year".

The theme of the prom, "Fields of Joy", was carried through with fresh daisies in the candle centerpieces. The "Half Fast Brass", provided lively music for dancing in the elegant interior of Zucarro's Holiday House.

Since all stories like this end happily, Mean Mary Jean and Peter Piper spent an enchanting evening at the prom, along with all the other guys and girls who were there with their favorite people.

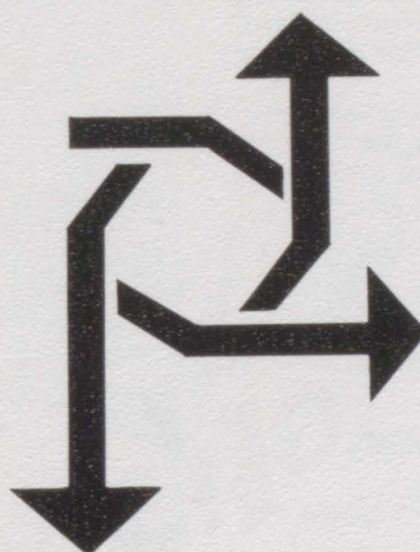

FACULTY

*Teaching, guiding
Inspiring achievement and perfection;
Building our foundation ...

— Sue Heholt

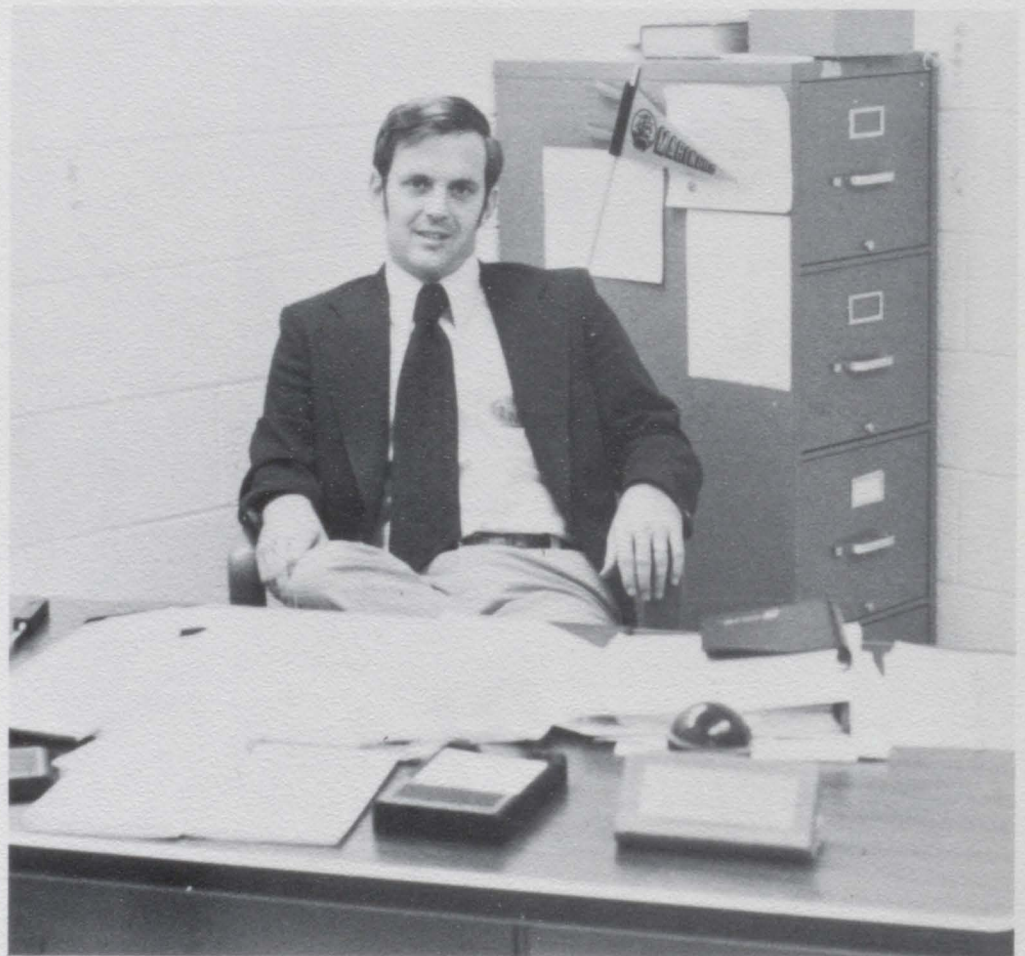

The Circle Begins. . .

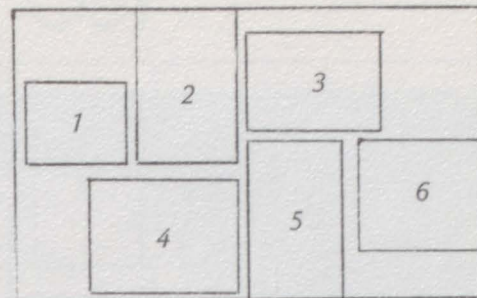

As we entered school this year, we met our new principal, Mr. Edward Trudell, who returned to Marine City high, bringing fresh ideas and a great deal of spirit. He always added a bit of encouragement to our team and students, determined to give them confidence and self esteem. Among other things, he introduced teacher task forces, including the communications committee, the teacher handbook, and the reading task force.

If you weren't fortunate enough to meet Mr. Trudell we're sure you heard him say, "T.G.I.F. Have a nice day. We'll see ya 'round."

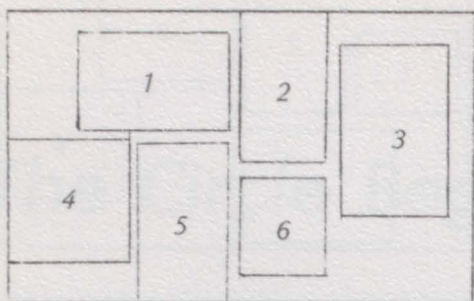

Faculty

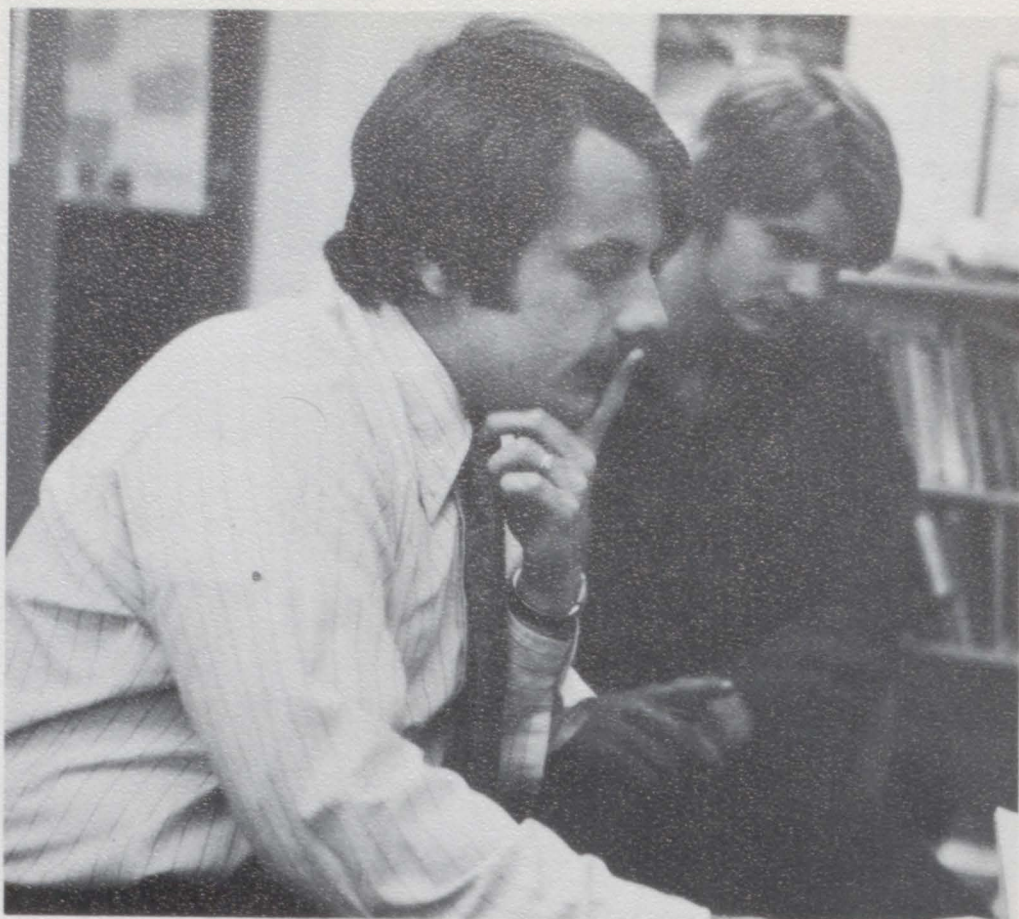

1. "Have you got it?!" yells our enthusiastic principal as he succeeds in helping bring back the Mariner spirit.
2. Making last minute adjustments for the morning announcements, Mr. Edward Trudell looks forward to wishing the students a nice day.
3. Mr. Trudell's T.G.I.F. codes sure have got a lot of wierd translations and Mrs. Lucille Chartier has heard them all.
4. Mr. Eugene Parsons casually leans back after a long fought conference with an overly protective mother.
5. Anita Smith helps the new secretary, Mrs. Barbara Vandenbossche get to know who to look out for.
6. Mrs. Carol Eber quizzes a suspicious looking student on how his mother's handwriting could have changed so much in just two weeks.

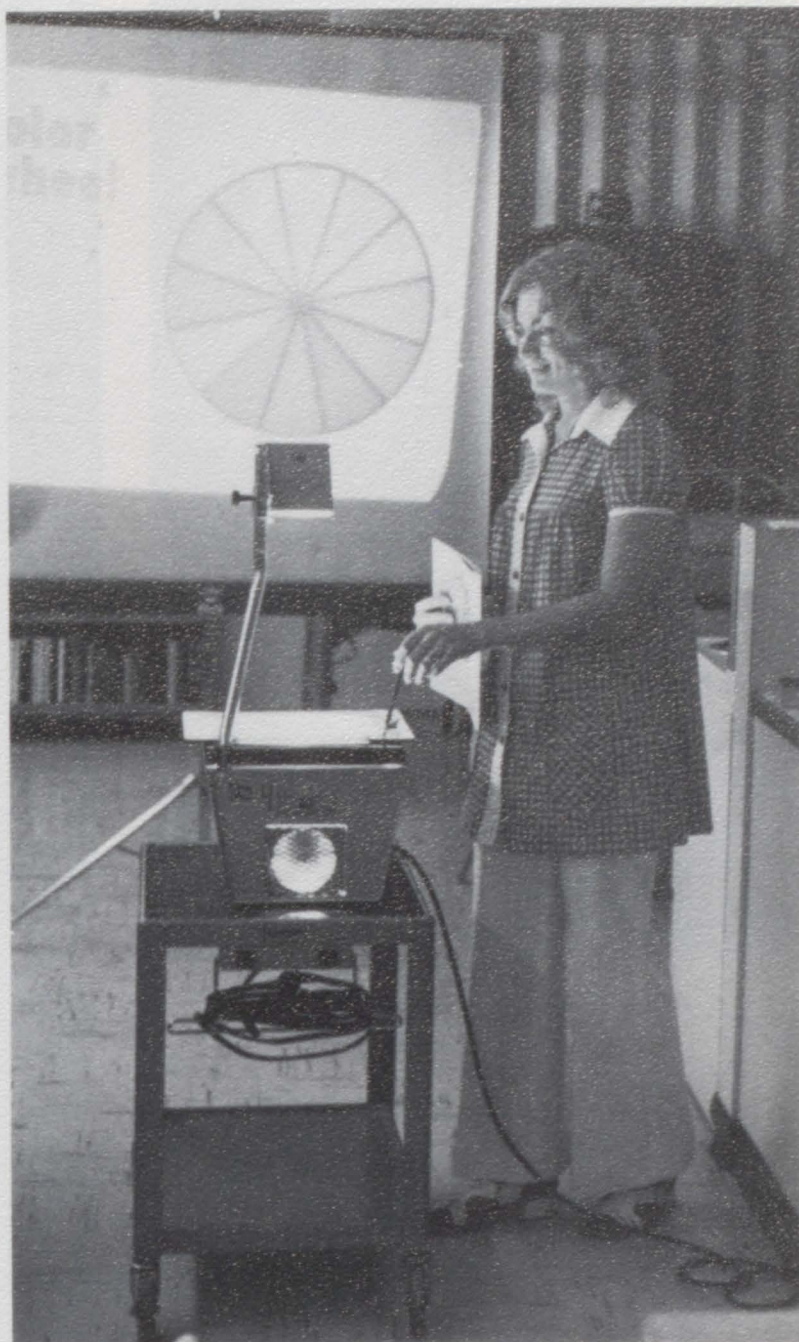

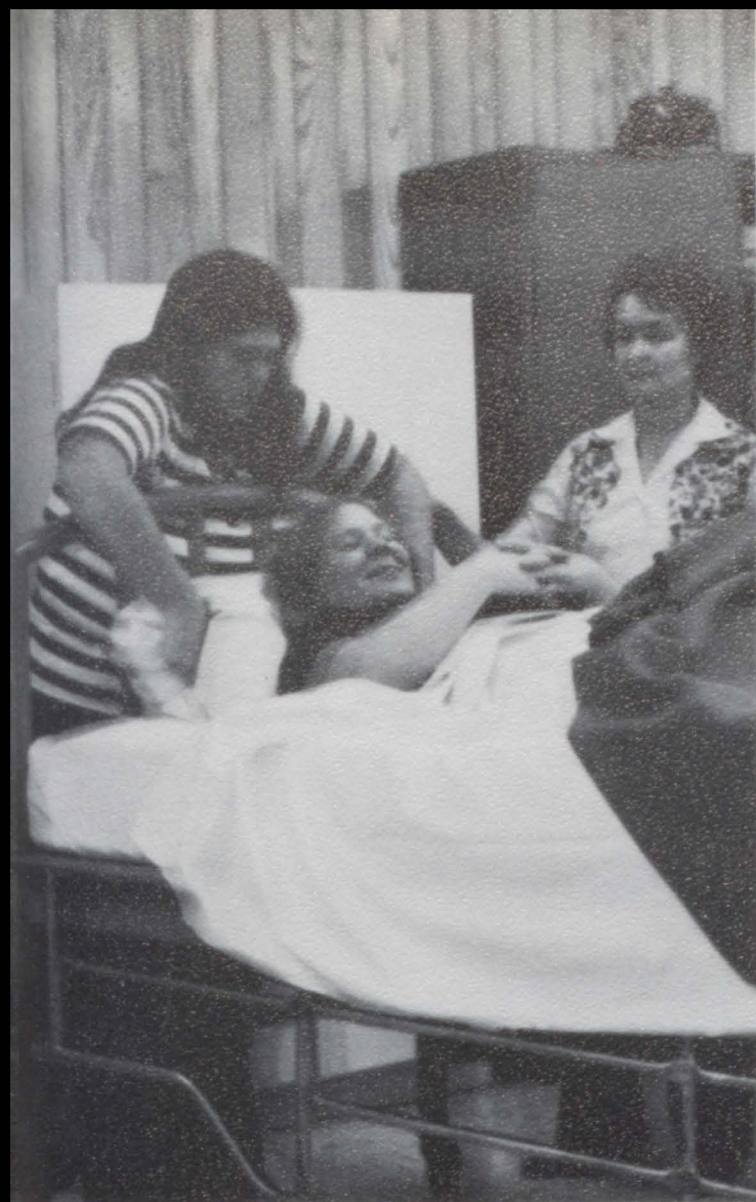

1. Mr. David Scheel carefully decides whether or not he should let Brian Kirkpatrick drop his first hour class for a study hall.
2. The students in Mrs. Charlotte Carufel's class learn the fundamentals of caring for bedridden patients.
3. Miss Karen Yager is pleased to know that she can dress in the morning without the help of a color wheel.
4. Miss Kathryn Kimmet has heard some pretty crazy stories but this one by Teri Boulier really takes the cake!
5. "You've got to be kidding! A book like that in this library!" Miss Virginia Schoenberg wonders what the kids in this school are coming to.
6. Miss Bethany Radtke and Sandy Cuthbertson wonder who could have been so dumb as to wind the filmstrip up backwards.

Reaching Out

"Come on Pam! Will you hurry up? You've still gotta get signed up with Mr. Harvey for Advanced Comp. And I've gotta be home in 35 minutes!"

"I can't help it Sue. This just isn't workin' out right. Look, its all goofed up and there's no way my schedule will work!"

"Let me see, I guess you're right. We better go ask Mr. Scheel for help."

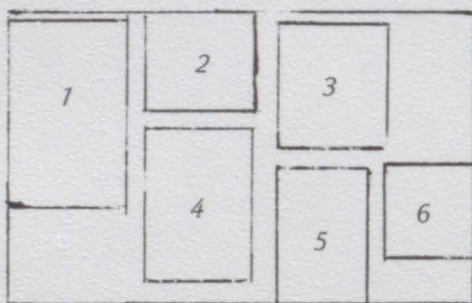

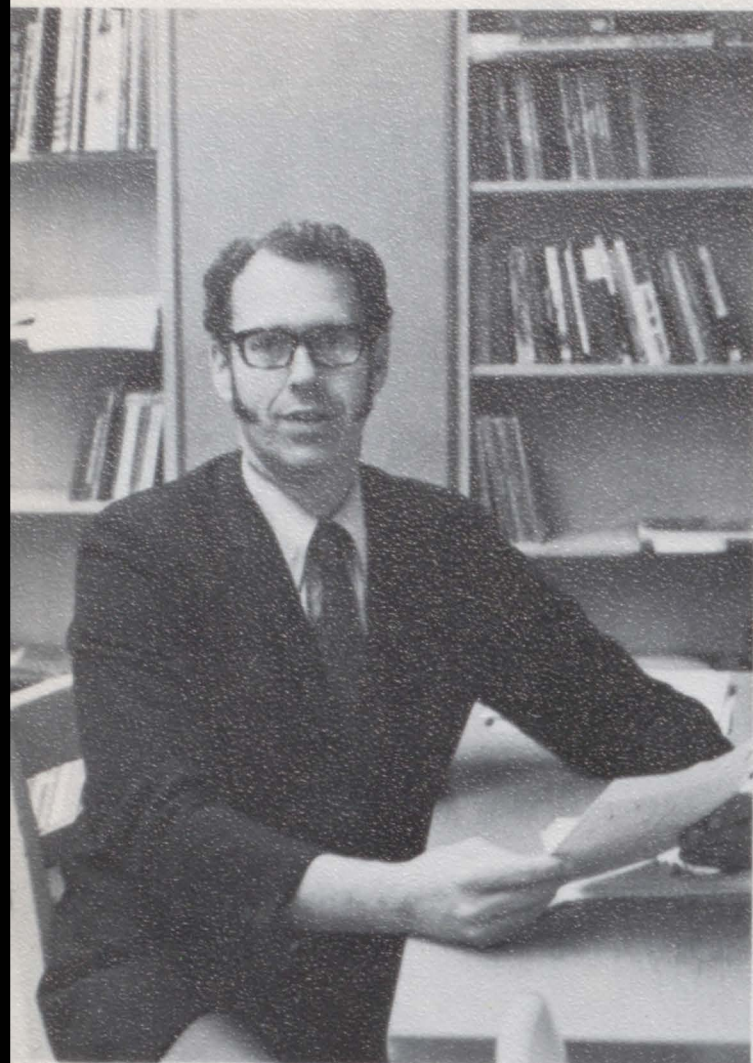

Moments later ... "Well Pam there's really no way you can fit this science class in 1st hr."

"But then what can I take?"

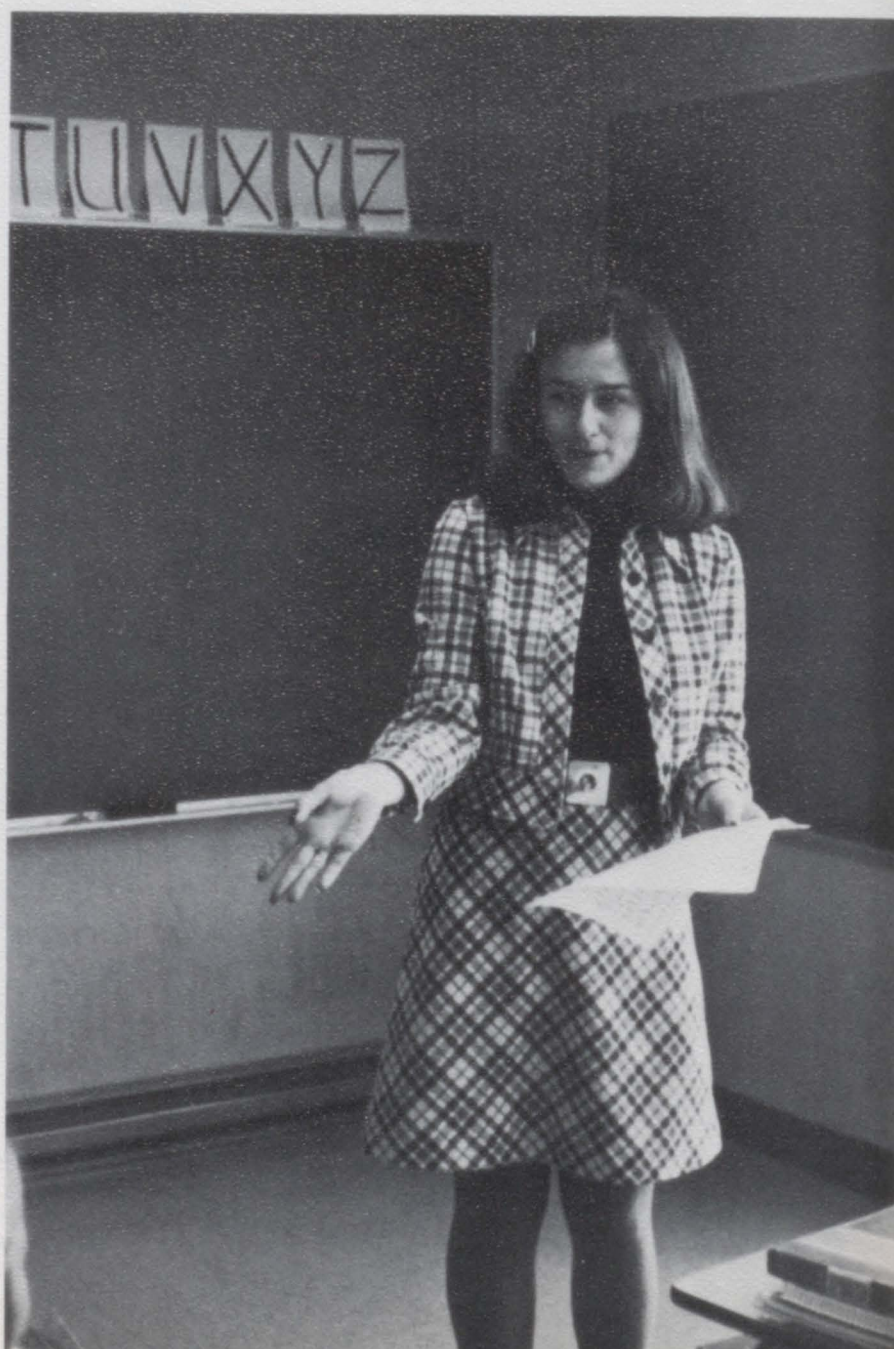

"Let's see, Miss Yager teaches Home Ec. that hour and I'm sure you'd like it. You learn all the elements of cooking, child care, interior decorating and a lot of other things."

"Hey, that sounds pretty good. Thanks Mr. Scheel, now everything's fine."

The moral of this story is: Counselors are the best treatment for any problem.

1. "This may come as a shock to you, but your test results show you have increased your speed-reading level to 600 words a minute," Mr. James Dewitt says with amazement.
2. Mrs. Julianna Clausen doesn't quite agree with Jim Speer's idea of making his barn more interesting -- a nude barn?
3. "Maybe we should do some more warm-ups before we hit those high A's," says Mrs. Marge Robson as she hears another squeak from the soprano section.
4. "Espanol, you dirtbag you," repeats Mrs. Kathleen Grenzke knowing it won't phase her Spanish I students a bit.
5. Miss Jean Bastian admits, "It's a great feeling to have all those wonderful people smiling down on you."

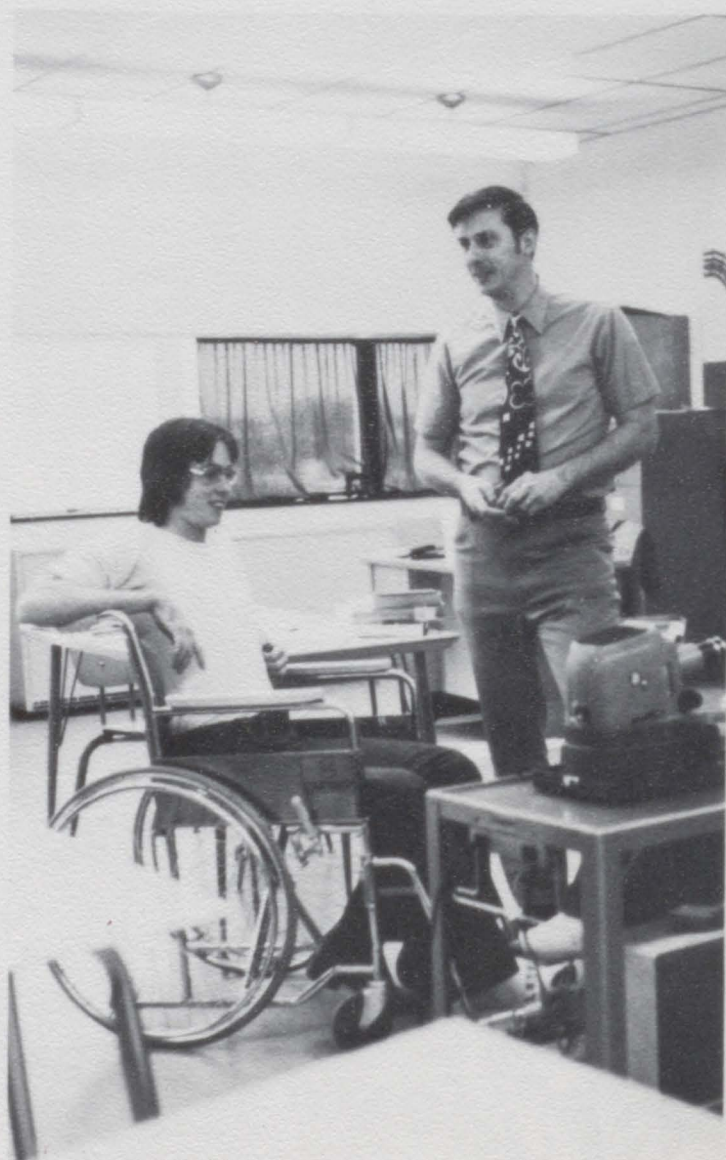

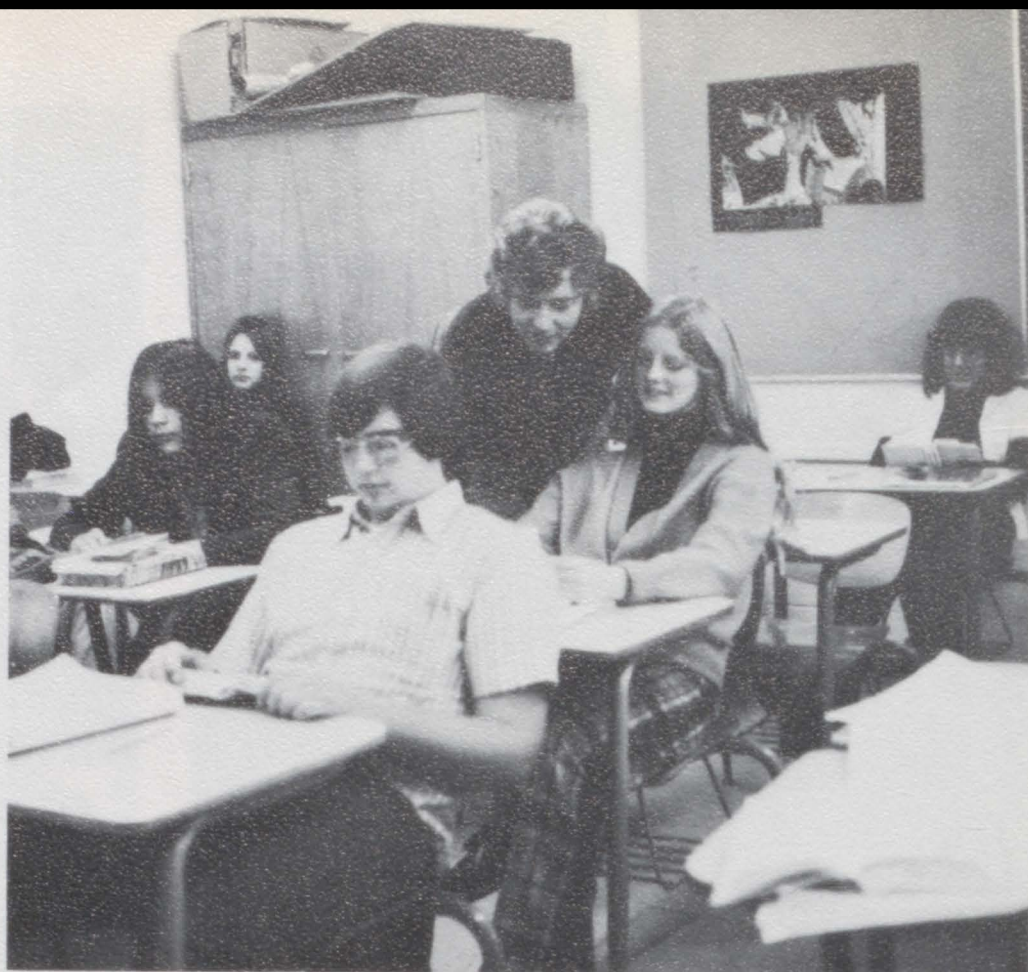

Exploring the Finer Things in Life

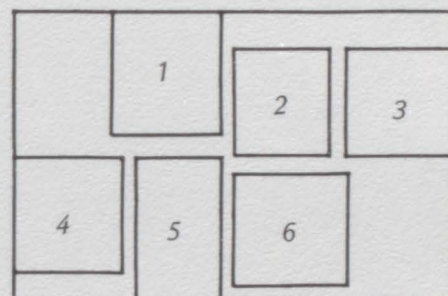

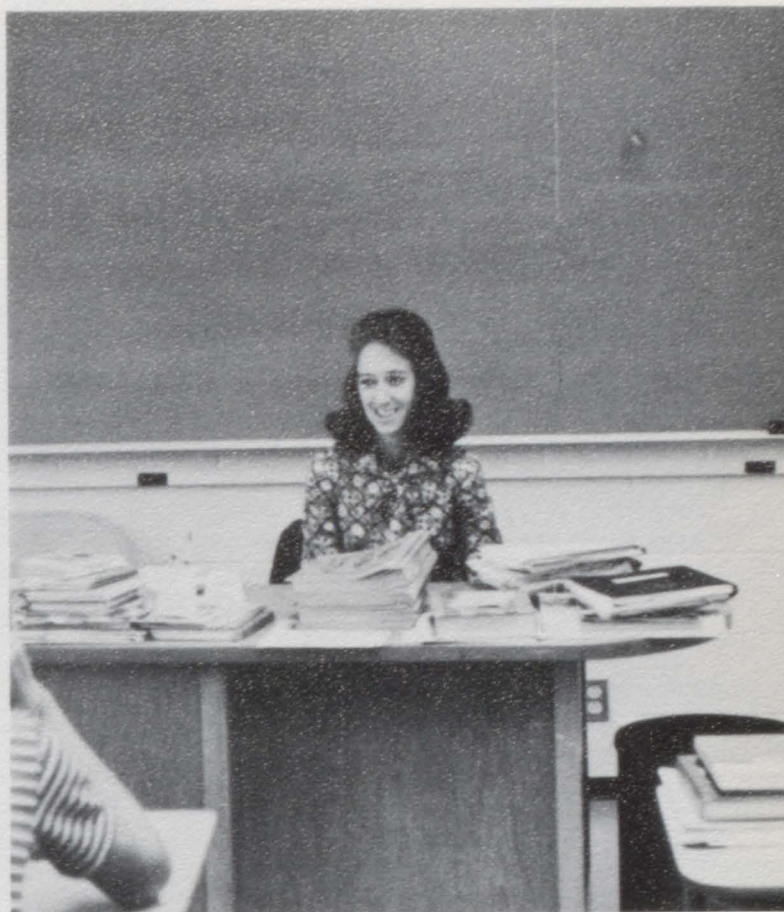

Students are offered a chance to improve their abilities in music, art and foreign language through the many classes offered here at MCHS. Although these are not required classes many kids take them in hopes of reaching perfection and furthering their knowledge.

The beat of African drums, the cheering of the crowd at a Spanish bullfight, the love life of Henry the VIII – the literature and background of the world comes together in M.C.H.S. English classes. It isn't all grammar and spelling. Poetry comes alive through amateur slide shows. Plays help develop talents in the world of drama. The Newspaper and Yearbook show the creative skills of young writers. You name it – there's sure to be a class and an interested teacher ready and willing to help you develop your individual ideas to the fullest.

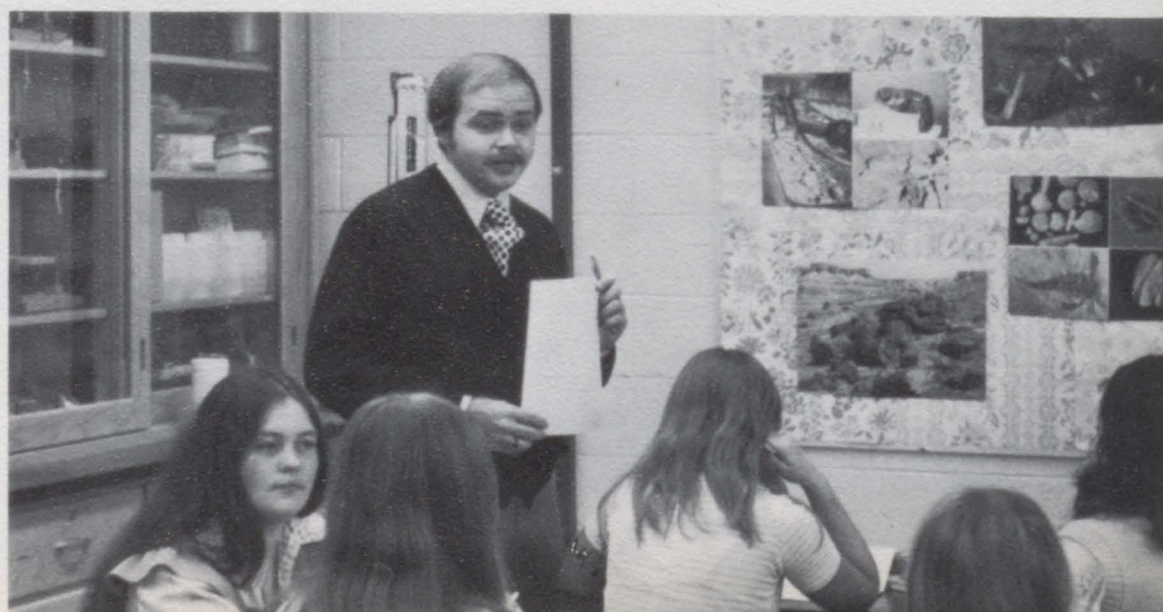

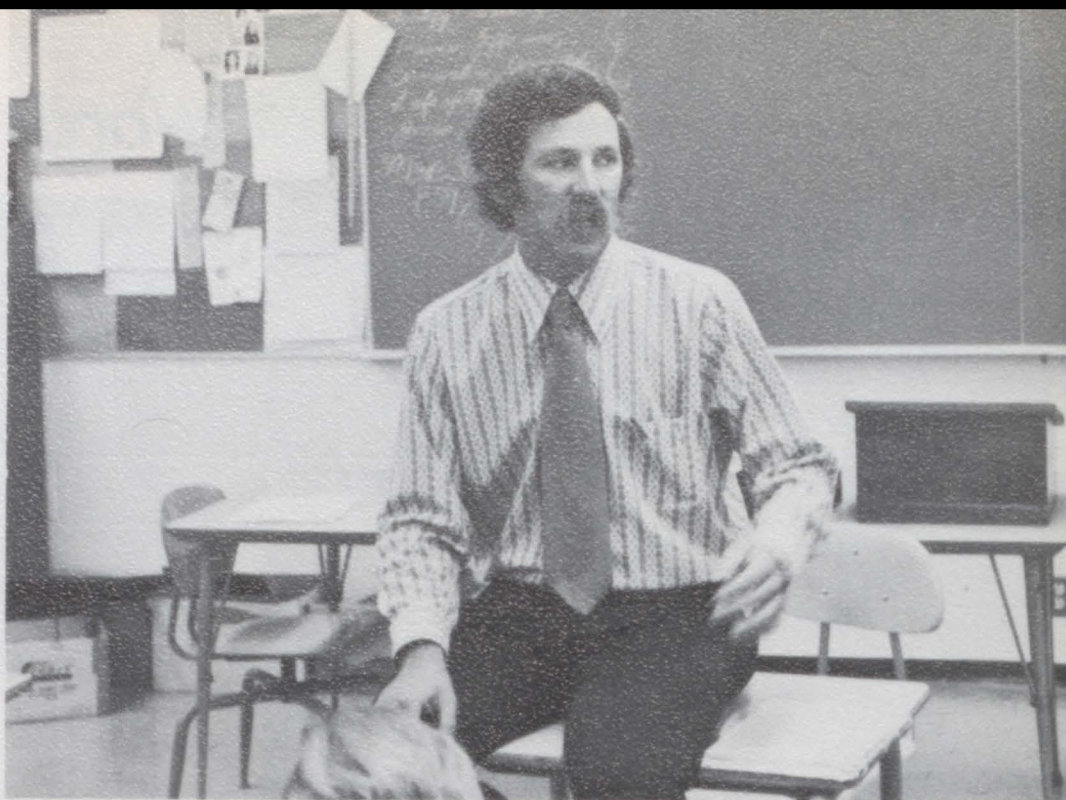

Language : Weapon of Words

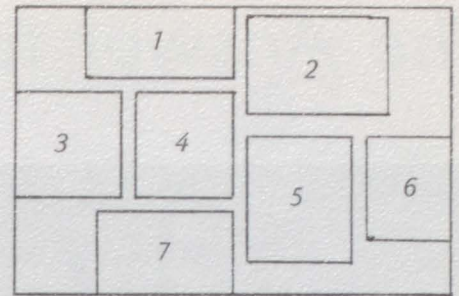

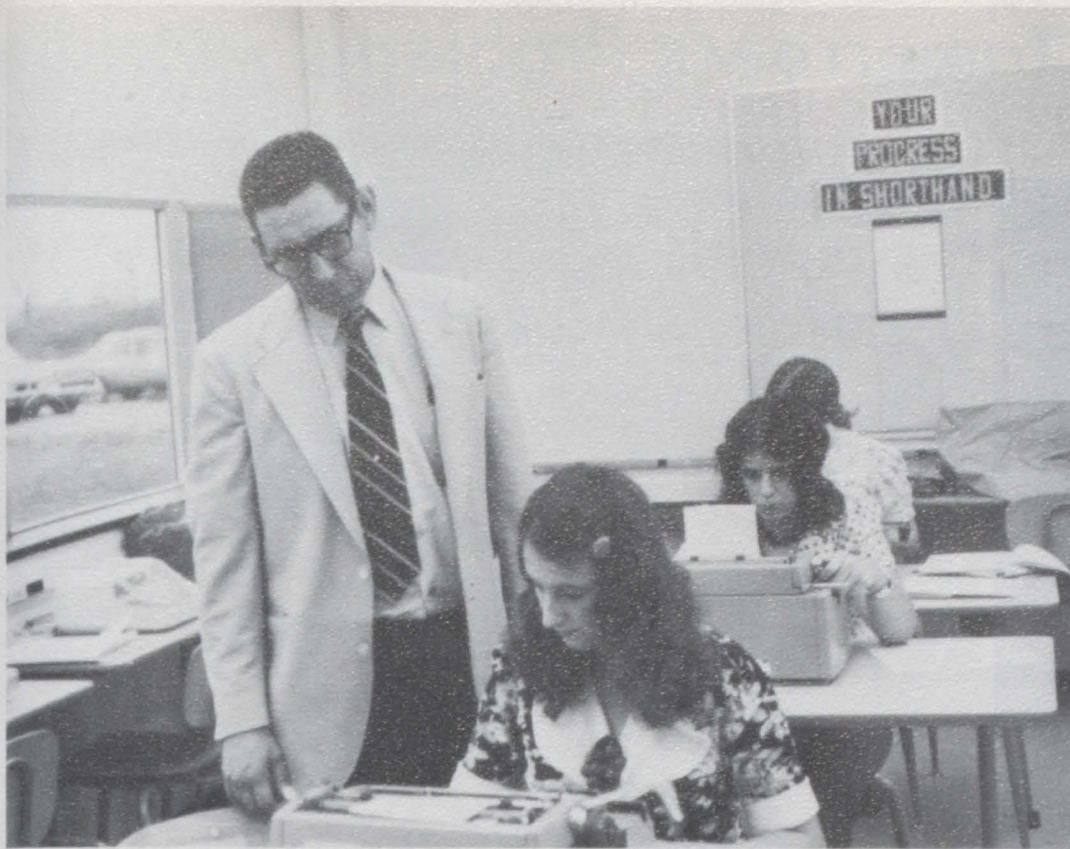

1. Mr. Garey Harvey surprises Nancy Parcell when he discovers her drawing entry of "Spunky" the donkey on the back of her test.
2. As she goes through the agenda of what her class is to accomplish by 9:00, Mrs. Grace Zapel wonders if it can really be done.
3. Mrs. Barbara Saph smiles when she tells the class that she already knows the solution to this week's "Mini Mystery."
4. "My attendance slip! My attendance slip! I forgot to make it out!" cries out Mr. Joseph Pavlov as he hears the pitter-patter of the attendance aide coming up the portable steps.
5. Mr. Walker Archer makes another attempt at explaining that anyone can do anything but whether or not they may is a different story.
6. Checking over the yearbook with a company representative, Mr. Anthony Cavis finds one of many boo-boos.

Our Social Studies Classes cover everything from witchcraft in Salem to Washington and Watergate. Some parts may have seemed trying but our teachers always helped make it more exciting than it really was.

"Relax. Drop your hands to your sides, shake them and raise them to the home keys. Now Type! fff space jjj space ..." The Typing I students begin their course with constant practice using the tape and "the orchestra" thinking it'll never end. After completion of Typing I, business students have the option of increasing their skills by taking advanced courses such as office practice, Typing II and III, and shorthand.

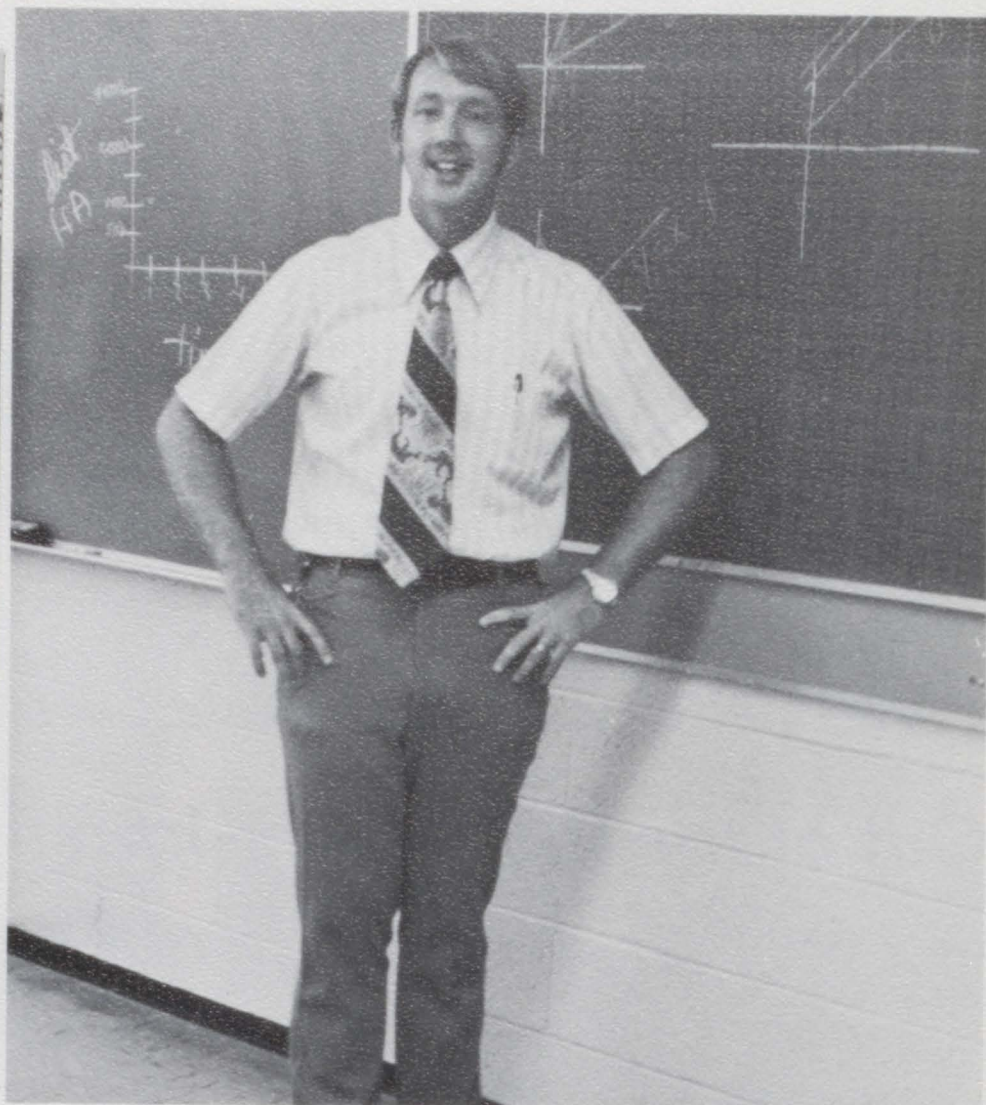

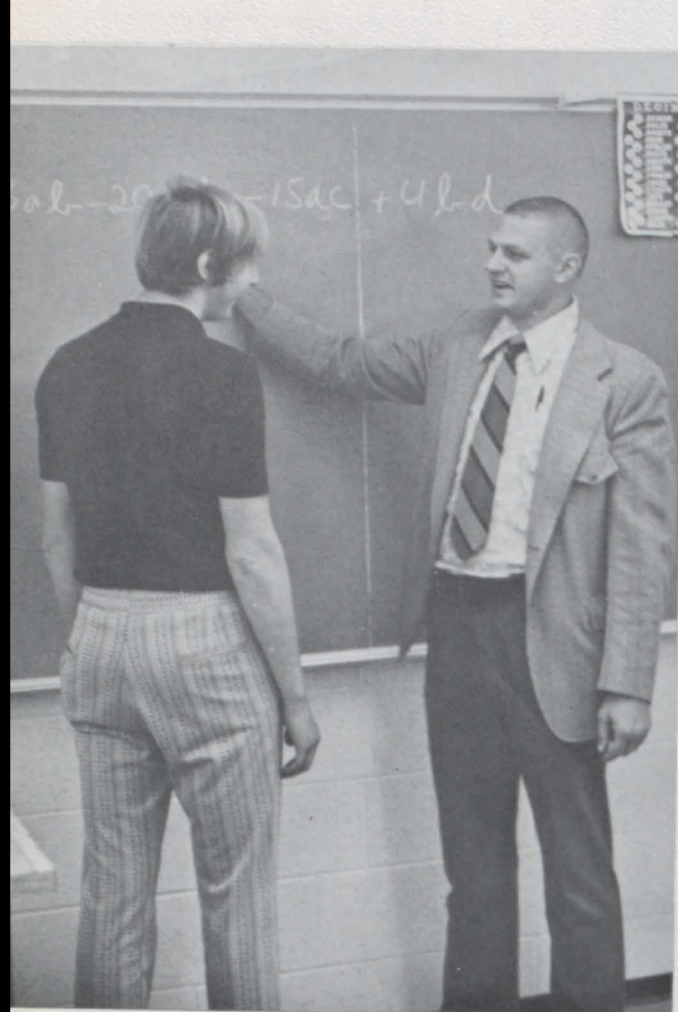

1. Mr. Goldwin Smith calmly expresses his opinion of students talking in class.
2. Georgiann Kaminski just doesn't agree as Mr. Elery Horning tries to convince her that using more than one finger would get her assignment done faster.
3. Loren Lowe wrinkles his nose at the thought of learning ANOTHER one of Mr. Gerald Warkentien's "super-dooper" plays.
4. Mr. Donald Chamberlain tries to gently break the news that he's changed the date of the big test to tomorrow.
5. Miss Sondra Cawrse gladly repeats tonight's homework assignment to her General Business class.
6. Giving confidence to her Typing I class, Mrs. Florence Joachim discusses their recent assignment.
7. As Mr. Charles Homberg begins his lecture on the witches of Salem, Irene Burgett is stunned by the sight of a rising book!

Out of the Dark Ages-Into the Business World

The Answer to Tomorrow's Problems - Today

PROVE: the Math dept. is good.

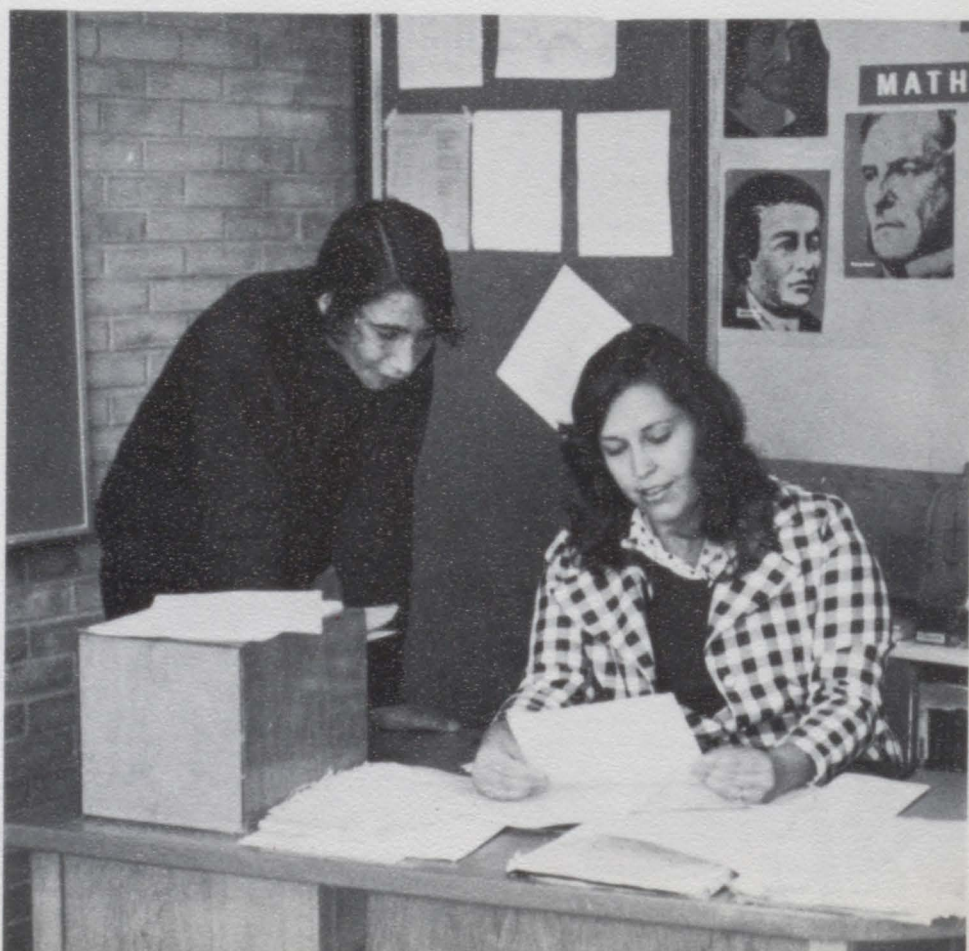

GIVEN: the excellent teachers, courses in Algebra, Geometry, Trig. and Calculus, books, rulers and other needed supplies.

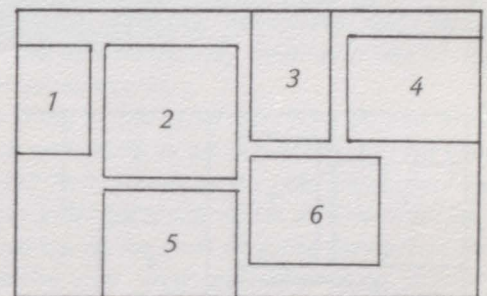

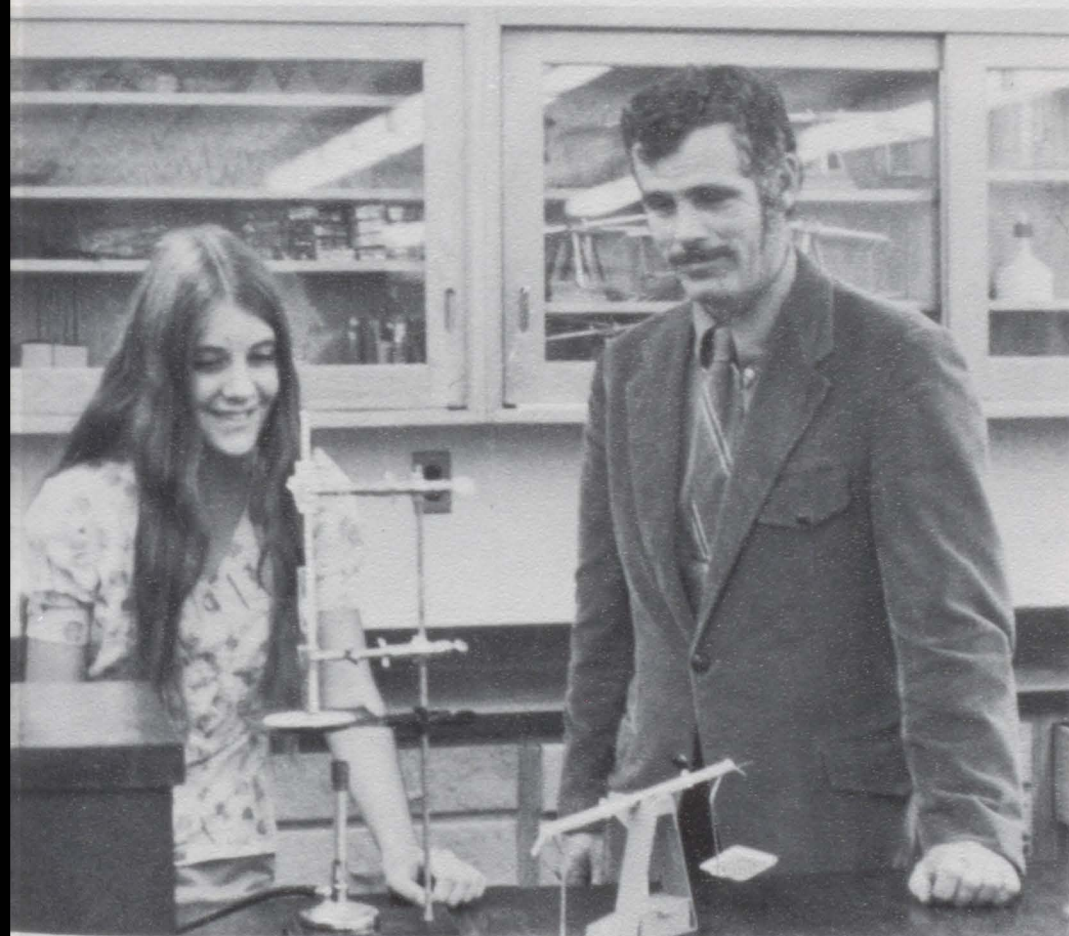

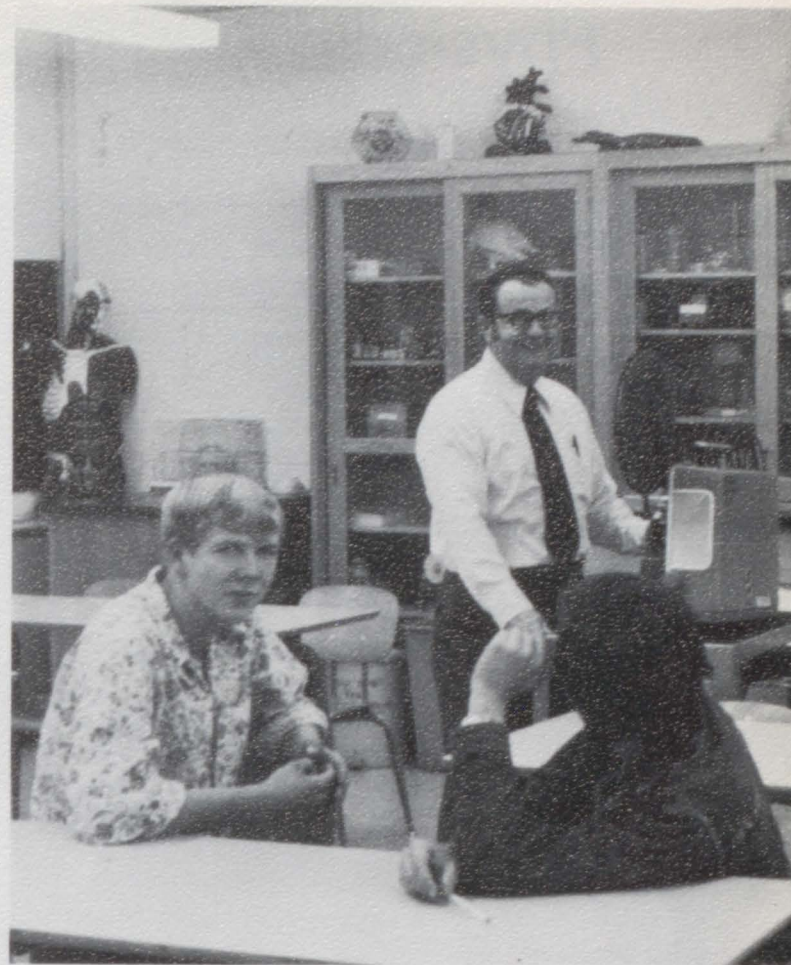

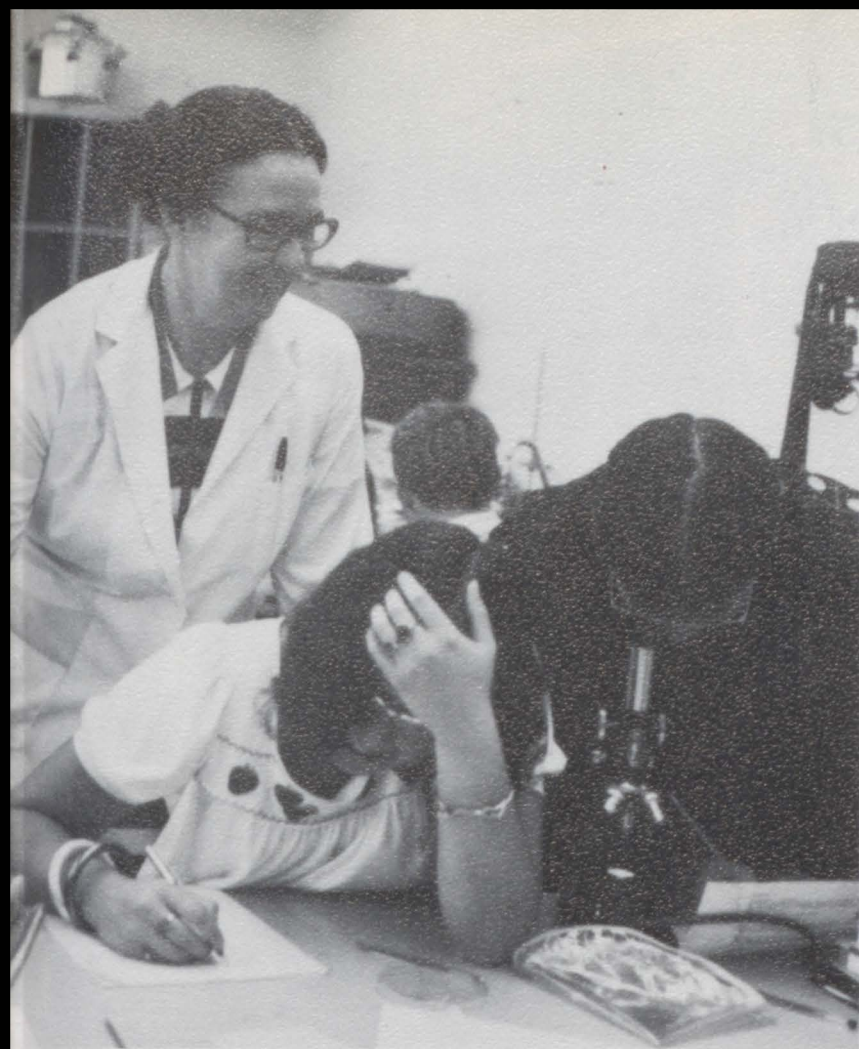

Statements Reasons

1. Given
2. access to knowledge teachers + courses
3. preparation for the future assorted classes
4. No. 2 + No. 3 = needed skills

Solution: The Math dept. is outstanding!

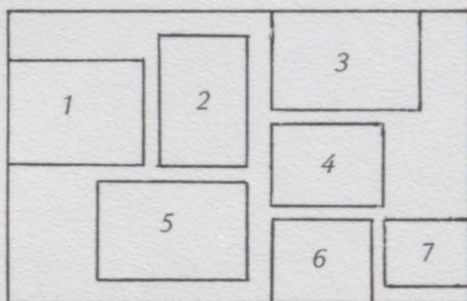

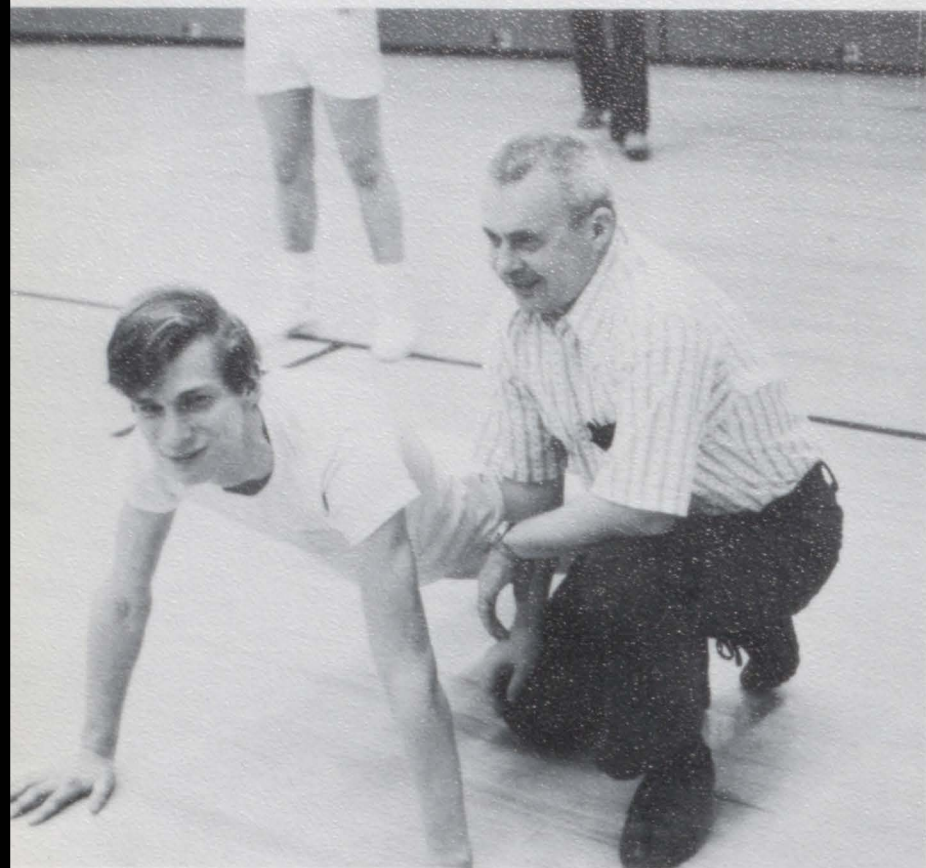

Beakers, bunsen burners, microscopes and scales are some of the many instruments used to perform the different experiments done in Science classes. Aside from experiments, you learn about plants, animals, anatomy and what makes us tick. If you have a weak stomach, you might not be able to take the gory dissections and the various types of strange smelling chemicals used in scientific research.

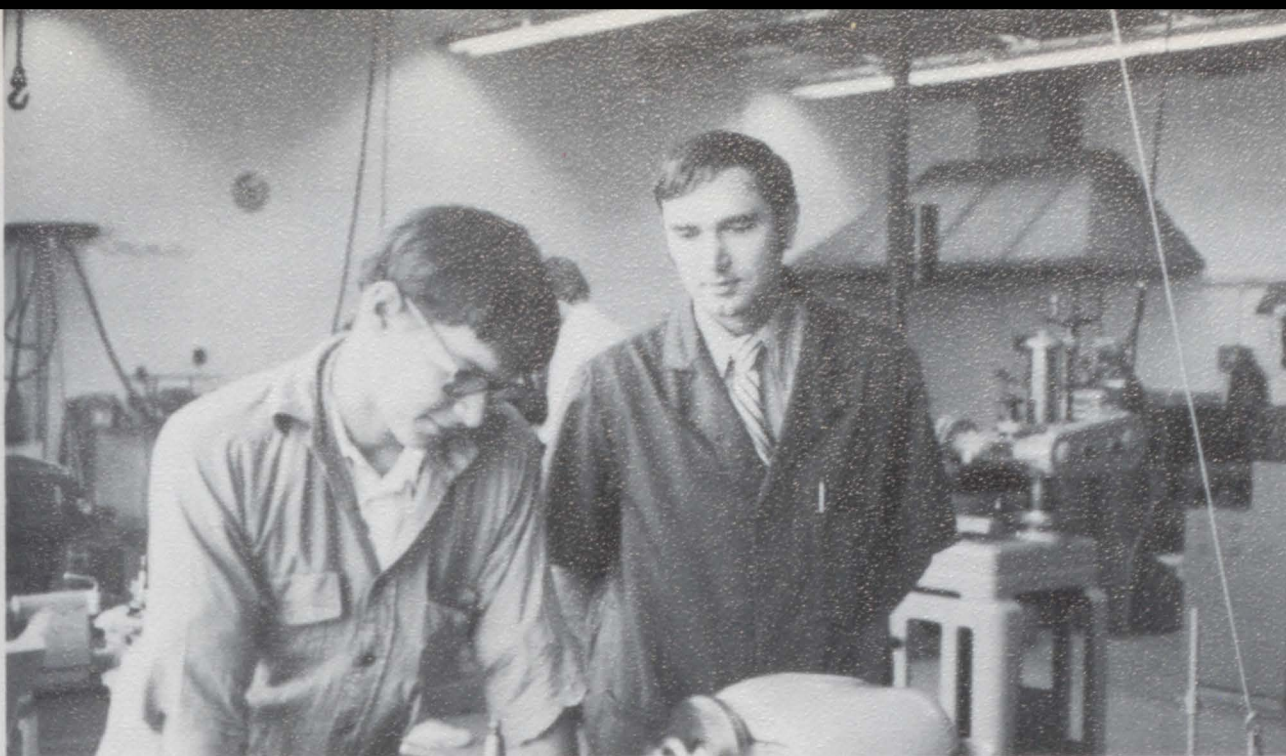

1. "Are you joking, I couldn't do that problem if I tried," says Ed Lozowski as he tries to get Mr. Gene Gunderson to postpone tomorrow's test.
2. "What do you mean, 'What's the answer to number 21?' Didn't you do your homework?" growls Mr. James Olde.
3. Mrs. Mary Harris suspiciously inquires what that squirmy, little amoeba could be doing that's so funny.
4. Mr. George Newcombe decides to take a break from the daily drag to see another good flick.
5. "Oh Dan, how could you make such an idiotic mistake?" asks Mrs. Penelope Burman, " $2 + 3$ isn't 7!"
6. "How could you get such a terrible odor when we're only working with water?" questions Mr. Wayne Ferriby to Charlene McNiff.

Physical, Mechanical Abilities Exercised

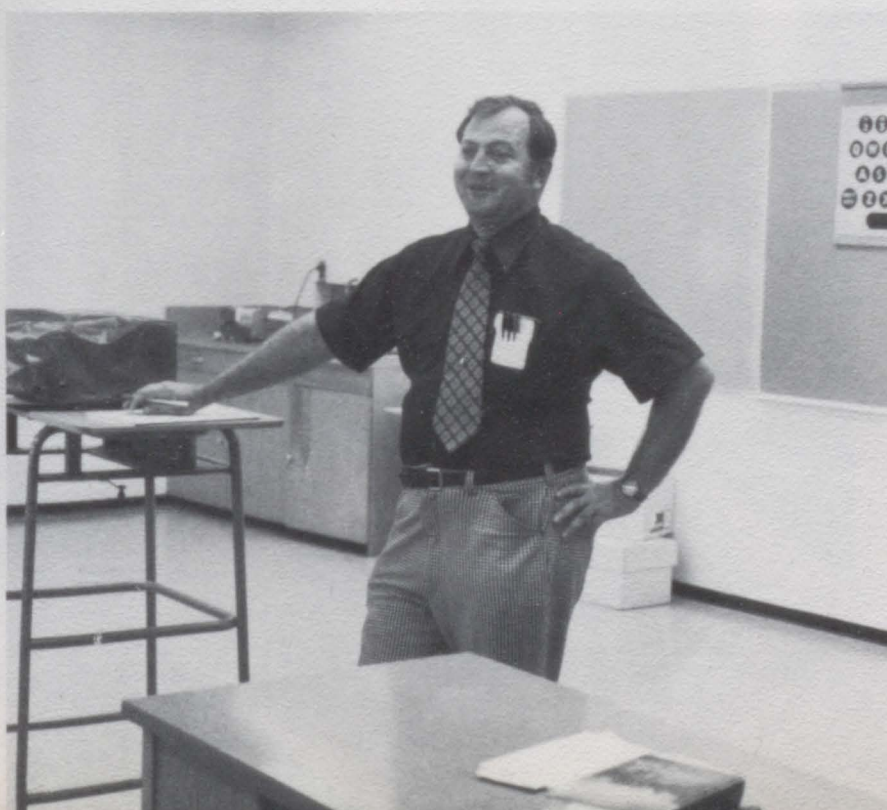

1. "1 ... 2 ... 3 ..." counts off Mr. Michael Craze as Don Malcolm wishes he'd look away long enough for him to cheat.
2. Unsuspecting of any horse-play Mr. Stanley Wiinikainen turns around as his students mimic him.
3. Mr. Kenneth Wingate silently watches over Dale Julian making sure everything is done perfectly.
4. "I said draw not scribble!" remarks Mr. Clayton Flemming to Bill Marrs.
5. Miss Martha Lownsbury gives Kathy Nugent a few tips on better dribbling.
6. "What do you mean, you're after my job?" questions Mr. Peter Findley to one of his Co-op students.
7. "Not again!" thinks Greg Reynolds as Mr. Fred Connors sends him back to his same project for the eighth time.

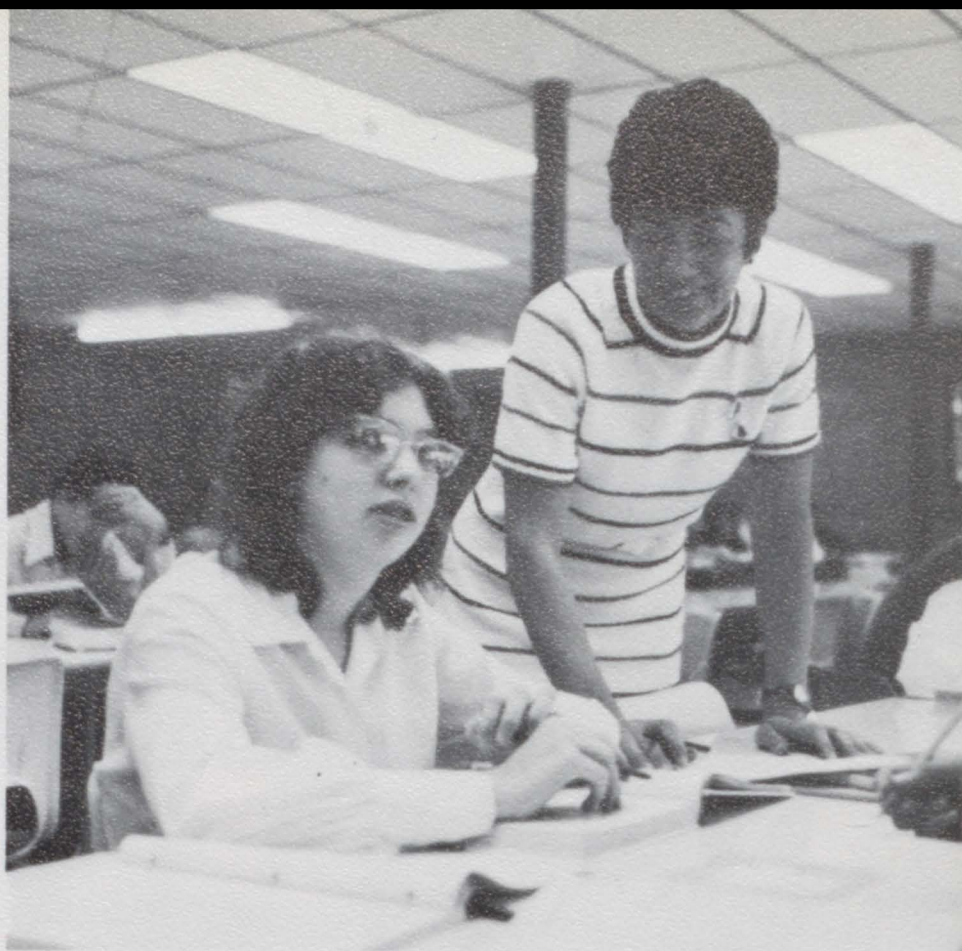

"Builds strong bodies twelve ways." No, this isn't a Wonder-bread advertisement, it's the story of gym classes here at M.C.H.S. They're outside in the fall and spring playing football, baseball and soccer, enjoying every last minute out on the muddy playing fields during a forty degree first hour. During the winter, after braving the cold winds and first few flakes of snow, it's inside for basketball and volleyball. Tournaments between the teams during class and at noon add more competition and team spirit. In between, bowling, gymnastics and square dancing (for the girls, of course) make gym one of the most popular classes around.

When you think of industrial arts, what do you think of? Shop in seventh grade, or a knick-knack shelf for your mother, maybe? Well, you're on the right track, but here at M.C.H.S. our industrial arts program goes much further. The courses start with the most unskilled hammerers and draftsmen you've ever seen and advance to students planning a career in plastics, drawing or furniture making. Whether for enjoyment, or to gain a working knowledge of a craft, industrial arts give the student a chance to put his ideas into a visible sign of workmanship.

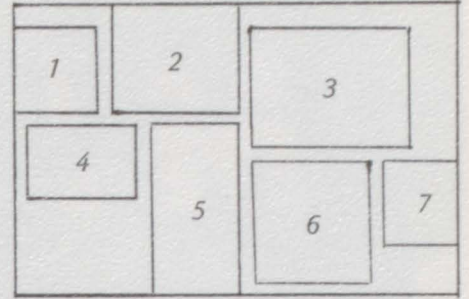

In order to keep things running smoothly, we have many cooperative, dependable and hard working people who lend their services. The proof to this is long lunch lines, clean halls and classrooms and a bunch of healthy kids. When we put them all together, we get a top-notch, efficiently run school.

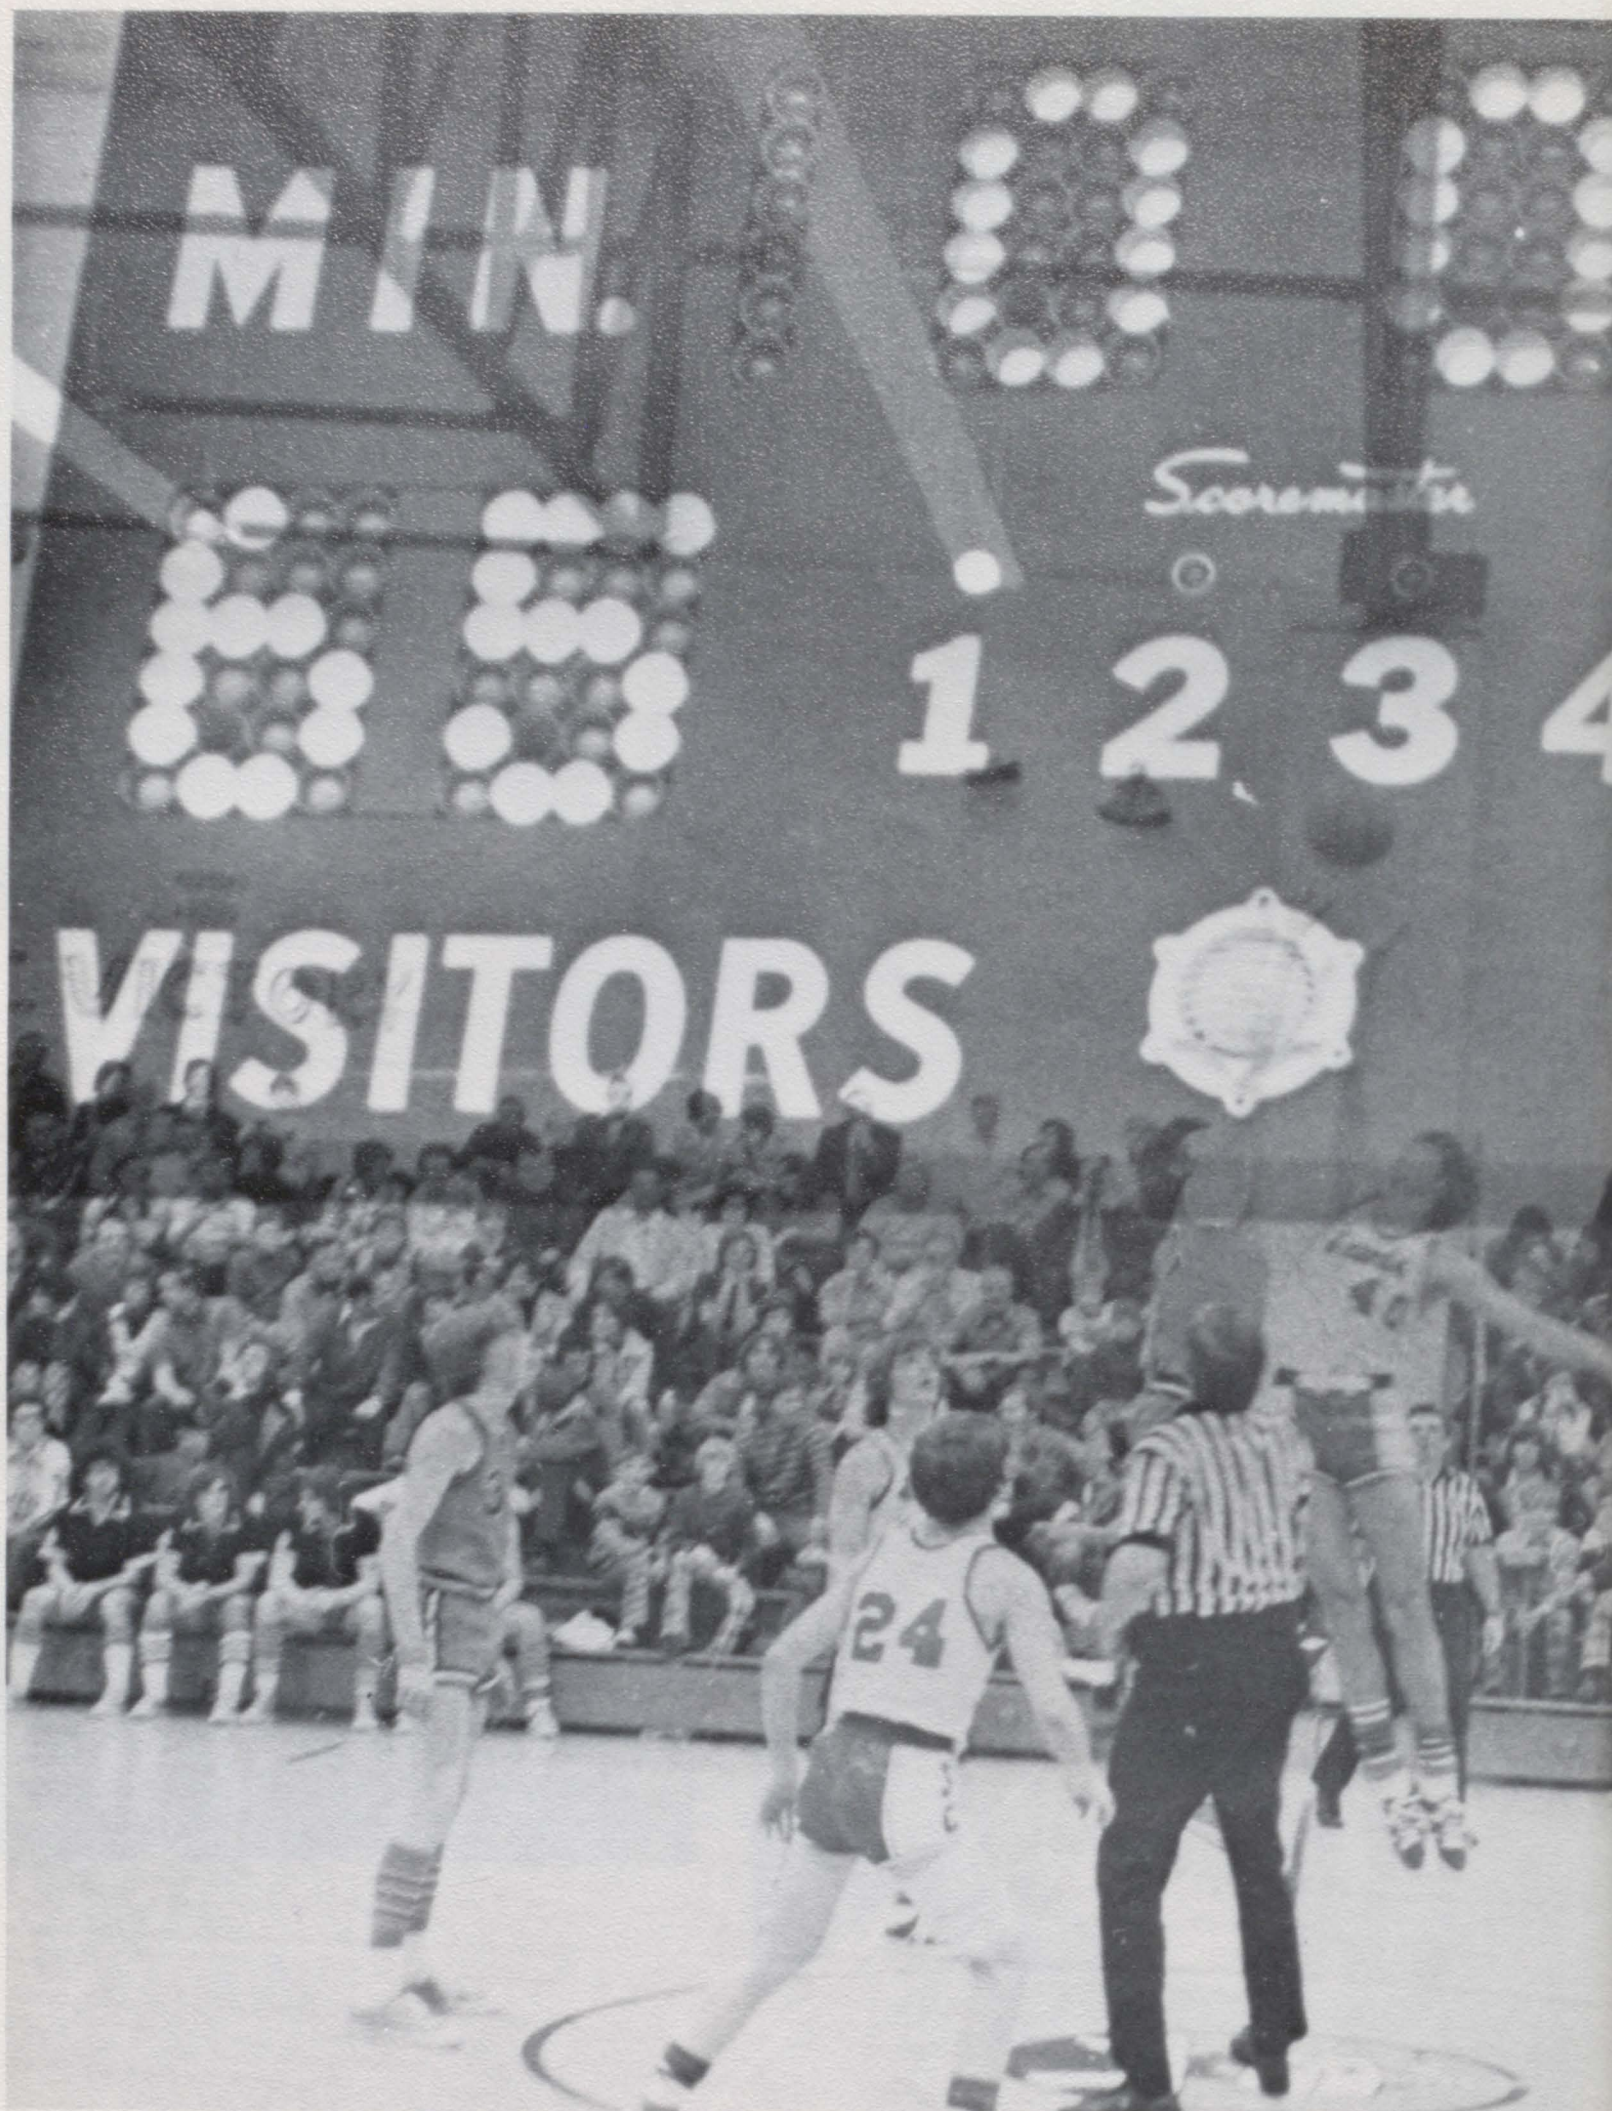

Roots That Hold Up Our Foundation

1. Mrs. Joyce Arnold cheerfully writes out a pass for Nancy Turbush, who absentmindedly left her Lit. and Comp. book in her locker.
2. Mrs. Donna Faucher can't help but laugh as Brenda Jillson asks if she can be excused to go fix her broken zipper.
3. Always right on schedule as they busily prepare our lunches are Mrs. Grace Nichols, Mrs. Mary Chitti, Mrs. Joyce Maas, and Mrs. Doris Blain.
4. According to the diagnosis of Mrs. Joyce Wiinikainen, Billie Sodders is just experiencing a little normal nervousness the day before semester exams.
5. A new addition to the MCHS staff, Mrs. Vandercock, is here a few hours of the day to teach Co-op.
6. "Comin' through!" shouts Mr. David Green and Mr. Lawrence Shackett as they prepare to clean the messy lunch tables.
7. Scrub a dub dub, three men and a lady in a tub: Mr. Leonard Beier, Mrs. Arlene Baker, Mr. Clifford Grabowski, and Mr. Leon Cowan help keep the school sparkling clean.

Football - Mud, Blood, Sweat and Tears

This year was a change. The change in this case was the arrival of Coach Jerry Warkentien and Assistant Coach Bill Ameel.

The Mariners came back with a 2 and 7 record which was better than the past six years at M.C.H.S. Their first few games were against the four best teams in the league. The Mariners put up terrific battles but in a losing effort.

Even though their record wasn't the greatest, there hasn't been as much spirit demonstrated by the players or the students in the last few seasons.

The team had a fine effort from all six seniors: Captain Scott Van Wormer as running back; Ed and Mark Blake, defensive backs; Jeff Bell as offensive right end and Larry Skotzke as a fine running back.

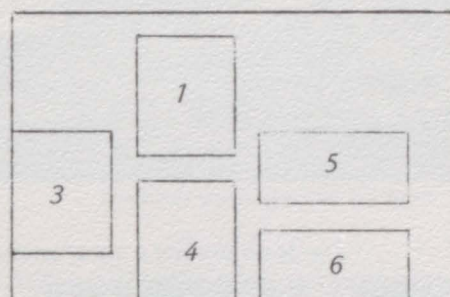

Two outstanding players made All State Honorable Mention. They were Jeff Bell and Jim Bradshaw. Bill Thompson, the team's fine quarterback, completed 57 out of 144 passes totaling 1,122 yards.

Trudell, Bill Andrews, Jerry Charboneau, Coach Warkentien. Third row Bob Moldenhauer, Jim Speer, Carl Aumen, Glenn Prange, Doug Robb, Fred Werden, Bill Thompson, Roger Kiersykowski.

1. "Alright already, we'll give you the first and ten, just don't sit on me", shouts a suffocating Yellow Jacket.
3. Scott VanWormer lunges for another Mariner tackle.
4. Loren Lowe wonders if he still has his head after an Anchor Bay tackle.
5. Mark Blake looks at Jim Speer and wonders if he's trying to dance with the guy or tackle him.
6. "Oops - I thought I had that one", yells Jeff Bell.

"The team showed a lot of enthusiasm and the desire to excel. The factor that held us from winning more games was our physical size. 'Each team we played was much bigger than we were', commented Coach Jerry Warkentien.

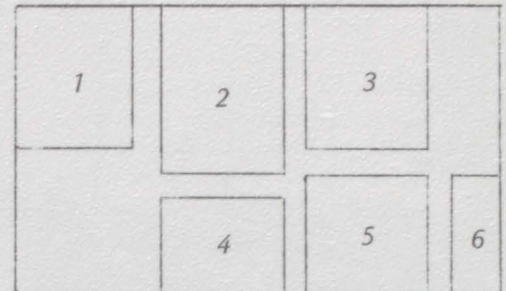

The Mariners were short in experience but big in spirit, all the players had the never-say-die attitude. The juniors and sophomores really helped the team out this year, with good running and blocking abilities that really helped the Mariners throughout the season.

With a win over Memphis and Port Huron Central and very close clashes with other schools, the team showed they were willing to fight for victories. Junior Jim Bradshaw was most valuable player. Five players made honorable mention for the St. Clair Area All League: Scot Britz, Jim Speer, Loren Lowe, Bill Thompson, and Jim Bradshaw.

Leaving Marine City are the seniors but returning are the eighteen juniors and sophomore letter winners. The mariners should prove to be stiff competition in future contest.

Mariners Triumph Over Memphis

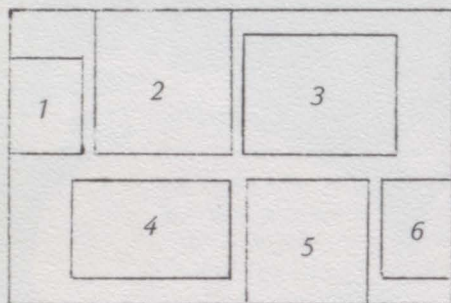

1. "The Three Muskateers", Zimmerman, Bradshaw, and Thompson, relax before going on the field.
2. Mark Blake makes it for another Mariner touchdown.
3. While Jim Speer tackles the Chippewa quarterback, Bill Trudell and Scot Britz come from behind to assist.
4. Bill Thompson runs around the end for a sizable gain.
5. Big Jeff Bell "stretches" for a high thrown pass.
6. On the sidelines, Coach Warkentien anxiously awaits another 1st down.

Pride, Determination Spark Improvement

1. First down Marine City via Bill Andrews.
2. Final instructions prove successful.
3. Big Lou smashes No. 72 and opens a giant hole.
4. Blasting through another strong season are Kevin Jillson, Jeff Britz, Bill Westerhof, Kevin Genshaw, Bob Wheeler, Bill Simons, Joe Kardasz, Coach Jim LaBuhn, Bill Klieman, Randy Zalewski, Jeff Buzzo, Louis Robelli, Randy Bradshaw, Wayne Melvin, John Basset, and Dan Heilman.
5. "Huddle up, and be sure to grab it next time!" screams Kevin Jillson, No. 61.
6. Offense explodes to take charge of scoring.

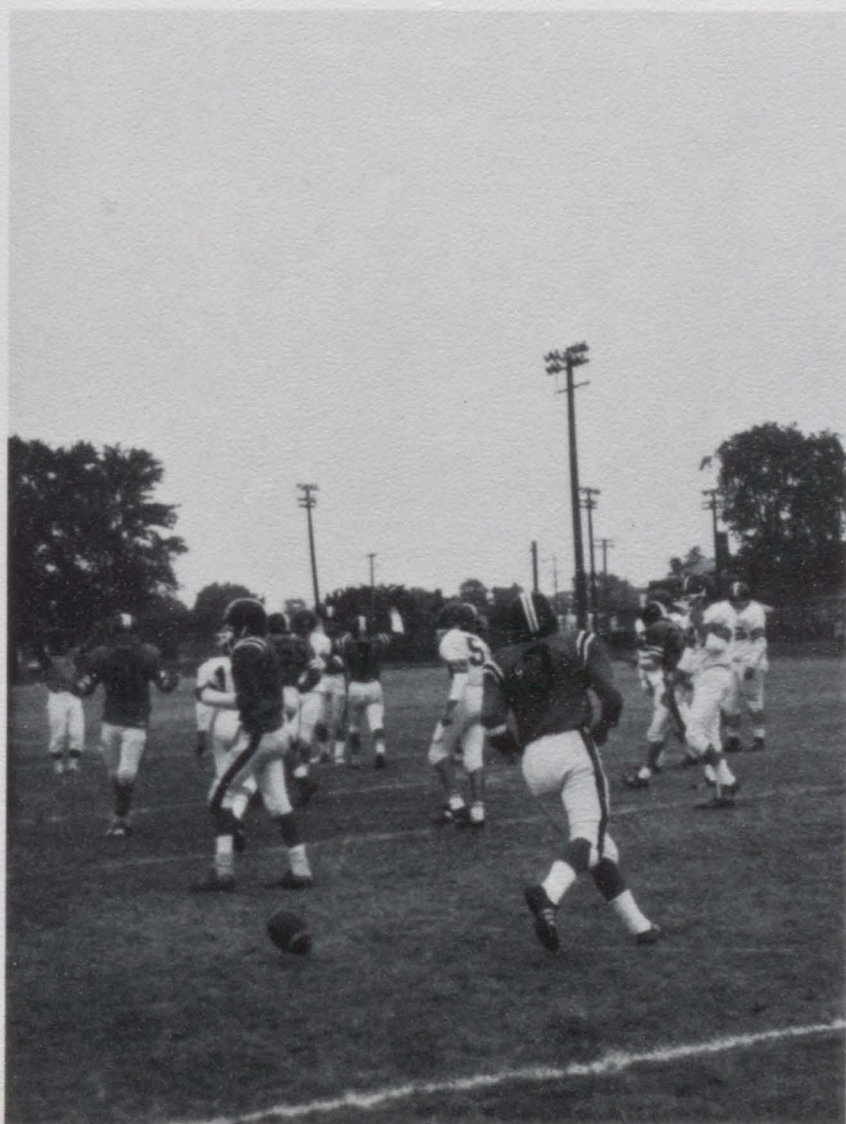

Beware competitors! The mighty Mariner machine, J.V. style, has ignited. This year's hard hitting squad gave the opponents stiff competition. In many games, outstanding effort and unending desire were the factors which moved them on to victory.

The season began, for many, one hot August afternoon. Lifting weights, running, and getting back into shape both physically and mentally, were the primary purposes of these early practices. After two weeks of working off summer vacation's fat, little pounds and inches wore away. Fundamentals and techniques developed into a strong offense and outstanding defense. Finally, perfection was achieved and in the very first game the weeks of training proved successful. Enthusiasm, high spirits, and pride lead the way to victory over Cros-Lex.

Selected for really putting their blood and guts on the line were Captains — John Kardasz, Jeff Britz, and Louis Robelli.

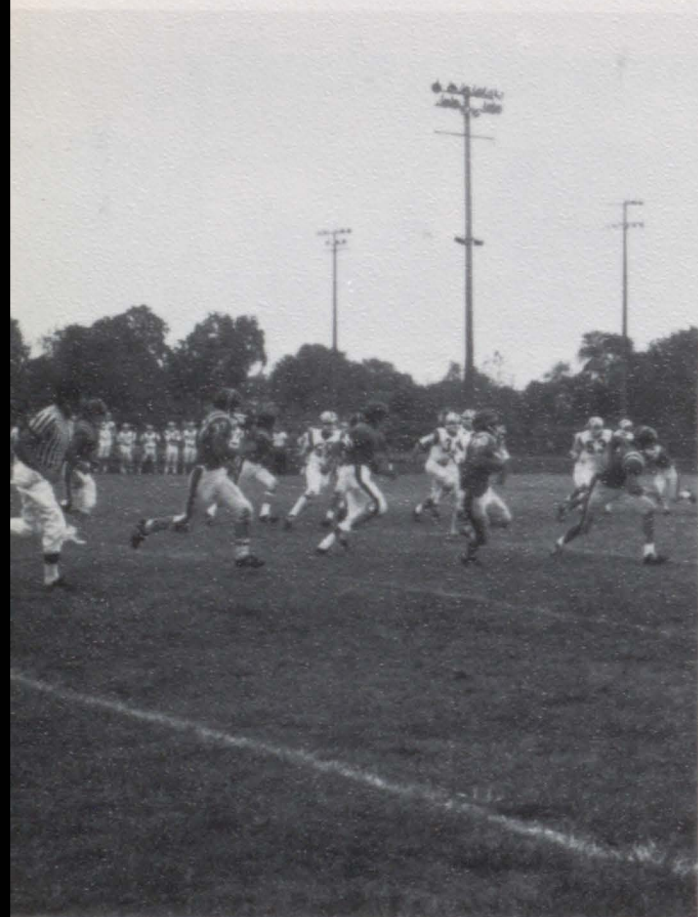

Although this years J.V. team was small, quality is more important than quantity. Performances as shown in the Algonac victory will be continued next year.

Frosh Improve Record for M.C.H.S.

The freshman team this year was a gang of "great guys." They worked together as a team maintaining good spirit and attitude. Their 4-2 record showed it, and their coaches, Mr. Andy Newlands and Mr. Jerry Bassett, knew it. Although these guys only played about six games, the experience they gained was good and will probably pull through for us at J.V. and Varsity level. Consistency is needed for victories and the frosh defense, the strong point of their games, was constant throughout the season. In their first year of football, they knew what they were doing, handled the ball well, and gave the school a new outlook toward the sport. With the assistance of their captains Bill Westerhof, Dan Smith, and Wayne Biscorner, the team stuck together to show 'em what a freshman team could really do.

1. "Smile" says Coach Newlands as the team is shown here before the big game.
2. Bill Westerhof is having a good time escaping two of the opposing team.
3. "Who's got the ball?" asks Chuck Ladensack.
4. All right you guys, this isn't band. You don't have to line up, explains referee Tom Bower.
5. Dan Walls encourages Chuck Ladensack to keep running as Chuck dumps two players.
6. Rex Jones and Mike Zobl have fun while their teammates are out on the field winning their 2nd game.

"Over the river and through the woods" doesn't mean Thanksgiving to the boys on Mr. James Olde's Cross Country team. It requires a lot of hard work and endurance. Many people don't realize that most of these kids run to school every morning during the season, besides practicing every night after school.

This group of guys put in many long, hard miles and have gained many victories for their efforts. Although they were not number one in the S.C.A.L. this year, they had only two losses compared to their five victories. This is a very good record and the team is proud.

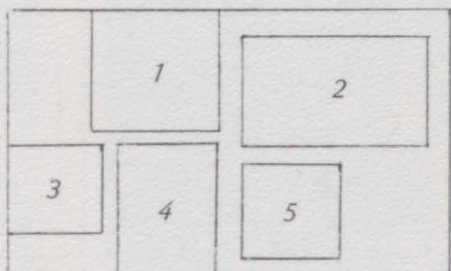

Mr. Olde should have a winning team again next year. They'll be up there threatening all the way for the No. 1 spot.

Milers Exhibit Muscle and Endurance.

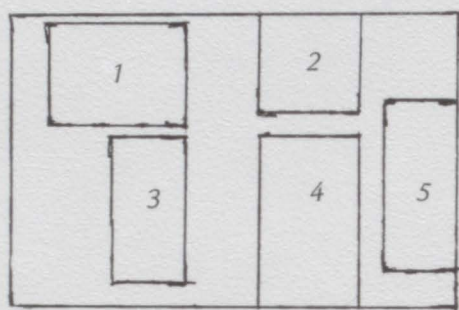

The Mighty Milers from left to right are: kneeling; Vince Reynolds, Tim Markel, Joel Bell and Bob Shattuck. Standing; Bill Shattuck, John Markel, Steve Johnson, Tom Benoit and Dick Markel.

1. Dick Markel, Bill Shattuck, Steve Johnson and Tom Benoit are off and running against Algonac.
2. Our own M.C. Cross Country team takes time out for a team picture pose.
3. Bob Shattuck hustles for a first place standing at the finish line.
4. Showing his endurance and speed, is John Markel who also made it to the State finals.
5. Finding himself dead tired after the race, Bob Shattuck thinks outloud, "I can't take this anymore!"

Self-Determination Keeps Runners in Shape

1. Mr. Olde gives the boys a pep talk before a very important meet.
2. "Hark, I see the angel of victory coming upon us," jokes Mr. Olde as he looks toward the sky.
3. The guys always have warm-ups before a run, team rules insist.
4. Tom Benoit always puts 100% into each race.
5. As you can tell by the look on Bruce Maloney's face, Cross Country can be fun, if you like to run ten miles every day.

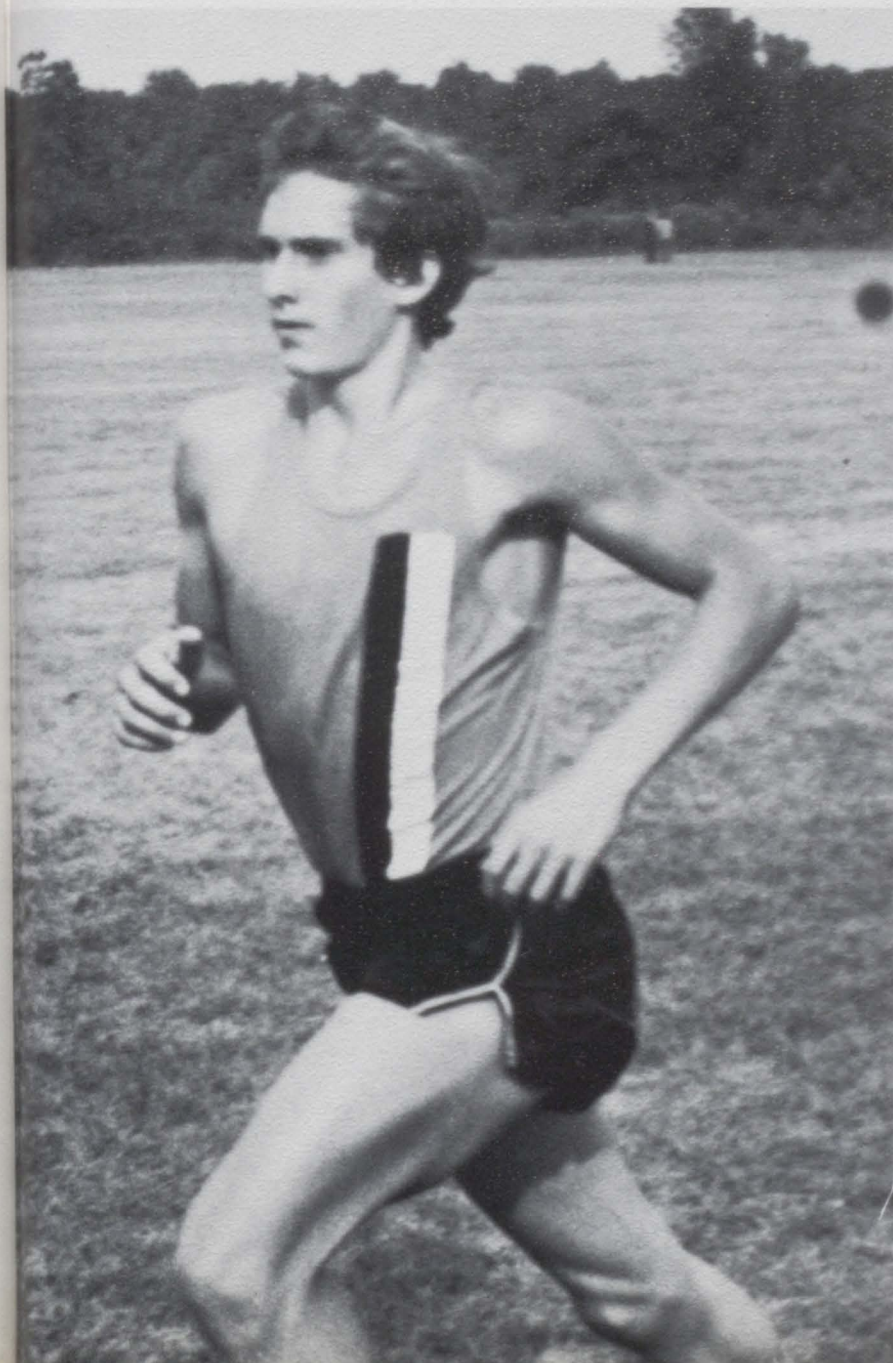

This year's Cross Country team was a bunch of good guys. They were always ready for a joke but were very serious about their meets.

The outstanding runner of the year was John Markel. John deserves a lot of credit for making it to the state finals and also for setting the course records at Port Huron Central and Chippewa Valley.

Everybody on the team was in good shape, including Coach Olde. Mr. Olde is a great coach who always seems to come up with a winning team.

"FORE" When a golfer yells this, everyone on the course should look out! Despite a noticeably low season last year, the golf team came very close to winning many of their lost meets.

One of the high-lights of this year's team was having a fine putter, Ed Lozowski as captain. Since he showed such leadership and reliability, Coach Gene Gunderson decided to name him captain again next year.

Another bright spot, was most valuable player Drew Flemming. Driving his way through, he helped the team out by getting more points than any other player. This was an important factor that helped the group of golfers out.

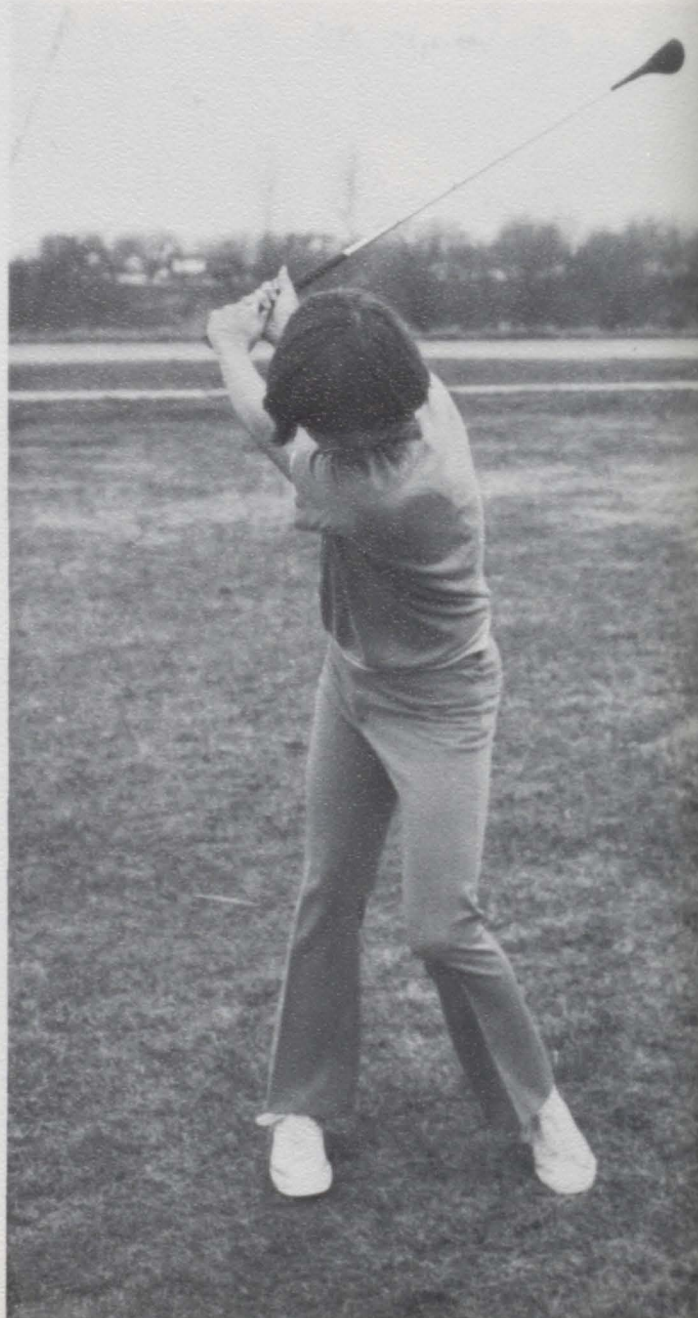

Below, Drew Flemming and Don Benoit know that form and concentration are the keys to playing a better game.

Last season's powerful putters were: Don Benoit, David W. Smith, Coach Gene Gunderson, Ed Lozowski, and Drew Flemming. Letter winner Al MacDonald absent for picture.

Basketball: A Game of Fastbreaks and Heartbreaks

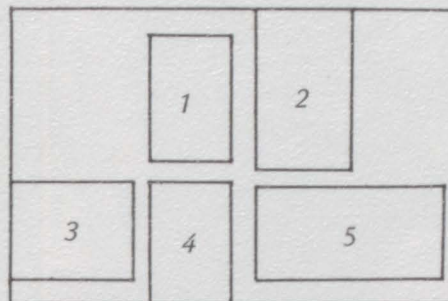

With only a few returning lettermen from last year, the Mariners showed how terrific they really were.

At the beginning of the year the cagers took a little while to get started, but after a lot of hard work, practice, and more games, they went on to win without stalling.

During the Christmas vacation in Port Huron, the Mariners won the tournament by defeating St. Clair, and two class A teams, P.H.N. and Port Huron High. This inspired them, and after the tournament they went on to win bigger and better games. With a big win over 1st place Cros-Lex, the Mariners began to really move. After a close loss to St. Clair, they went on to defeat Chippewa and Richmond without too much effort. This year's team was even good enough to be rated No. 10 in the Metro East standings featured in the Detroit News.

The players never gave up in a game whether we won or lost and their efforts were appreciated by many loyal fans who went as far as Willow Run to cheer them on.

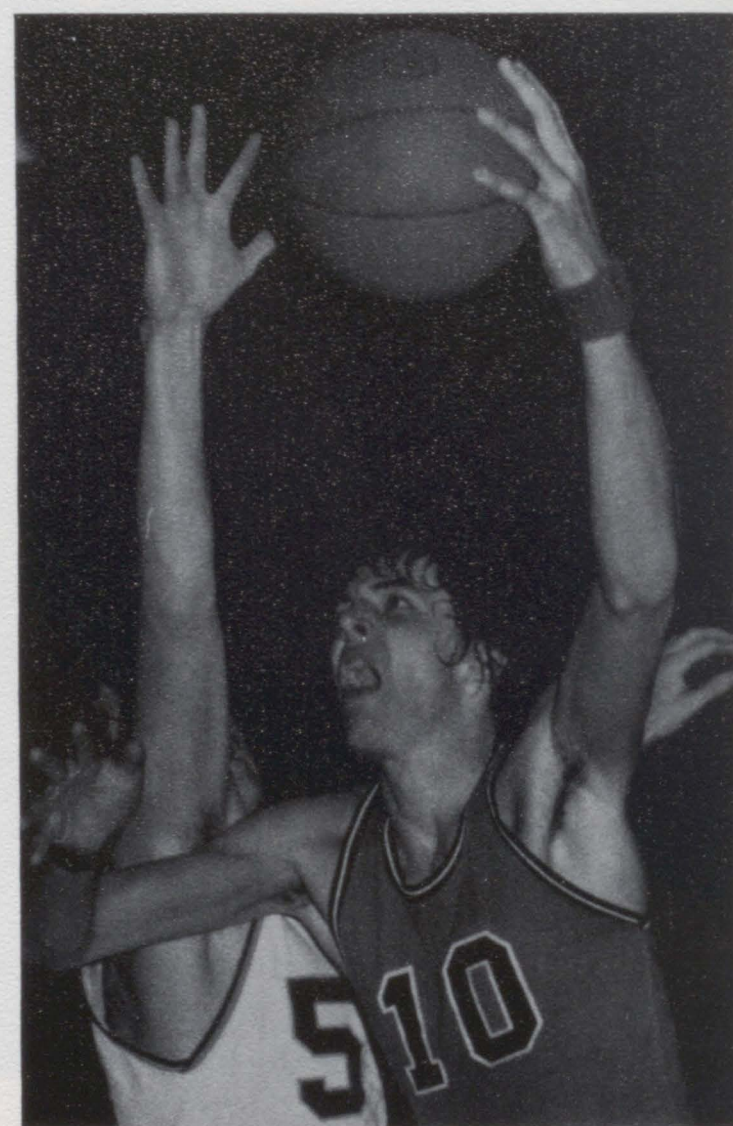

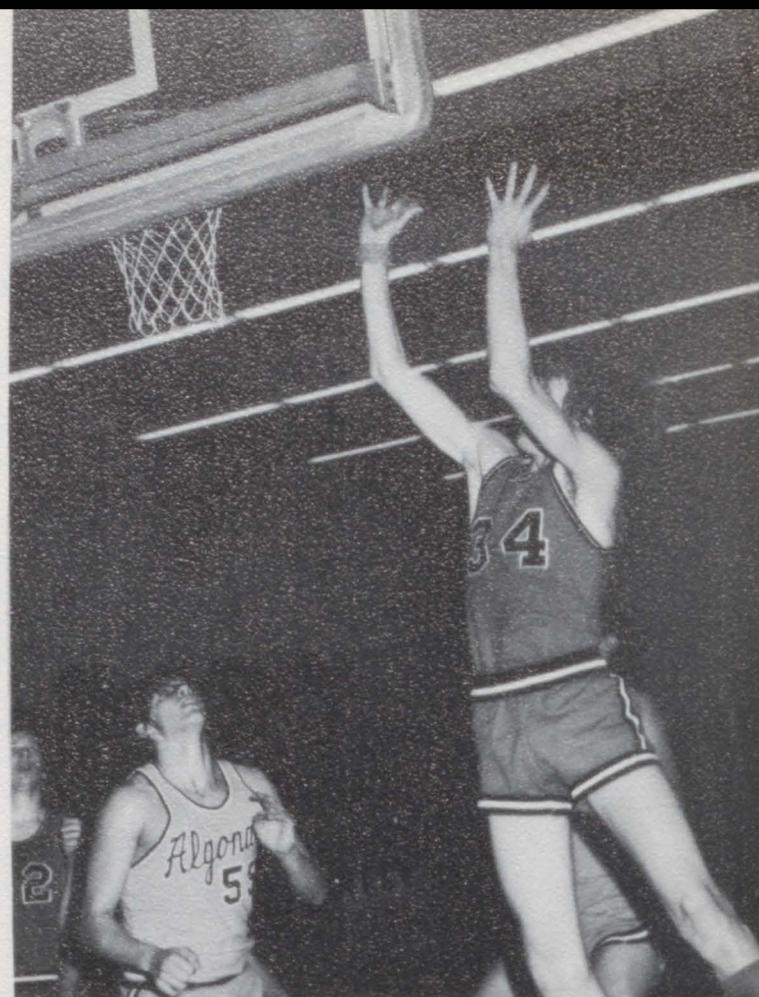

1. Junior Big Man, Jim Bradshaw, drives an Algonac player in for two more points.
2. "Please go in," is the look on Rob Carpenter's face, as he stuns Marysville with another basket.
3. Defense as shown by the doubleteaming of Bradshaw and Currier, was a key factor in Mariner victories this year.
4. Jeff Bell was a lot of help to this year's team, with his fancy layups and great drives.

The grade A cagers were: Tom Benoit, statician John Benedict, Steve Johnson, Rocky Moody, Bill Shattuck, Roger Kierszykowski, Doug Robb, Bill

Thompson, Jeff Bell, Scott Currier, Jim Bradshaw, Coach Gene Gunderson, and Rich Severson.

"When you're hot — you're hot!" This familiar phrase could have been described about the fiery varsity cagers battling for the No. 1 spot.

The success of the season started off with a non-league contest against Richmond. The Mariners clearly instructed the Devils to go back where they came from when we blitzed them 63-32.

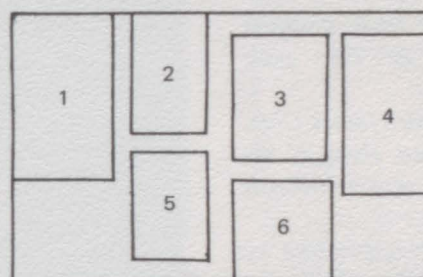

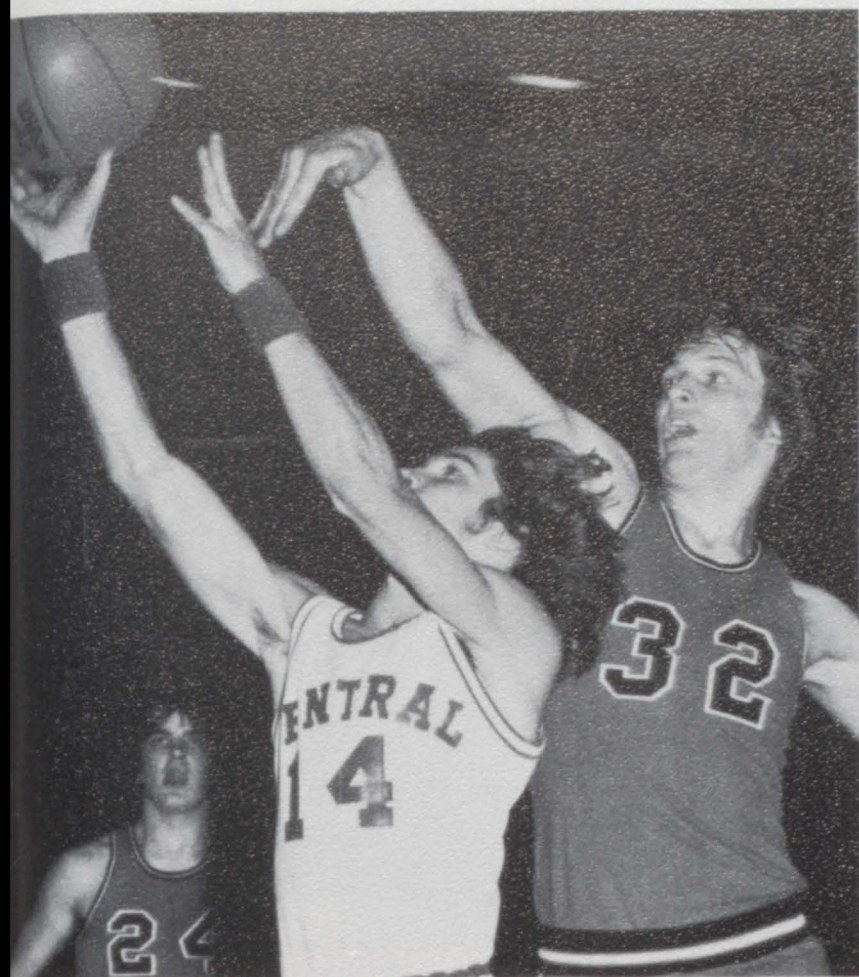

In the next few games the guys tail-spinned and went down with 2 losses, but they soon recovered with 9 total wins.

Center and forward Jim Bradshaw was exploding and averaging 23 points a game and 17 rebounds. The rest of the team followed right behind him, eagerly helping him out.

The "thrill-seeking" game of the season was played at Cros-Lex with a standing room only crowd. The winner of this game determined who the league champs would be. Marine City fell during the 3rd and 4th quarters, and lost the game 61-41.

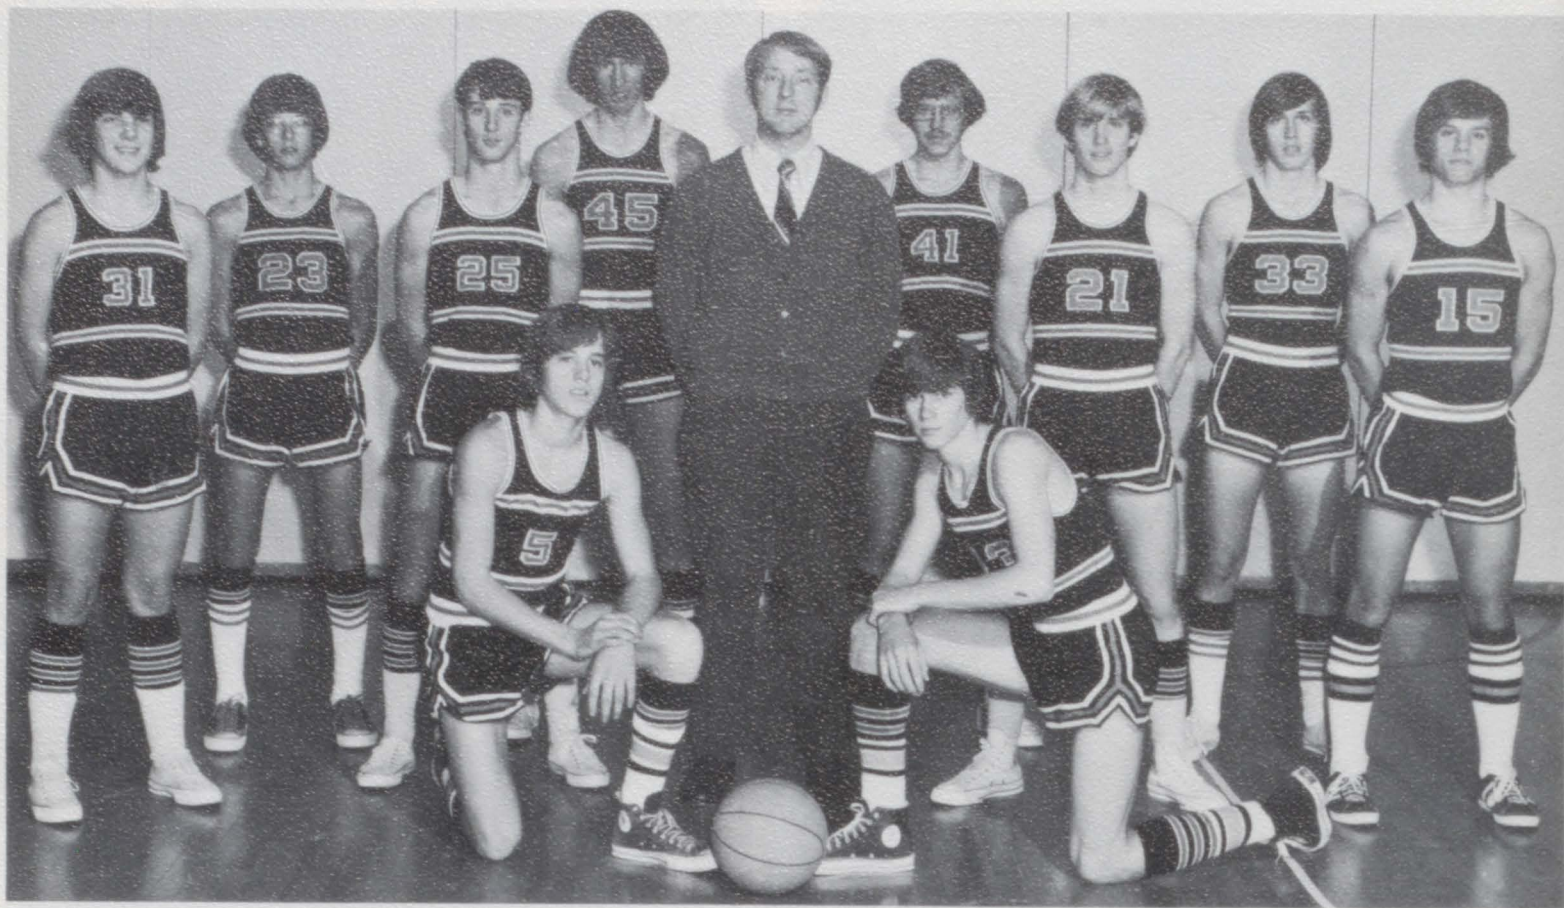

The cagers luck went uphill in the district tournaments, by defeating Algonac and Richmond. Once again we had to fight hard against Cros-Lex rivals for the championship and the opportunity to travel to the regionals. Down-hill scoring was our main drawback and the Pioneers rose victorious.

All-in-all, we captured a 15-8 record and tied with St. Clair for 2nd place in the league standings. The team showed vast improvement from previous years, and the outlook for next year is another winning season.

1. "Well don't you--step on my orange suede shoes," sings Tom Benoit to an aggressive Cros-Lex rival.
2. Tension mounts as Rob Carpenter leaps to raise the score two notches.
3. Jim Bradshaw's defensive action proves that "Mariner Power" isn't just a sideline cheer.
5. "WeeeeeeeeO!" exclaims Jeff Bell, "have the prices of easy victories ever gone up!".
6. Scott Currier looks earnestly for an open break in offensive action.

J.V. Show Promise, Endure Rough Season

Looking forward to varsity competition, the reserves surround Coach James Olde. The talented junior varsity players are Drew Flemming, Don Benoit, John Kardasz, Russell Schutt, Vince Reynolds, Joe Kardasz, Jim Biewer, and Jeff Britz. Kneeling: Tony Currier, and Randy Bradshaw.

In the rise of full court presses, man to man guarding, and snuffing shots, the name of the game is still sinking baskets. A solid offense, defense, and good floor shooting kept the J.V. squad at an even pace throughout the entire season.

Under the coaching of Mr. James Olde, the junior cagers progressed through the season with even scoring and consistent wins.

Hustle and height were characterized by guard Randy Bradshaw, and center Russell Schutt. Their skills answer the question why they were asked to play as reserves in the varsity Christmas tournaments. Although these two were great necessities to the team, there were other players such as the Currier-Kardasz trio who demonstrated fine shooting ability.

Looking back on the season one can't help but foresee the potential for a future league championship at M.C.H.S.

2. "Super-sub" Jim Blewer goes up for two against an Algonac defender.
3. Taking a firm hold, Russell Schutt looks for a break in the defensive action.
4. Put your right hand up, put your left foot out, you do the hokey pokey and you turn yourself about, that's how you play the game?
5. Team play-maker Randy Bradshaw drives the lane and shows some of his fancy four-handed dribbling.

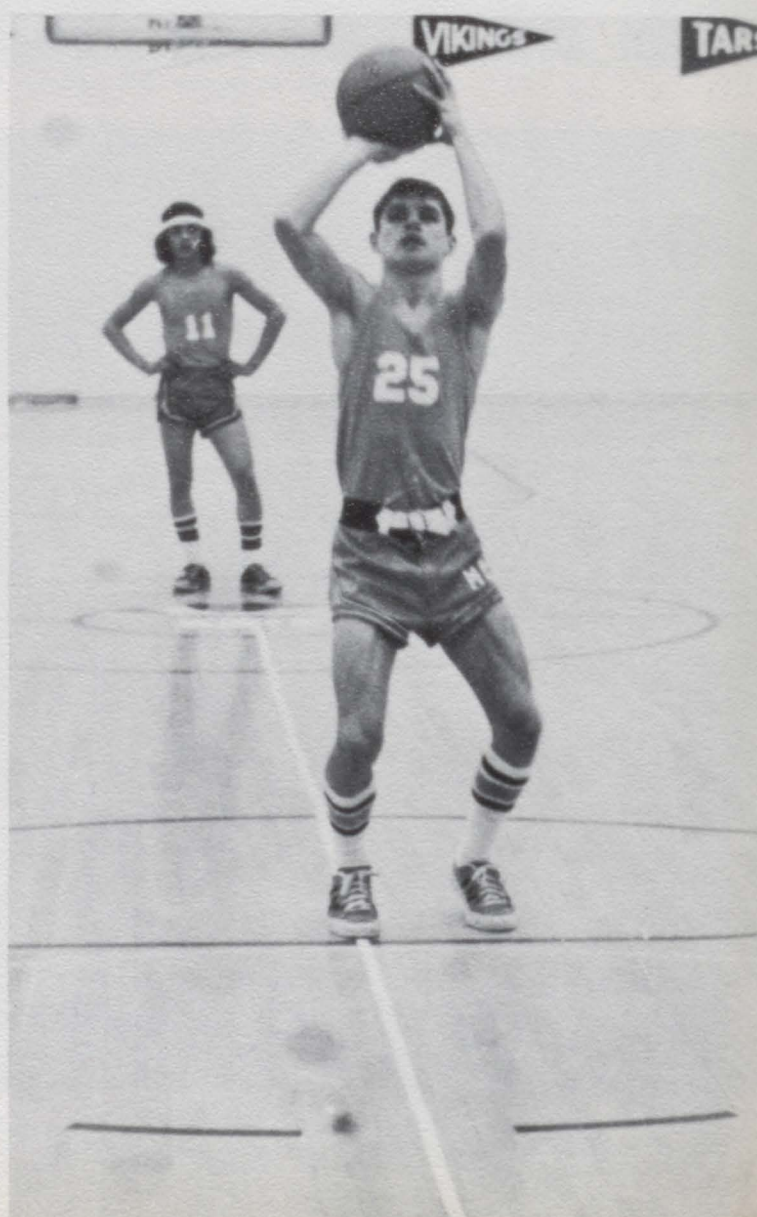

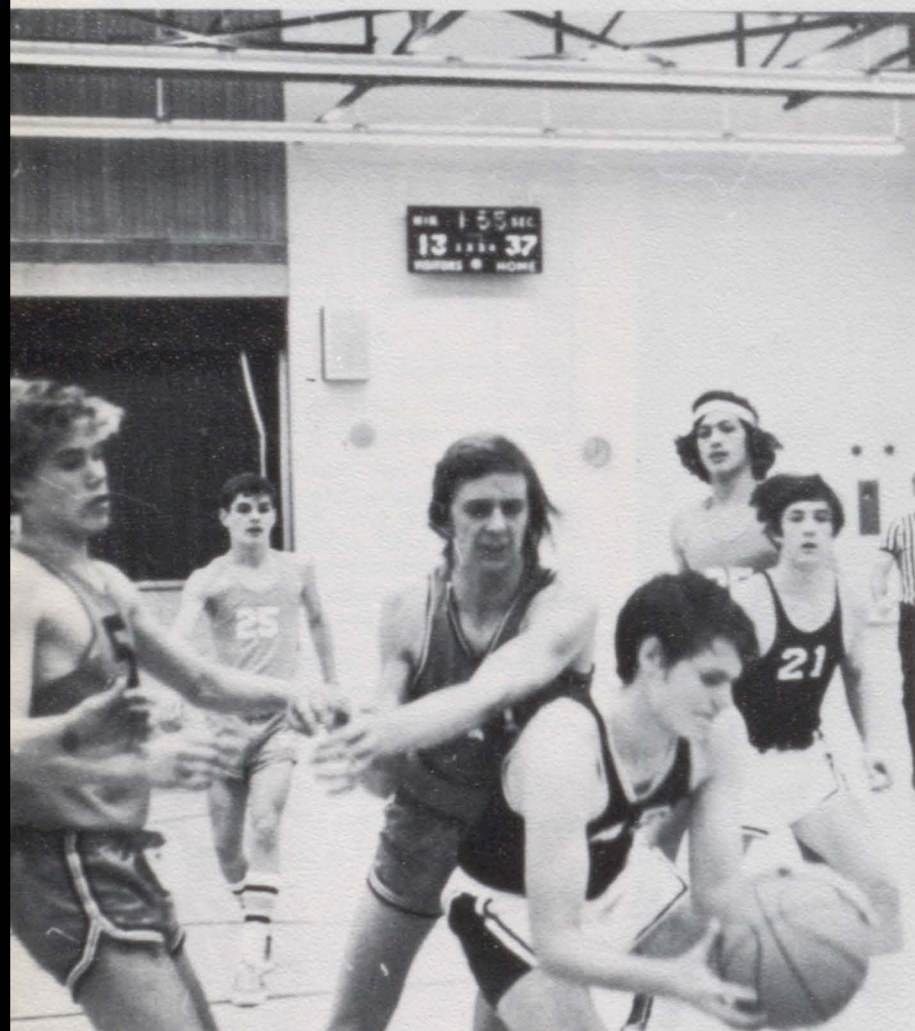

This year's freshmen basketball team showed much talent and a lot of promise for Coach Gene Gunderson in future years. The entire team had the drive to win and the hustle to make it happen.

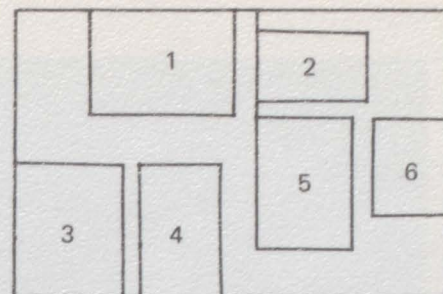

Coach Craze says their key to success was an excellent man to man defense and a balanced scoring attack by everyone on the floor. Another key factor in the frosh victories was the height of Dan Walls and Daryl Wilde the team's leading rebounders.

Instead of having five people good enough for the starting lineup, Mr. Craze was lucky enough to have seven: Rick Charboneau, Chuck Ladensack, Bob McCollister, Ron Ramirez, Dan Walls, Bill Westerhof, and Daryl Wilde. The rest of the bench was also a great support for the team.

Mariner Frosh Capture S.C.A.L. Crown

1. "What's up Doc?" says a Mariner enemy as Ron Ramirez goes in for two.
2. Waiting for a jump ball seems to take forever when you want the game to start.
3. It's a fight to the finish to get the ball away from the frosh team this year.
4. "Please go in," thinks Bill Westerhof as he sets up for a free throw.
5. Team Picture
6. "Where is everybody!" Rex Jones just can't seem to find anybody open.

Scoring points and pinning opponents are: Dennis Shelton, Dave Micoff, Roger Strong, Jim Axmaker, Wayne Shagena, Shawn Smith, Kelly Smith, Bill Fielhauer, Jim Baker, Andy Rodgers, Chris McKensie, Bill Marrs, Dave Levenduski, Chester Rudolph, Mike Decker, Joe Agosta, Dwaine Polio, Larry David. Kneeling: Jim Speer, Dick Markel. Standing: Bill Dumars, Coach Archer.

This year wrestling emerged as a competitor with basketball to win the hearts of winter sports fans. Backed by parents, faculty members, and interested students, the grapplers gave all the fight, spirit, and knowledge that would push the team up to the top.

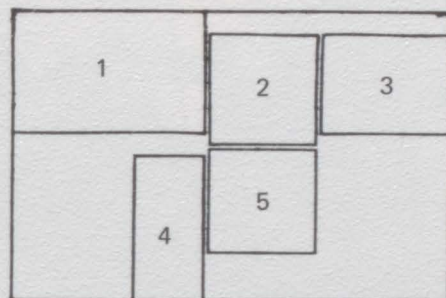

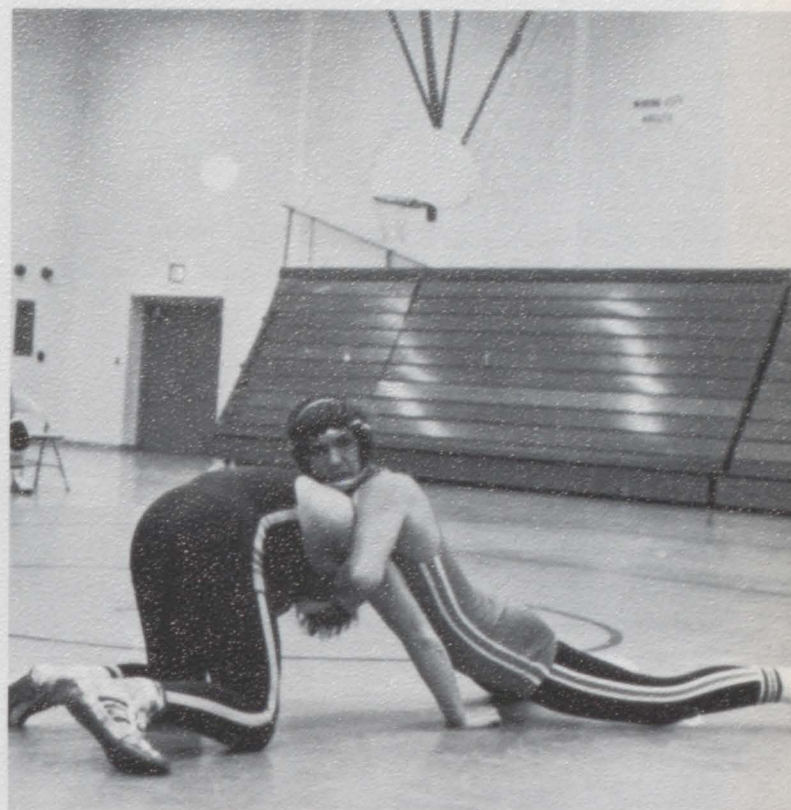

The 73-74 team, coached by Mr. Walker Archer, displayed a successful blend of youth and experience.

Two of the team's best varsity matmen, Jim Speer and Dick Markel were main contributors toward the success of the season. Dick's best performance was against St. Clairs' Jim Boden. Dick scored his points and won, beating the best wrestler in that weight class in the S.C.A.L. Jim also demonstrated his skills by pinning and winning numerous matches.

Other returning lettermen were Denny Shelton, Larry David, and Dave Micoff. Their desire to win instilled other J.V. wrestlers to "never give in." Coach Archer began to build a solid nucleus with these men. Swift movement, grueling practices and the knowledge of wrestling holds, brought the team its rewarding victories.

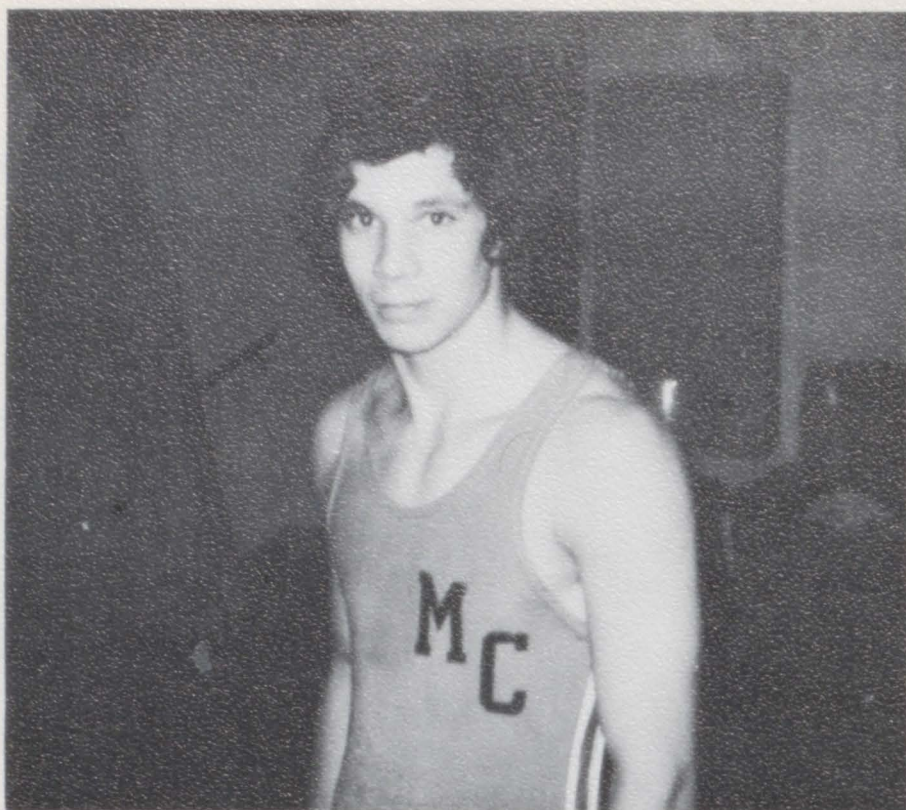

Go, Fight, Pin!

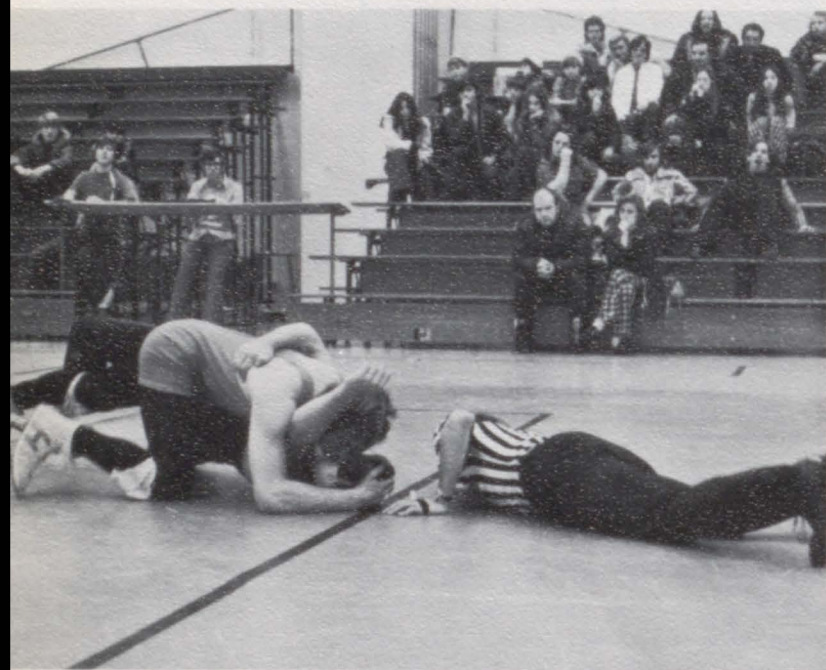

2. Dwaine Polio crushes and puts the hurt to a helpless opponent.
3. Dave Micoff struggles for position to take down his opponent.
4. The referee declares Dave Micoff and his opposing grappler a tie match with the score 2-2.
5. Coach Archer gives Bill Marrs added support after losing a match, and reassures him that "we'll get 'em next time."

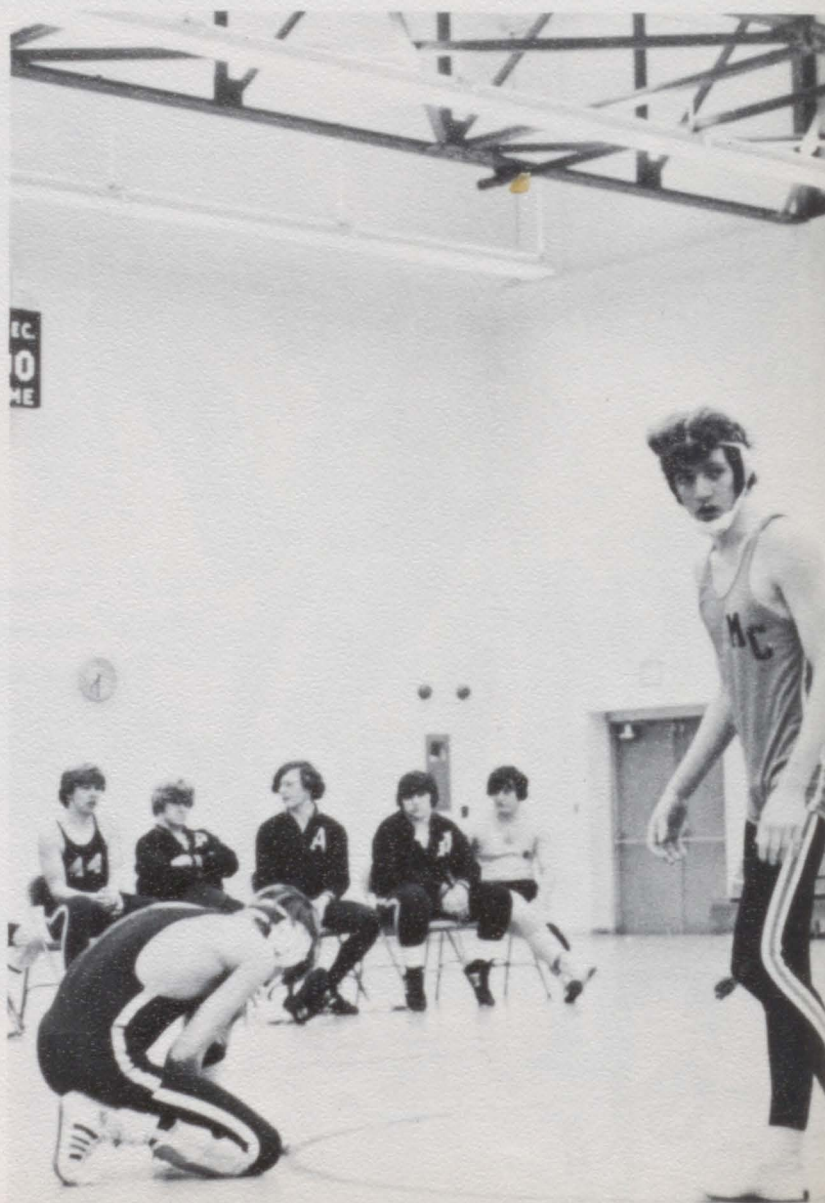

Grapplers Pin Individual Honors

This year's wrestlers showed a lot of aggression and improved immensely as the season progressed. Top left, Dick Markel M.C.'s top wrestler, went as far as the regional tournaments to grapple in top-notch perfection. The varsity matmen, top right, line up to congratulate a victorious teammate. Above, Tom Schweihofer tries desperately to drive his rival for a pin. Bruce Maloney, right, rechecks the remaining time before going down into starting position.

LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

* Non-League Games

1. Demonstrating his hurdling abilities is Jim Speer, clearing the hurdle with accurate precision.
2. Truckin on down the track with grit and determination is Tim Shackett.
3. Whoops! Mark Blake flaps over the high jump bar in order to maybe fly a few feet further.
4. At an almost airborne position Roger Kierszykowski makes sure he keeps his balance as not to fall backwards and lose yardage.
5. Bill Thompson has a look of exhaustion on his face as he finishes his leg in the mile relay.
6. Skill and speed put Ed Blake and Loren Lowe into the first and second place standings.

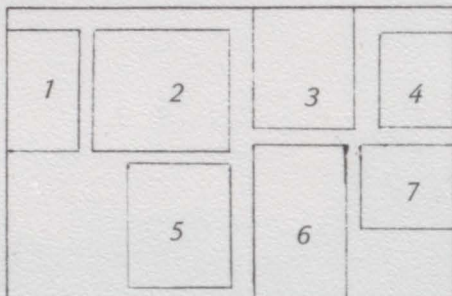

Formula for having a winning Track team: Many hard, aggressive players, long hours of practice, and good individual, as well as team performances. These ingredients helped form a highly successful team. Coach James Olde was very satisfied with the respectable 8-5 record. "This year our high jump and pole vault relay teams were very good and Bill Thompson was one of the outstanding milers in the area," commented Coach Olde. The team really leaped into the Marine City Athletic book smashing previously set records and receiving numerous trophies and ribbons. Ed Blake, team captain, scored consistently for his high and low hurdling performances. The most valuable player was Loren Lowe, who "socked it to" the opposing team with his running relay abilities. New enthusiasm and teamwork helped build this years fine record, Coach Olde and his returning men are ready to repeat their luck next season.

6. Setting his sights for the satellites Tom Watson prepares to launch fireball number three.
7. Spider Charboneau pulls a powerpitch out of his ear.

Early spring marks the beginning of stiff running drills and tiring calisthenics needed for winning games in the baseball season. Equipment is hauled out; bats, balls, and gloves, in preparation for training season. The basic fundamentals: sliding, pitching, catching, and batting are reviewed and improved in the gym until better weather will allow outdoor practices.

Mark Galvin, as a hard-hitting sophomore, led the team with a .300 batting average. Brilliant pitching and catching techniques were demonstrated by Jerry Charboneau and Tom Watson. The "73" varsity team "wound up" with a good season record winning 8 games and 5 of them by only 1 run. This year should bring some added freshmen reinforcements to help the team cross home plate into better league standings.

The tennis team this year had a hard time "getting it together," but with a lot of hard practice and enthusiasm they really started moving.

For the first time in tennis at M.C., there were girls on the team. They really tried and practiced hard. The girls that helped the team were: Debbie Kammer, Penny Snider, Sharon Follebout and Linda Rudolph.

This year's team captain was Scot Britz and most valuable player was Joe Burns. Both Scot and Joe were outstanding players.

Joe was invited to play in the Bartow Open in Bartow, Florida. He was up against five players. He beat all of them but he lost to the sixth person. Joe took twenty-first in the meet.

Tennis - Swingingest Sport Around

Blasting their way over the net were: standing, Debbie Kammer, Penny Snider, Sharon Follebout, Linda Rudolph, Wayne Shagena, Don Benoit,

The girl's varsity basketball team gained a little respect and a lot of experience this year. Describing them Coach Martha Lownsbury commented that the team was one of the most aggressive she had ever coached.

There was no skipping or coming late to practice for these girls. Not only would they get in trouble with the coach, but some of their own teammates could be pretty rough. Practice was always a hard and fast moving session. While passing the gym you could hear Coach Lownsbury yell such things as, "Alright let's move!", "Pass that ball!", or "Bring it down and shoot!" Although the girls were tired afterwards, they were also proud when a hard fought game was won. Thinking that they contributed to the team effort seemed to overshadow the pain of aching muscles and bruises.

More and more students and parents became interested in what the girls were doing this year. Even a few of the varsity guys showed up at the games. Although they may have tried to hide the real reason for coming, everyone knew that they were just down right interested.

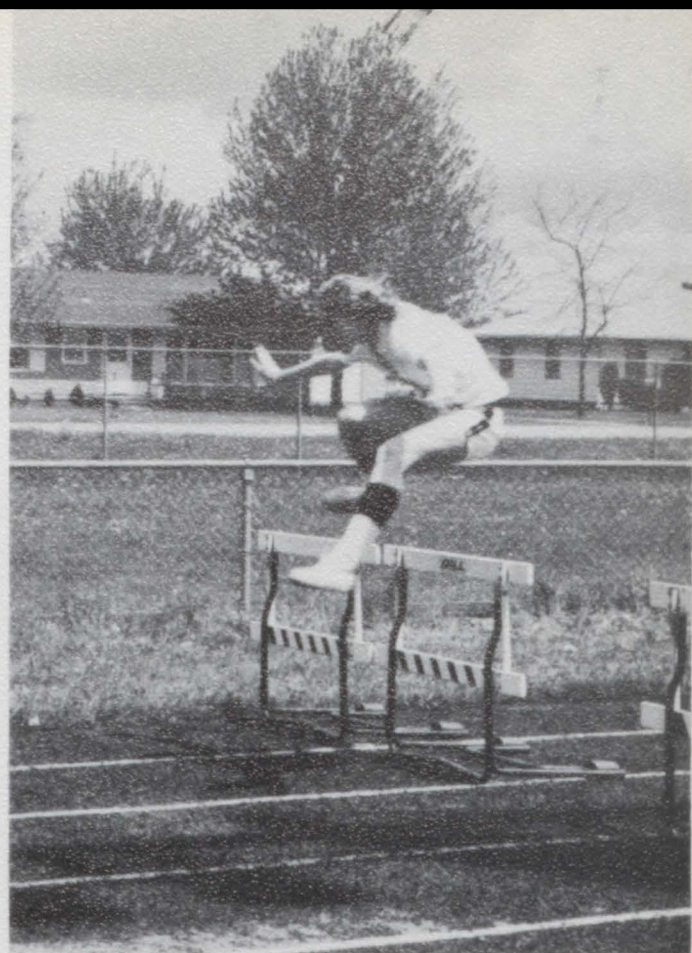

Mariner Chicks Know Where It's At

1. One, two, three, "LET'S GO!" yells Coach Martha Lownsbury at a pre-game pep talk.
2. Pre-game warm-ups aren't always this fun — only when the seniors are around.
3. "Don't shove!" yells Michelle Valla as she saves another one from the line.
4. Anita Smith gives a little extra "Oomph!" as she sinks another one at the foul line.
5. Staying interested in the game is fairly easy when you know YOUR turn is next.

The varsity bubbly basketball bouncers were: Jeannie Kaye, Kathy Davidson, Joyce Griffor, Linda Rudolph, Anita Smith, Marilee Hamlin, Nancy Parcell, Joan Britz, Jane Britz, Nancy Kohloff, Michelle Valla, Penny Ledford, and Debbie Kammer. Seated are statisticians Teri Rhodes and Mary Kelly. Standing center is Coach Martha Lownsbury.

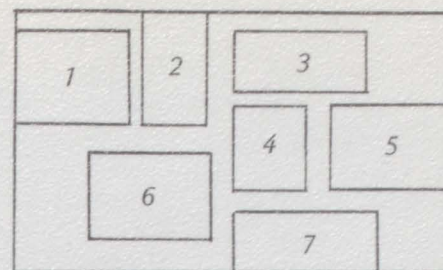

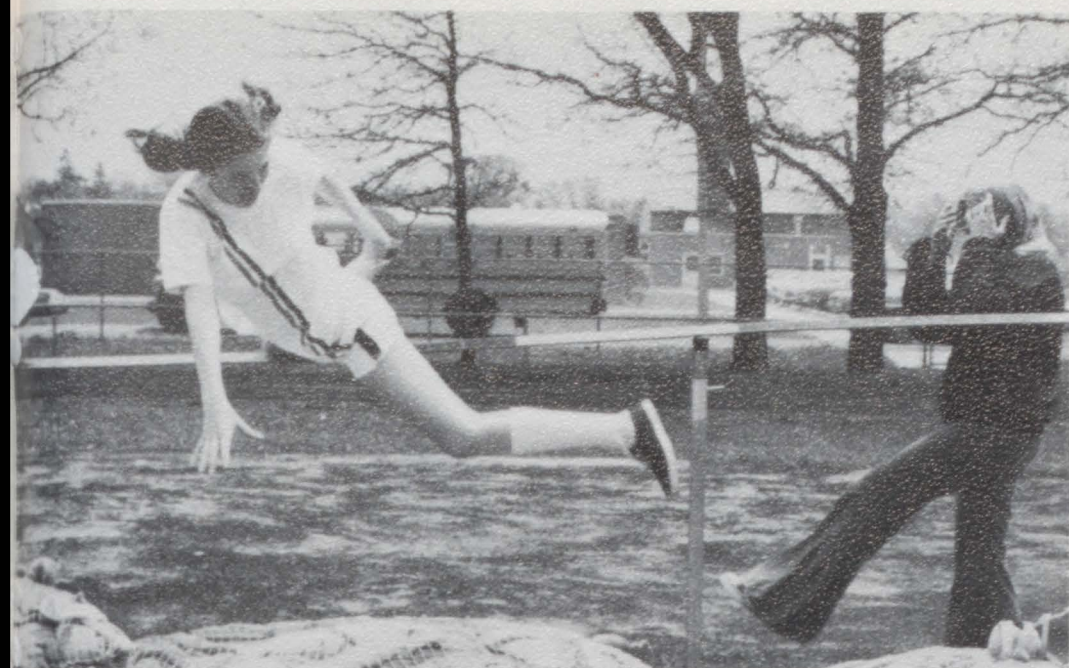

Track - New Experience for Girls

A new year, a new sport and new enthusiasm ignited many to participate in competition on a girl's track team. With cinders and feet flying, the team sprinted to a good, winning season. Energetic and ready to go, the girl's started out by practicing daily after school, using the guy's equipment on the football field. Soon bits and pieces were put together and the girls, coached by Miss Martha Lownsbury, divided into hurdlers, sprinters, and fielders.

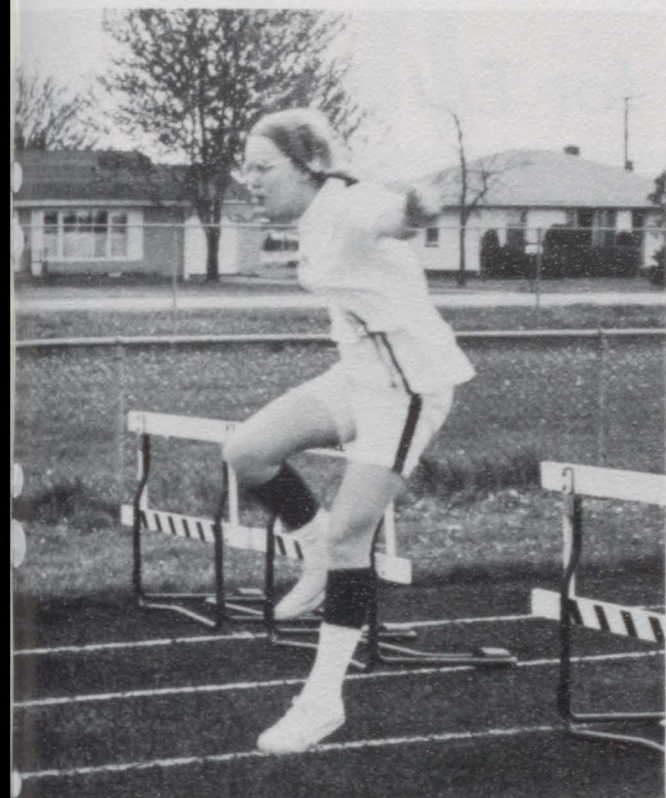

Although they only had three league meets, they placed well in all of them and brought home ribbons and trophies as proof. This was a new experience for the girls. Now that they have a year of competition behind them, they hope to have an even better season next year.

The liberated trackstars are: Kneeling, Debbie Wolf, Kim Griffin, Lorrie Hansen, and Kim Itrich. Second row, Nancy Kohlhoff, Joyce Griffor, Nancy Parcell and Kris Towne. Third row, Linda Frank, Connie Anderson, Anita Smith, Coach Martha Lownsbury, Michelle Valla, Bev Volkman and Jody Reynolds. Standing are, Lisa Phillips and Colleen Nugent.

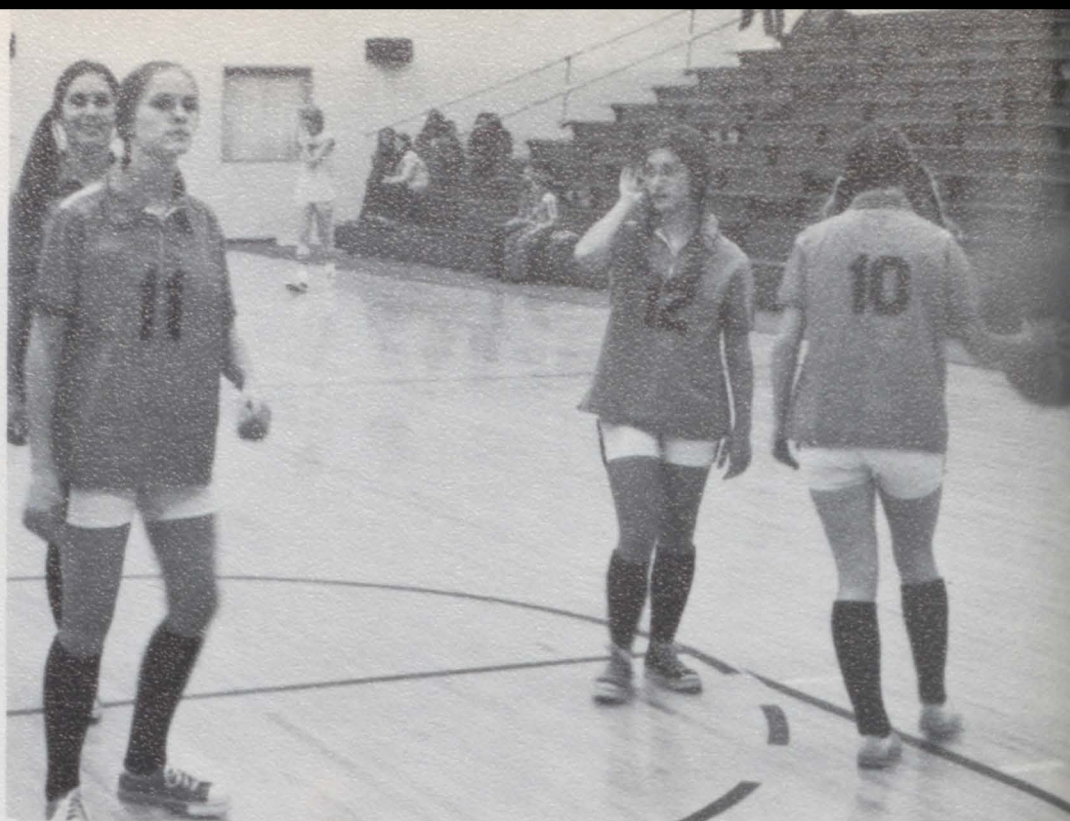

1. Biting your lip seems to make it go farther, thinks Jody Reynolds after releasing the shot put.
2. Michelle Valla is not demonstrating a new rock dance but improving her time in the hurdle relays.
3. Debbie Wolf kicks her leg skyward in an attempt to clear the high jump bar.
4. Ending the race with good standing is Kathy Walters, as she tenses for the jolt waiting below.
5. Lorrie Hansen puts all her power behind this toss to come out on top.
7. Anita Smith wonders if this is how Superman got his start.

Junior Varsity basketball includes a lot of hard work, and very little glory. The main reason for having a J.V. team is to help players become better ball handlers in the coming years. The girls secured a good league standing with their uniform 5-3 record. Marysville especially gave the team some stiff competition, but the gals demonstrated that their hours of practice did pay off and they clinched the game by 2 points. Two of Coach Debbie Ledford's players, Michele Valla and Jeannie Kaye, were bright spots in this years starting line-up. Taking their turns as high scorers, Miss Martha Lownsbury decided they should play on the varsity level for the last three games.

Below, Winnie Wiinikainen and Debbie Brown greet the captain of the Algonac team, as the refs give pre-game instructions. Below, Winnie and Terry Beattie look on unknowingly when Joan Griffor asks "Where'd all the balls go you guys?"

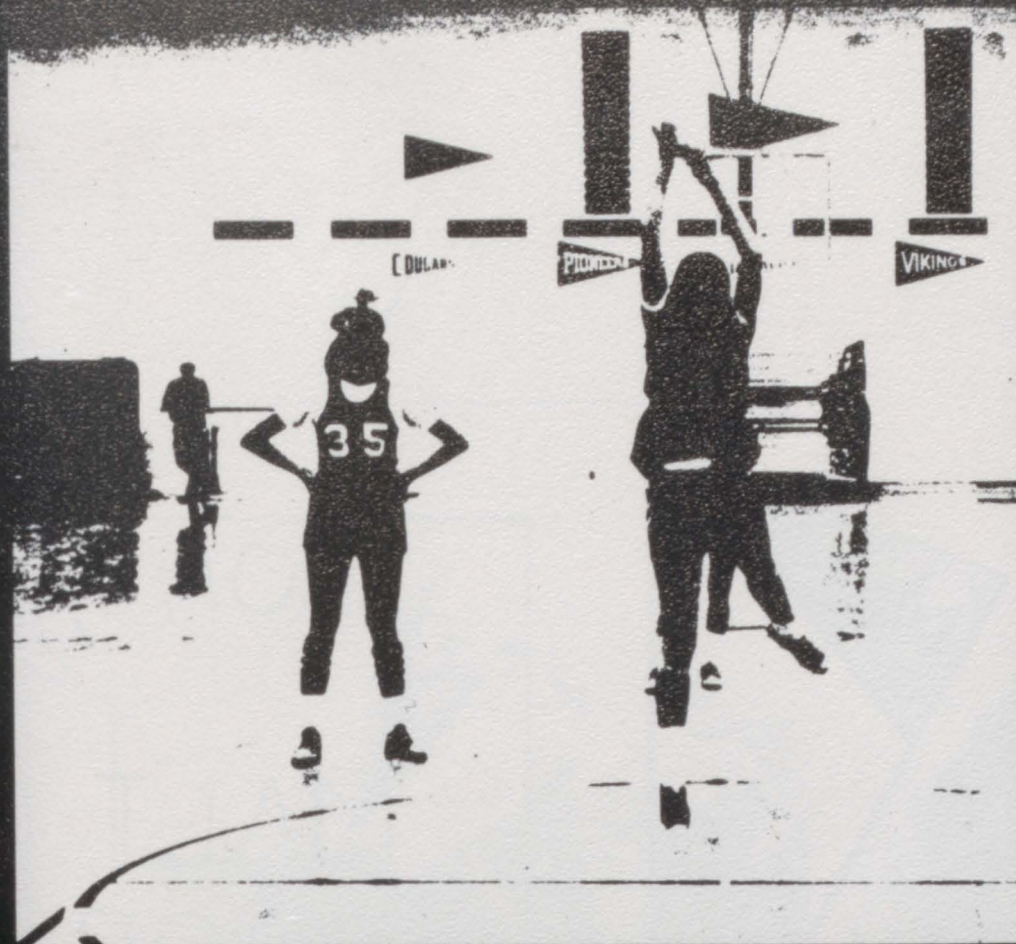

Gals Build Potential for Future Years

1. Is it a bird, a plain, a train? No, it's "Ironman", coming across the field on the freshman float.
2. By the look on Gabby Dibble's face, stapeling flowers to the freshman float is a real blast!
3. Pam Bradford, escorted here by Dan Walls, felt that representing her class on Homecoming was quite an honor.
4. From the following ten girls, freshmen chose their first princess. Top, Tammi Maitland, Pam Bradford, Mary Kay Schwanitz, Linda Hoch, and Amy Rohodes. Bottom, Charlene McNiff, Kathy Nugent, Dawn Niester, Nancy Bott, and Cathy Orchard.
5. It took alot of hard work and patience, to put together the freshman float. Here Linda Hoch helps make it a great one.

Good Times Continue On

1. At pep assemblies the Seniors give it all they got.
2. Debbie Lipa and Nancy Parcell take a sneak peek at next month's issue of PLAYGIRL.
3. Larry Bender gets down to work when he discovers graduation isn't that far away.
4. Penny Snider spends her extra money buying donuts.
5. Pam Springborn carefully chooses the flowers for her hoop.
6. Mary Mitchell and Bill DuMars find out "practice makes perfect."
